Oil King Lets in a Reporter and Gives an Interview.

TELLS OF HIS YOUTH

Says He Was So Honest and Straightforward He Won Everyone's Confidence.

NOW HE IS MISUNDERSTOOD

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CLEVELAND, Sept. 11.—John D. Rockefeller today broke another precedent when he admitted a newspaper reporter to his Forest Hill home and submitted to an interview. The oil king proved to be easy to interview, because he did most of the talking. In excellent spirits and appearing like a man at peace with all the world, he chatted about the weather first and then mentioned the visit to him last week of the American press humorists. Told of the surprise and pleasure expressed by the jokesmiths over their reception, Mr. Rockefeller said:

"Surprise? You say they were surprised? Ah, there is something I cannot and never could understand."

His hand passed nervously over his forehead, and although he did not say so, it was evident he thought of the popular impression of himself closeted in his fortress at Forest Hill, an impassable fortress, beyond the gates of which it is supposed none may enter.

"Time will straighten out many of these things," he said after a brief pause; then suddenly referring to the jokers again, he said:

"Yes, we had a pleasant hour together. I enjoyed it and hope they did also. In regard to what is called my seclusion, it has been imperative that I deny myself the associations with people I naturally enjoyed. Nevertheless, I have been much with people—in fact, almost every day groups of them come to see me, and it is a bright spot in the lives of all of us as we drive or walk about the grounds. I have never been a clubman and have not frequented places where people generally go for company. My friends, during hours of recreation, are many of them from my home church."

Other topics came up, but as if referring to the remark about the newspaper jokers, Mr. Rockefeller added to his comment that "time alters and adjusts almost everything" the following:

"It takes infinite patience and courage to compel men to have confidence in you. I believe I have both of these qualities, and I also believe they are the secrets of my success. I learned to cultivate both of them when I was 16 years of age. My first real test was when I was making out bills of lading for canal and lake boats here in Cleveland. There was much to try the patience there, and the first opportunity in my life to take the wrong course, to repel rather than compel confidence from my associates and employers.

"Often a captain would want me to put down the wrong figures. He would assure me it would never be known; that it was the customary way of doing things, and that it was the right thing for me to do. I reasoned with him; 'if this and this is so—then so and so is right,' I insisted upon what I thought was right, but had patience with all who opposed me. Soon my employers noticed my methods of doing business; other employers knew that I wanted to do the right thing; bankers then came to have confidence in me, and then success followed step by step."

"What are the young man's chances today?" was asked.

"Far better today in Cleveland than when I was a boy here. In those days this was a small city and the industries that flourish here today were unheard of. There were very limited opportunities for the young man who wanted to make a substantial figure in life. But soon afterwards, Mr. Chisholm began to develop the iron and steel industry here; we went into the oil business; others branched out along the different lines—all were successful, and today every young man of Cleveland derives great benefit from those early enterprises. The city grew up around them, and it seems to be only a matter of choice with the young man himself today; the city is full of opportunities."

Again the conversation drifted to the weather. Mr. Rockefeller said, as he looked out of the window at the drizzling rain and autumn gloom:

"I never regret the coming of fall, although it marks the close of the outdoor season, and I have found outdoor exercise wonderfully beneficial to my health. I like to ride my wheel over the golf links best of all, perhaps, and winter puts a stop to that. But we need winter. I believe we, in the temperate zone, are better for it. We need the invigorating influence of cold weather. Each winter I take a party of my friends south to spend a month. This is to get into the open air more, rather than for the purpose of getting the milder climate. Mrs. Rockefeller always admonishes me against too long a stay in the south, because she maintains, and rightly, I believe, that all of us who belong to the north need the cold weather."

TALK OF WAR BEGINS.

Negotiations Between Norway and Sweden Over Dissolution of Union Come to a Halt.

CHRISTIANIA, NORWAY, Sept. 11.—The tone of the Norwegian newspapers indicates that the negotiations between the commissioners of Norway and Sweden regarding the dissolution of the union have reached an impasse, Norway being unable to accept the conditions laid down by Sweden.

The Dagbladet, commenting on Sweden's refusal to discuss an arbitration treaty until Norway had accepted the Swedish conditions, declares that even war would be preferable to a peace bought at the expense of national humiliation.

PERISHED TO A MAN IN ARTILLERY FIGHT

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

TIFLIS, Sept. 11.—Prince Tshslaoff, a landed proprietor, was assassinated today at Gorgi, 50 miles from Tiflis.

A band of Tartars barricaded themselves in the house of a rich Mussulman and fired from the windows on a patrol officer who called upon them to surrender. The Tartars replied with another volley and continued firing while artillery was brought up. The artillery laid the house in ruins, the Tartars perishing to a man.

BRIGHAM YOUNG VISITS RESORT WITH SIX WOMEN

Famous Mormon Guest at Hotel and Residents of Town Knew Nothing of It Until He Had Gone—Ascended Mountain.

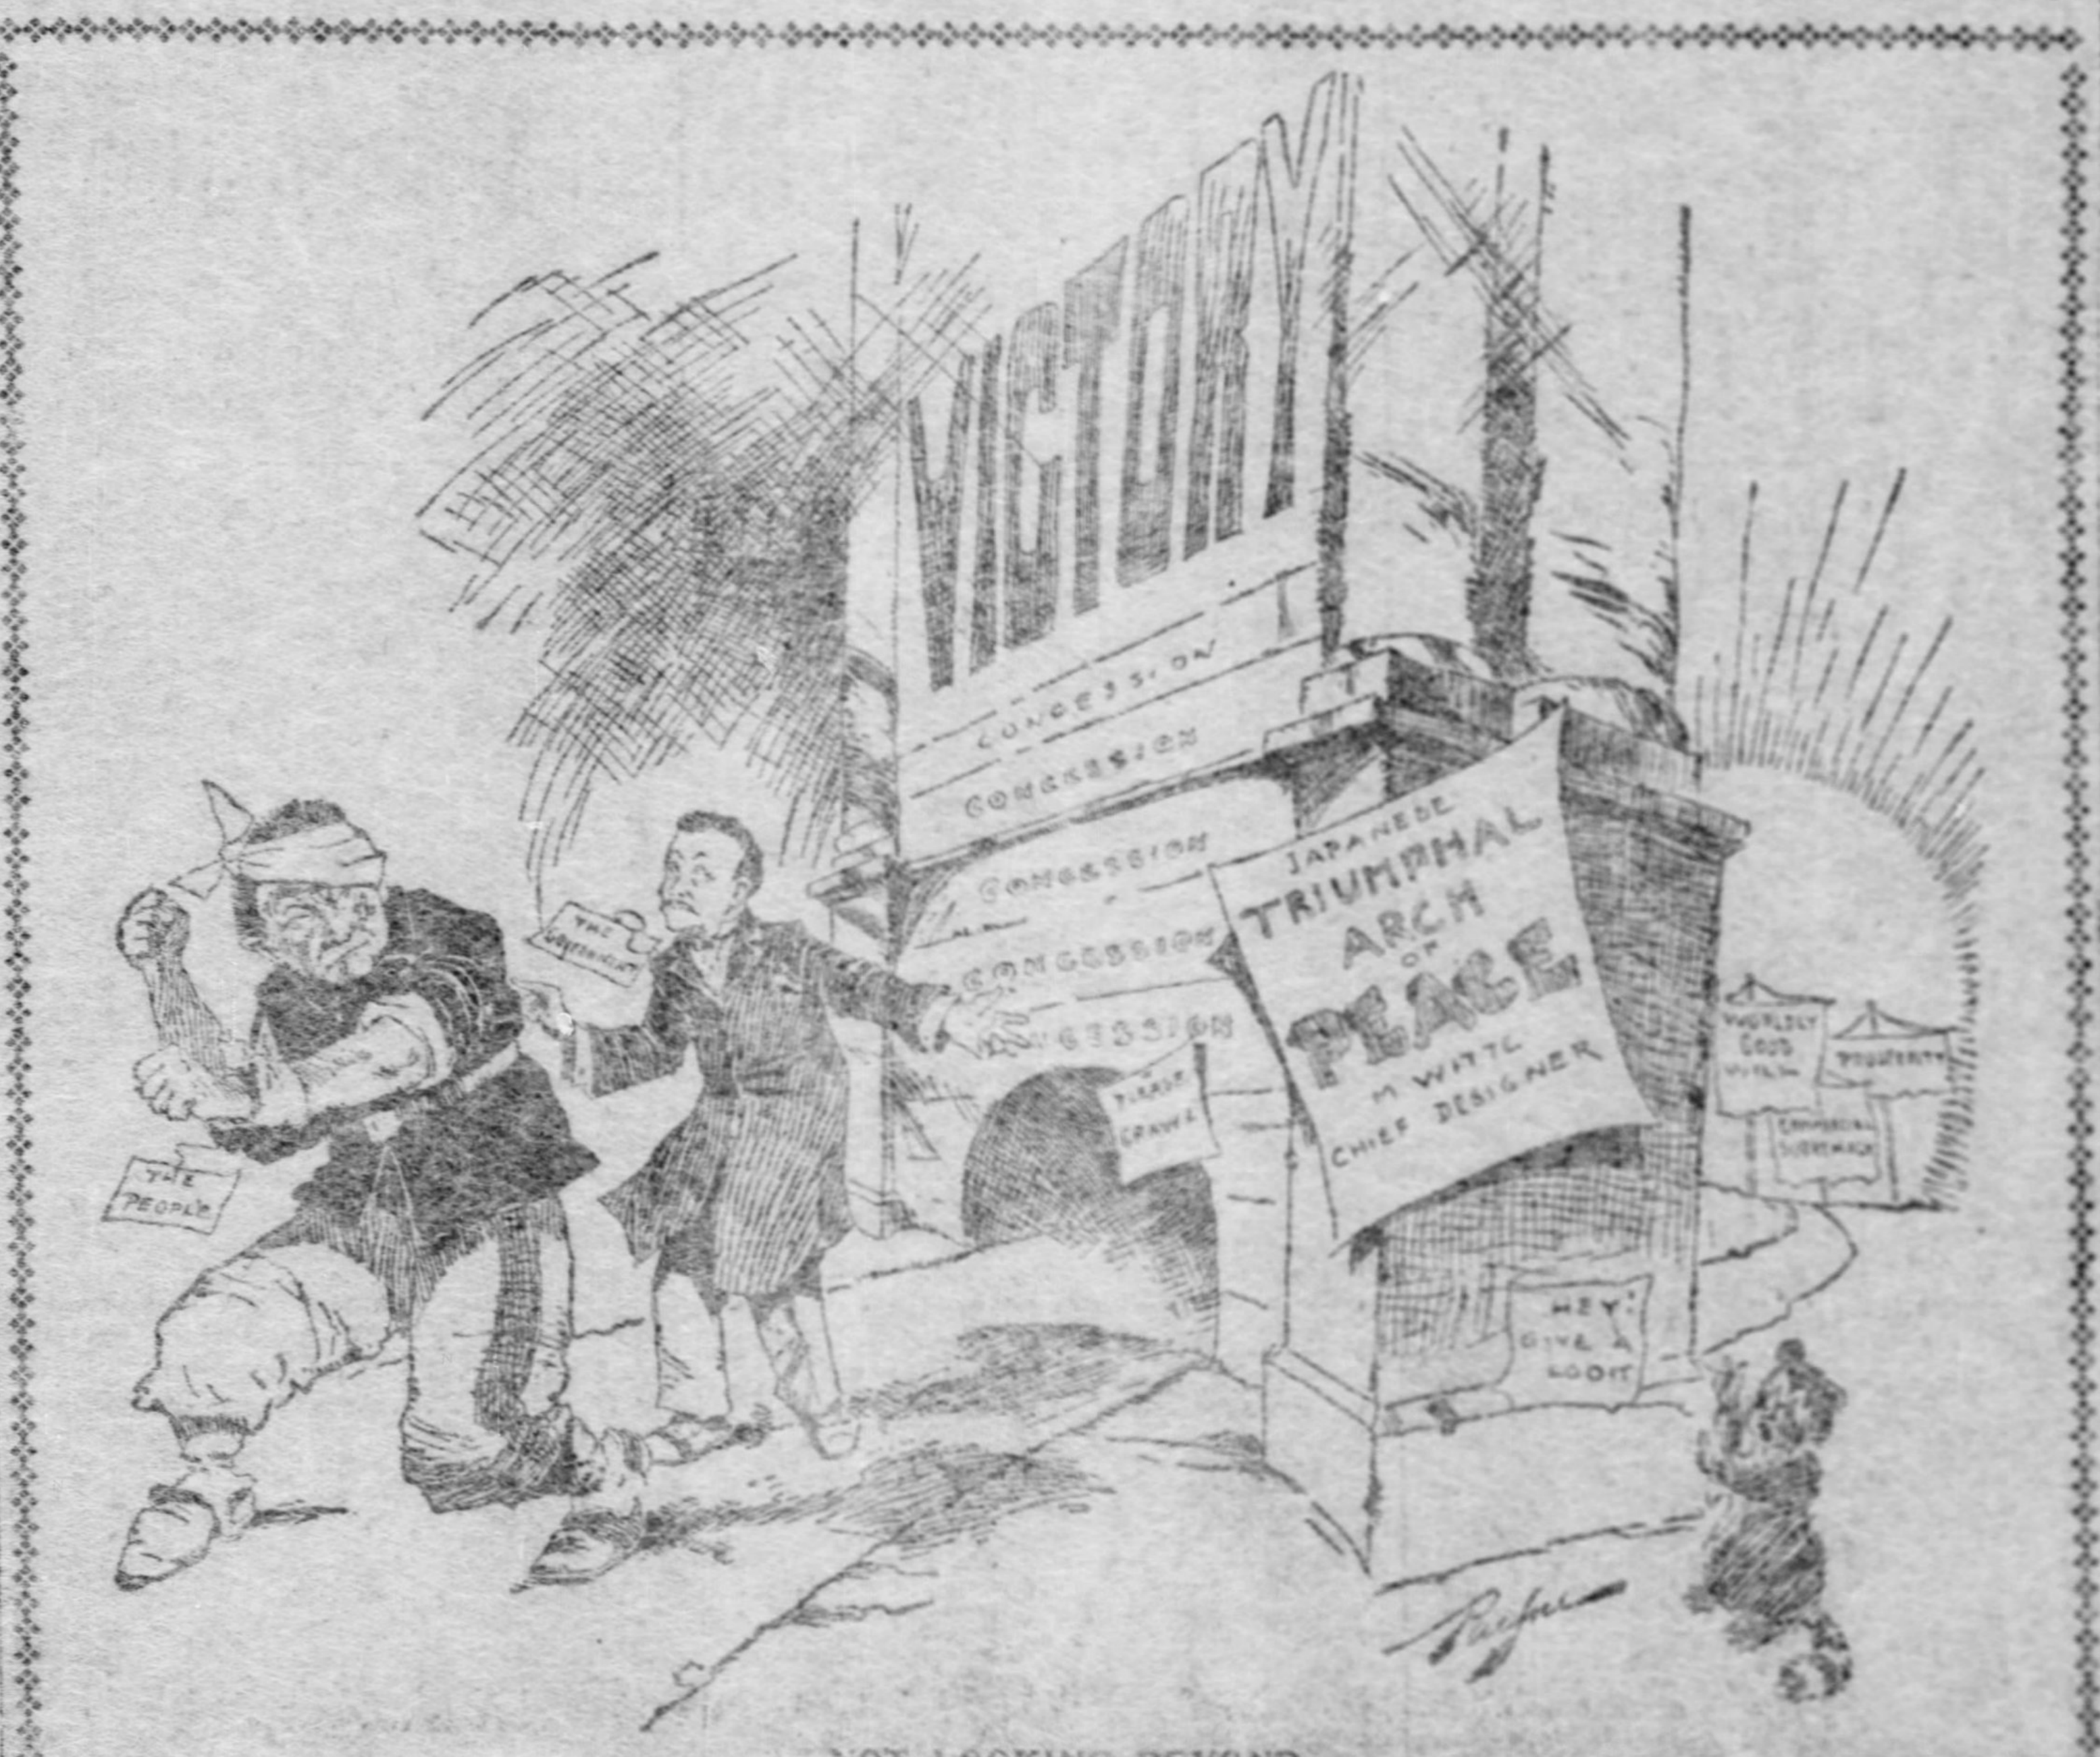
[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEWBURGH, N. Y., Sept. 11.—"Brigham Young, Salt Lake City, Utah." That name stands out in bold letters on the register of the Holland hotel, at Fishkill landing. It is under date of Friday, September 8. Residents have just discovered the fact and the men and women are discussing their presence with great interest.

That Young was accompanied by six attractively-attired women made his presence all the more startling. They arrived several hours before him and went to the hotel, where they registered as follows: "Mrs. W. Briggs, Philadelphia, Pa.; R. Bruen, Philadelphia; Patience Briggs, Hyde Park, N. Y.; Mrs. E. B. Tyrel, California; E. C. Bruen, Brooklyn, and Mrs. C. L. Bellow, Denver."

It is not known if they were the wives of Young or Mormon converts. The party remained in Fishkill landing until 8 o'clock at night and then departed on a Central train, going toward New York. They had luncheon and then went up Mount Beacon on the incline railroad.

Young is a man of 45 years, with long hair tinged with gray. He was stylishly dressed, and had considerable money with him. None of the party conversed with people about the hotel, so nothing is known of their plans.



NOT LOOKING BEYOND.

BAKU SITUATION GROWING WORSE

OIL MEN IN DIRE STRAITS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 12.—The latest private telegram to be received from Baku reports that the situation there is growing worse. Other dispatches assert that the rioters are stubbornly continuing their attacks and that the Tartars and Kurds are plundering in the "Blacktown" district. The dispatches say that on Sunday the soldiers fired into a crowd of Russian workmen, killing 17.

A dispatch to the Caucasus Oil Company from Baku says that the fires in the oil fields are practically exhausted and that the military authorities are stationing guards in the district. During the night the incendiaries tried to land at Bibiebat from small boats, but were driven off by volleys from the Cossacks. They then attacked steamers in which the employes of two oil companies had taken refuge during the uprising, but the attack was repulsed.

Oil men representing an annual production of 500,000,000 poods, met today and determined to ask the state for assistance in obtaining a 20-year loan, without interest, to cover the losses resulting from the catastrophe at Baku, without which, they declared, 108 of the 1?5 companies would be unable to continue in business.

The men also drew up a remonstrance which they will ask Finance Minister Kokovsoff to present to Emperor Nicholas, stating it is impossible for the naphtha industry to exist under present conditions, and that the companies would not resume operations unless guarantees were given them that order would soon be restored and permanently maintained in the oil regions.

The oil men in Nizhni Novgorod and Astrakhan express the fear that attempts will be made to burn the stocks of oil stored there, and ask for protective measures.

JULES GRAU DEAD; FIRST PRODUCED MIKADO

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Jules Grau, a theatrical manager for many years, died at his home here. Mr. Grau, who was a brother of Maurice Grau, the impresario, and of Robert Grau, had been interested in the promotion of opera enterprises for the last 20 years. He was the first in this country to bring out the original production of "The Mikado."

Meyer Arranges for Return of Prisoners.

BERLIN, Sept. 11.—(Special.)—Mr. Meyer, American ambassador at St. Petersburg, has arrived here. He is engaged in arranging somewhat complicated details of the return of Japanese prisoners of war to their country. With this object in view, he remained a considerable time today at the Japanese legation.

MUNITIONS OF WAR FOUND ON A BARREN ISLAND

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

HELSINGSFORS, FINLAND, Sept. 11.—Customs officials on Saturday discovered 690 carbines of Swedish manufacture, with bayonets, and 120,000 cartridges on a barren island in the Gulf of Bothnia, near Kerni. Yesterday a boat belonging to the customs service discovered a 300-ton steamer near Kalfskaer rock, 20 miles outside Jakobstad. The captain and crew, who spoke English, declared that the steamer was fully loaded with rifles and cartridges, and thereupon the customs officials ordered the captain to take his vessel into port and discharge the cargo.

The steamer proceeded toward the shore, the customs boat going in the meanwhile toward a nearby island. Suddenly several explosions were heard from the steamer, and the customs officers, on returning, found the vessel sinking and her crew in life boats disappearing hurriedly toward the south. Fishermen unloaded most of the rifles and ammunition on the beach.

The steamer grounded in shoal water. Her name was painted over, only the letters "John Bash Fton" being visible. American and German flags were found on board the vessel.

TAVASTEHUS, FINLAND, Sept. 11.—While the governor was driving today with the chief of police, an infernal machine was thrown at the carriage, but it failed to explode.

CATCHES A BIG SHARK WITH ROD AND REEL

Member of the Tuna Club at Los Angeles, Cal., Breaks All Records in Landing of Enormous Fish.

LOS ANGELES, CAL., Sept. 11.—All records were broken at Santa Catalina today when G. B. Ellis, a banker of Red Oak, Ia., captured with rod and reel of Tuna club regulation, a monster shark, 11 feet, six inches long, which, when weighed by the club committee, scaled 512 pounds.

There was a remarkably fine run of tuna during the afternoon, and all the fishing launches from Avalon were on the scene. Scores of tuna were struck but only 12 were taken.

The shark repeatedly took nearly the entire 900 feet of line on Mr. Ellis' reel, and the combat lasted fully three hours. When the fish was finally brought to gaff, it proved to be the grandfather of sharks. Mr. Ellis was totally exhausted.

Almost Frozen from Night in an Icebox.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., Sept. 11.—(Special.)—William Anderson, a clerk in the employ of George W. Hardy, a grocer at Seaside, spent last night in an icebox. Anderson helped Hardy put in the supply of ice. When Hardy left the icebox at 10 o'clock he did not notice that he left his clerk inside, so he locked the door. Anderson's cries were not heard, and he was compelled to spend six hours in the refrigerator without sleep. When Mr. Hardy unlocked the icebox at 4 o'clock this morning he found Anderson almost stiff from cold.

Suffrage is Opposed by Emperor.

VIENNA, Sept. 11.—It is understood that Emperor Francis Joseph, who at first was apparently inclined to acquiesce in the plan of the Hungarian ministers for the granting of universal suffrage, as one way of bringing about the defeat of the united opposition, has been induced to change his mind by the Austrian ministers, who feared the effect on political conditions in Austria.

Pittsburghers Eulogize Gage Tarbell in Song

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—(Special.)—Pittsburgh has the second largest contingent at the outing of Equitable agents here. Her delegation numbers 85, and its members spent this morning upon the veranda of the Oriental hotel practicing a song which they sang at the business meeting this afternoon to the tune of Mr. Dooley:

There is a life insurance man of wonderful renown,
He lives in New York city—'tis a very wicked town;
We agents all are fond of him—the reason you must know,
Is that he makes us bustle so, he's just a dynamo—
Is Mr. Tarbell, Mr. Tarbell,
The greatest man insurance ever knew;
Oh, Mr. Tarbell, Mr. Tarbell,
We're very, very, very fond of you.

DON'T WANT PEACE.

Mass Meeting in Japan Hopes Humiliating Agreement of Portsmouth Will Be Broken.

TOKYO, Sept. 11.—A mass meeting at Osaka adopted the following resolution without hindrance on the part of the police:

"The peace that has just been concluded between Russia and Japan forfeits the fruits of victory and sows seeds of future complications and danger. The government's highhanded and unconstitutional measure has resulted in unexpected disturbance to the peace of the city in which the mikado resides. The empire's honor has been soiled and the spirit of the constitution lost. Never has our country been brought to face greater dangers. We hope that the humiliating peace agreement will be broken and that the government will resign."

BIG MOB CHASES SHOOTING NEGRO

HILL DISTRICT GETS EXCITED

A mob of nearly 500 persons chased Silas White last night through streets and alleys in the Hill district, until he was finally downed in a football tackle by one of his own race, a negro. White shot two men, neither of them seriously. They were taken to the Passavant hospital, and White, with no injury but a skinned nose, but scared to death, was locked up in the Center avenue police station. Enough shooting was done during the chase to have caused the death of half a dozen persons, but the aim of the shooters was not good.

White was employed by George Russell of 1814 Wylie avenue, an excavator, and following a dispute about the money due White the latter sued Russell before Alderman John A. Martin. Russell admitted a debt of $1.50; White claimed $2.50. The alderman gave judgment for White.

At about 5 p. m. yesterday Russell, who is also a negro, and White met in Arthur street. White wanted his money and Russell said he was going to the alderman's office to pay it. Russell turned to go and White shot him in the back, Russell promptly dropping. A crowd of negroes in a barber shop in Center avenue heard the shot and poured out, whereupon White ran down Center avenue.

The crowd grew, pedestrians in front of White fading away at the sight of the revolver in his hand and promptly falling in behind to pursue him. There were many of them, all shouting "Stop the murderer!" for the street is pretty well crowded at that time of the evening.

White and Manis Exchange Shots.

White kept on down Center avenue until he came to Tannehill street. There Benjamin Manis, 22 years of age, of 77 Arthur street, seized White by the shoulder and swung him around. White took three shots at Manis, two bullets going wild and the third hitting Manis in the leg.

Harry Goldman of 1614 Center avenue was in the crowd. He saw his brother Hebrew fall, and he promptly pulled a revolver and shot three times at White, who was crouching in the angle of Tannehill and Center, reloading his pistol. Goldman's bullets hit neither the negro nor anybody in the crowd, but they started White off again. He ran a few yards to Crawford street, from there on to Clark street, from Clark to Logan, down Logan to Fifth avenue, down Fifth avenue to Sachem alley and up Sachem to Clark. Every short cut he took simply added to the number of his pursuers. He fired a few more shots and some of the men behind him shot off their revolvers, so that it was a marvel that nobody else was hit.

At Sachem and Clark, White's career came to an end. Thomas Lewis, a husky young negro who plays football on the school playground where formerly the Bedford avenue basin stood, made a grand tackle from the rear. He embraced White's knees, and White came down on his face. Morris Goldman, a fireman, was close behind. He promptly sat upon the prostrate man until Policeman W. R. Reynolds came up, when the prisoner was turned over to him.

Riot Call Was Sent In.

In the meantime a riot call had been sent in from Fifth avenue and Washington street. The patrol wagon came and White was put into it, along with six other negroes who happened to be in the crowd surrounding him. They were shortly afterward released.

Russell was seen hunting for a doctor, and he was picked up by a policeman, taken to the Center avenue station and then removed to the Passavant hospital, where Manis had also arrived. Russell was shot in the back. The bullet struck a rib, which it broke, and then rebounded, so that the surgeons easily squeezed it out of the man's back. Manis was shot in the leg. Neither was seriously hurt.

No pistol was found on White. He had evidently thrown his weapon away. He said that he was glad to be arrested, and that he would have given himself up to the first policeman he met, but that none happened to come his way. He deemed himself safer with the police than with the crowd. He was doubly thankful when told that the crowd was largely composed of Jews and negroes, for he had shot a Jew and a black man.

About 16 men claimed a share in the glory of capturing the negro, and it is probable that everyone of them was a unit of the bunch that precipitated itself upon White, Fireman Goldman and Lewis, the football player, as they lay in a heap in Sachem alley.

There was a story that a bullet had struck a little child, because a woman was seen to pick up a child out of White's way, and because a doctor, in the midst of the excitement, was called to attend a little girl who had been slightly scalded a mile away from the scene.

It was reported at the Central police station that Casper Leff, the father of Detective Louis Leff, had been shot by White. Mr. Leff was struck by White with his revolver while he was dodging out of the negro's way. His face was slightly cut.

TAFT PARTY WILL DINE WITH THE TEA GUILD

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—(Special.)—Col. Clarence R. Edwards today cabled the bureau of insular affairs that the Taft party, which he is accompanying in its tour through the east, will spend two days at Kobe, and arrive at Yokohama on September 17, where the members will be given a dinner by the Tea guild. Secretary Taft will reach San Francisco September 27.

Saw Policeman Embrace a Lone Woman and Kiss Her.

ANNA DALEY'S STORY

Heard Victim Scream and Thought Patrolman Threw Her Over Bridge.

WILL TESTIFY AGAINST HIM

When Policeman Kilgallon of the East End, who, it is alleged, forcibly assaulted Mrs. M. B. Dick of 234 Frankstown avenue on the Ellsworth avenue bridge on the night of August 24, appears before the police trial board tomorrow morning, he will be confronted by one who witnessed it.

"I saw a policeman stop a woman, who I now know was Mrs. Dick, talk to her for a moment, then throw his arm around her and apparently kiss her. Then I saw Mrs. Dick break away from the policeman and start to run across the Ellsworth avenue bridge. The policeman followed her. They passed out of my sight, a building preventing me from seeing them, but a second later I heard Mrs. Dick scream and I said to myself, 'He must have thrown her over the bridge!' The next instant the policeman came running back and, turning the corner from the bridge, went into Spahr street, passing in front of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny telephone exchange, from the second story of which I was watching the outrage."

Story of the Telephone Operator.

Such is the story told by Miss Anna Daley of 1306 Webster avenue, employed as the chief night operator at the Pittsburgh and Allegheny telephone exchange in Spahr street.

Miss Daley, the witness, was found by one of The Gazette reporters, who was detailed to make a thorough investigation of Policeman James Kilgallon's [illegible]. Long before The Gazette found Miss Daley she had told her fellow operators of the incident, and she was much surprised that the newspapers did not know of the story long before The Gazette made the first exclusive publication.

Thought the Woman Might Be Killed.

In telling her story to The Gazette Miss Daley said:

"It was quite warm in the operating room and I went to the window to raise the blinds to get some air. I looked out of the window and saw Mrs. Dick walking in Ellsworth avenue. Then the policeman came up back of her. He stopped Mrs. Dick and I saw him talking to her. They were then just at the entrance of the small foot bridge which leads to Center avenue in the rear of the Sacred Heart church. I saw the policeman take Mrs. Dick by the arm and drag her on the foot bridge and deliberately throw his arms about her and kiss her. Mrs. Dick broke away and started over the bridge. The officer followed her.

"After that I could not see them because of the high advertising board which is just alongside the telephone exchange building. However, it was but just a second after they had passed out of view when I heard Mrs. Dick scream.

"'My goodness,' I said to myself, 'that officer has thrown that woman over the bridge.' Then the officer came around the corner on a run into Spahr street and passed the telephone exchange building where I was looking out of the window. He ran down Spahr street toward the Lamont hotel.

"The assault was the most brutal, cowardly and outrageous affair I ever witnessed. I told some of the girls in the operating room about it and when the day force came on at 7 o'clock in the morning I told the chief operator of the day force about it. I looked in the papers the next morning, thinking the woman had possibly been found dead on the railroad tracks where I thought the officer had thrown her. I told my mother and sisters about it when I got home. I was surprised to see that no report of the affair was made in the newspapers. About one week later I saw the story of Mrs. Dick printed in The Gazette and showed it to my mother and said 'Mamma, that woman reported the policeman who assaulted her last week, for here is the story of the affair.'

Frightened by Wallace's Threat.

"When I was told that Supt. Wallace had threatened to hound Mrs. Dick out of the city I became frightened, fearing it might become known that I was a witness. Now that it is known to the newspapers that I was a witness I shall not hesitate to help Mrs. Dick by going before the police trial board and telling all I know about the cowardly act of that policeman. As I said to the operators the morning following the assault, 'What chance have we for protection on the streets at night when a policeman will assault a woman in that manner?'

"There are many girls who have to work at the different telephone exchanges at night, and I think they should have the protection of the police instead of being assaulted by them. Why, a woman is helpless if such cowardly attacks are permitted. It is a duty I owe all women who have to be out at night to tell what I know about the assault on Mrs. Dick."

Miss Daley went away on her vacation just after the assault and when she returned yesterday, a Gazette reporter took Mrs. Dick before her. Miss Daley immediately recognized the small figure of the woman. Miss Daley's account of the assault corresponds in all details with that told in The Gazette by Mrs. Dick. And because Mrs. Dick told, Supt. "Dick" Wallace threatens to "hound that woman out of the city."

Will Kilgallon Resign?

Miss Daley when asked if she could identify the policeman replied that she thought she could if he wore his uniform at the trial board meeting. When Director Moore was told this yesterday afternoon he promptly stated that he would have Policeman Kilgallon at the police trial board meeting in uniform, provided Kilgallon did not resign in the meantime.

Would you permit Kilgallon to resign?

pending the investigation of the charge against him?" was asked Director Moore.

"If Kilgallon should resign I will see that his resignation is not accepted," replied the director, after studying for a moment.

The statement "Buck" Wallace made about hounding Mrs. Dick out of the city made Miss Daley timid, but Director Moore says he will not permit "Buck" Wallace or any other officer on the force to intimidate Miss Daley and prevent her from telling the story of the assault.

Director Moore Is Grateful.

Director Moore said yesterday he considered it a personal favor to him that The Gazette had continued its interest in this case to the point of finding a good witness of Kilgallon's conduct. It would have been an easy matter for any one connected with the bureau of police to find Miss Daley had there been any interest or ordinary intelligence displayed in an investigation.

The way The Gazette worked was to detail a reporter to go to the scene of the assault at the hour it was alleged to have occurred in order to learn if there were any building nearby where persons worked at night. The telephone exchange was at once noted. Then investigation and inquiry revealed the fact that Miss Daley told the story to the other operators in the exchange, and when Miss Daley returned from her vacation the story was told by her to The Gazette.

Policeman Kilgallon says he has a witness, a druggist, who will prove he was not near the scene of the assault. This druggist lives in College avenue.

Kilgallon Has Had Plenty of Time.

Kilgallon failed to have his druggist on hand last Wednesday, September 6, when his case was first called before the police trial board, 15 days after the incident, and because of that the case was postponed for one week.

Miss Daley has identified Mrs. Dick as the woman the policeman assaulted. Mrs. Dick has already identified Kilgallon as her assailant. Miss Daley thinks she might be able to identify the policeman, although he ran by her so fast that she did not get a clear look at his face.

SADNESS AND SORROW IN ITALIAN QUARTER

Many Hear Relatives Have Perished in Earthquake and Subscription Is Started.

News, both sad and gratifying, was received in the Italian quarter last night by those who had been waiting three days for replies to cablegrams sent to the scene of the earthquake in Southern Italy. The recipients of sad tidings sat about the streets and houses weeping, while those more fortunate were none the less sad and offered what sympathy they could.

After it once became known that communication had been established a flood of over 150 additional cablegrams were sent out last night, more than 100 being written in the banking rooms of Frank Torchia in Webster avenue.

Yesterday afternoon Torchia started a subscription list for the aid of the afflicted towns, with a $100 contribution, and within a few hours over $500 had been subscribed. It is believed that over $3,000 will be raised within the next few days. Local Italians who have lost relatives and in some instances their whole families, are preparing to leave for the scene of the disaster, and it is expected that a large delegation will leave early next week.

"GONE TO CLEVELAND."

That Was the Message a Wilkinsburg Woman Left After Selling the Household Goods.

Mrs. Emma Sponeker of 1003 Penn avenue, Wilkinsburg, left her home suddenly yesterday, but before doing so disposed of all the household goods. When her husband returned home at night he found the house empty and a note on the floor which read: "Gone to Cleveland."

The surprised husband sought advice from Justice Creelman. It was then too late for the justice to act, for it was learned that the woman had sold the household goods to a second hand dealer and had left town. The family has lived in Penn avenue ever since last April and seemed prosperous.

TWELVE KILLED IN ELEVATED WRECK

OTHERS ARE FATALLY HURT

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—The death list of today's accident on the Ninth Avenue elevated railroad when a car crowded with early morning workers on their way down town, pitched headlong into the street, stands at 12. Three men are in hospitals with fractured skulls. One of these, who as yet remains unidentified at Roosevelt hospital, is unconscious and not expected to live. More than two score of persons were injured, many of them seriously.

THE DEAD:

JACOB M. ANSPACH, a merchant and member of the Newark (N. J.) board of trade.
ERNEST P. SCHEIBLE, an electrician.
THEODORE MORRIS, a negro.
JOHN COCHRANE.
CORNELIUS M'CARTHY, laborer.
WILLIAM LEES, an electrician.
JOSEPH BACH, a policeman.
JAMES COOPER, employed by Fireproof Tenement House association.
EMMA CONHOVEN, died in Roosevelt hospital.
ALBERT WEILSTER, clerk; died in Roosevelt hospital.
LOUIS ABEL, clerk; was married and had two children.

Of the dead the most frightfully mutilated was James Cooper, whose head was completely severed from his body.

THE SERIOUSLY INJURED:

HENRY AITKENS, policeman.
WILLIAM BUTLER.
MARTIN FITZGERALD.
JAMES GREER.
PATRICK J. GILLIAN.
JOHN GENZEL.
BRIDGET M'MAHON.
JOHN T. M'KENNA.
WILLIAM T. NIEBUHR, skull fractured.
HENRIETTA OSTERLIN.
SEYMOUR ROWE, skull fractured.
THOMAS SWAN.
FRED WISTER.

Railroad Men Arrested.

The cause of the accident and the immediate responsibility remain to be settled. The motorman of the wrecked train is a fugitive, while a switchman, conductor and four guards are under arrest. The switchman is charged with manslaughter and the trainmen are held as witnesses. Coroner Scholer tonight announced the switchman's bond had been placed at $5,000.

Whatever may have caused the mistake, the accident, the worst of the history of overhead railroads in New York, came when a southbound train on the Ninth avenue line was switched off to the Sixth avenue line at the Fifty-third street junction. The motorman, expecting a clear track on the direct line of Ninth avenue, or disregarding the warning signal that switch was open, rushed his train along at a high rate of speed. The first car swung around the right angle curve holding to the rails because of the weight of the train behind. Then the strain became too great. The couplings broke, the second car was whirled about almost end for end and, to the horror of those who looked on from below, pitched into the street.

Bodies Hurled Through Space.

The first indication people on the sidewalk had of the accident was a loud rumbling along the overhead structure. Looking up they saw a shower of sparks, then followed splinters and the sound of splitting timbers. Suddenly the outer guard rail of the railroad structure gave way, a score of bodies were hurled through space and with a deafening crash the car fell to the street. For an instant it stood fairly on end. Then the sides gave way as if they were made of pasteboard, belching out a mass of humanity.

Those passengers who had not jumped from platforms and windows before the plunge came, were thrown into a mass at the forward end of the car. As the injured men and women were struggling to free themselves the heavy front trucks of the third car on the train fell almost in their midst as the car itself jumped partly off the elevated structure and was wedged against a building at the southeast corner of Ninth avenue and Fifty-third street.

Getting at the Victims.

Three alarms of fire brought many engines to the scene. A slight fire caused by burning insulation was quickly extinguished and the firemen set to work chopping out the dead and injured. The task was not an easy one, for the heavy car in falling had almost completely buried pedestrians in its wreckage. At least one was killed outright in this way, while Policeman Henry Aitkens, who was standing directly under the elevated structure, is among those most seriously injured.

Eight persons were dead when taken out of the wreck and four died later at hospitals.

Coroner Scholer ordered the arrest of all those immediately concerned. Search was at once made for the motorman, Paul Kelly, who secured a position on the elevated lines six months ago. He came here from St. Louis. Kelly could not be found and late tonight was still missing, although it was said he had spent the afternoon at the house of a friend.

Switchman First Arrested.

The switchman in the tower at Ninth avenue and Fifty-third street, Cornelius A. Jackson, was first arrested. Then Conductor J. W. Johnson and Guards Timothy Tiggenson, J. McDavitt, W. L. Berry and B. Clark were taken into custody. At a preliminary hearing this afternoon all the men waived examinations.

Two versions of the cause of the wreck were told to the coroner. One of these was that the switchman had set the tracks for a Sixth avenue train, and when he saw his mistake had attempted to rectify it while the train was on the curve, the change throwing the second, third and fourth cars off the track.

The switchman, however, declares the wrecked train had the Sixth avenue signals set, and he expected it to slow down to take the curve. Instead it maintained the speed usual with Ninth avenue trains on the direct line.

The curve at Fifty-third street is a sharp one and is practically unbanked, according to statements made today. It is intended to be taken slowly and is not constructed for a higher rate of speed than six miles an hour.

The Conductor's Statement.

Conductor Johnson this afternoon made a detailed statement to Police Inspector Flood. He said:

"I was on the first platform on the second car. We had just left Fifty-Ninth street and were going at a fair rate of speed, as it is a long run to Fiftieth street. The car was pretty well crowded. There were a number of men on the platform and in the aisle of the second car. There were a number of shop girls who were laughing and joking.

"When we reached the curve the first car went on and the second and third cars went together like a jack knife, sticking right up in the air, and practically closing against each other. In consequence, from where I was on the front platform of the second car, I was dropped to the rear platform of the first car. Then the second car dropped to the street. I held onto the iron rail like death and was straight up in the air. I saw girls and women climbing over the seats of the car that they might escape.

"Being an old railroader, I pulled out my watch and looked at it. It was exactly 7:06 a. m. The signals were set wrong. That was the trouble. They were set green and yellow, which is for a Sixth avenue train."

A man who went suddenly raving mad in a subway car a few hours after the wreck, was identified as Leopold Neugus, father of a young man killed in the wreck. The father was reading a paper and supposedly had before him one of the early stories about the wreck, for he suddenly jumped out of his seat shouting that his boy was killed. He tried to climb out of a car window. When pulled back into the train by the guards he had to be forcibly restrained from beating his head against the steel walls of the car. At a hospital he was pronounced insane. Friends who were on the same train identified him and said that his mind had been sound only a few minutes previously.

PUTS TAGGART ON THE RACK

Defendant in Sensational Divorce Suit Is Flayed by Attorney.

RIDICULE UPON THE MAJOR

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WOOSTER, O., Sept. 11.—Continuing his argument in the Tagart divorce trial this morning, Attorney Smyser, counsel for the accused wife, flayed Capt. Taggart and described Mrs. Taggart as an "unsuspecting woman." He poured ridicule upon much of the testimony that had been offered by the plaintiff and directed satire at the opposing counsel. The courtroom was packed. Speaking of the time when Capt. Taggart is accused of abducting the two children, he said:

> She sent them to the docks to meet and greet him. He pretended that he wanted to take lunch on the transport. She readily surrendered them to his protection. This gallant soldier takes them, not to the docks, but to the railway station. He already had transportation for Ohio. He already had his berth in the Pullman for Ohio. A greater fraud was never perpetrated—nor greater rascality. Deceit of the worst character was practiced upon this unsuspecting woman. The first this woman knew about this case was what she read in the newspapers. She immediately set out for Ohio. I want to ask: Is such conduct a show of guilt? She might have remained away from this state and allowed him to get a decree. If she is the degraded woman they would have you believe she would care no more for these children than the young Filipino that was on the stand.
> I want to remind you of another thing—the attempt on the part of apparently Christian men to hold her up to ridicule and contempt. I am talking to a God-fearing judge and a God-fearing people. From Baltimore comes Howard Taggart to say that she regarded her church services in Fort Thomas as a bore, holding her up to ridicule for teaching her boys how to pray. This little woman manifested some interest in Christ and Christ's religion. Nobody ever heard of Capt. Taggart manifesting any interest in religion; of even attempting to teach the little boys to pray, or of taking any interest in the Bible except once. I believe one of the first things he asked for when he was sick in the hospital was a Bible.

Mr. Smyser spoke at length regarding the general ignorance that Maj. Newberry was married, mentioning that Mrs. Taggart and Mrs. Vose were astonished when Maj. Newberry stated on the stand that he had been married. Continuing, he said:

> It seems that Maj. Newberry's married life was not of the happiest, and your honor can see the motive that induced him to come here. He has no sympathy for this little woman.

He branded as fiction the story of Col. Miner's alleged impropriety while sitting beside Mrs. Taggart at the table. Turning to Attorney Stirling, he snapped:

"I'll take the word of Gen. Miner against that of your little Filipino."

Referring to Miner's complimentary remarks regarding Mrs. Taggart's beauty, he said:

> What of that? Lord, I'd hate to turn Attorney Wertz loose among a lot of women. I don't know about my friend Stirling, for I take it he's a woman-hater. Let's look at the alleged Fortesque incident. I want you to tell me what improper conduct took place between Fortesque and Mrs. Taggart. Mr. Wertz says in the cellar.

The lawyer described the circumstances of the incident and declared that wrongdoing was out of the question.

RETRENCHMENTS ARE ORDER OF DAY IN THE EQUITABLE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—President Paul Morton outlined the policy of the new management of the Equitable Life Assurance society in an address which he delivered at Manhattan Beach today to 750 agents of the society, who came from different parts of the country in fulfillment of an announcement made last December, that all agents who wrote more than a stipulated amount of business would be given an outing during the summer.

President Morton welcomed the agents at their first meeting this afternoon. With him on the platform were Second Vice President Gage E. Tarbell, Third Vice President George T. Wilson, Comptroller W. A. Day, and other officers.

> I am going to say a few words to you on your new administration. There will be no attempt to make it dazzlingly brilliant. The effort will be to make it honest, courageous and conservative. There will be the greatest consideration shown for the policy-holders, and at every turn their interests will be protected. All of the new directors are policy-holders. Business-like methods will prevail. The more economy of the right sort we can institute, the more we can save to the policy-holders. Investments will be of the highest character. The institution will not be run as an adjunct to any one or several banking houses. Every owner of securities will have a chance to deal with us, and our aim will be to buy the very best at the very lowest prices. The cheaper the society can be properly administered the better we can invest our earnings, and the better showing we can make the easier will it be for agents to sell our insurance.
> I want to see the insurance business removed as far as possible from politics. I believe in the proper laws safeguarding the sacred trusts of insurance, and I will cooperate in the enactment of any necessary laws with that end in view. We shall all work to put the business of life insurance on the elevated plane it ought to occupy.
> The new management of the Equitable will insist on an annual audit of its affairs by an unbiased and independent accountant. There will be no attempt to deceive anybody, not even ourselves.
> Retrenchments are the order of the day in the Equitable. They already amount to over $250,000 a year, which is equal to 4 per cent on an investment of $25,000,000. They will amount to a much larger sum before we are through, and I am sure we will satisfy not only our own policy-holders and our own agents, but the many who will buy what we have to sell.

COST OF LIVING IS INCREASING

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.

You are working under shorter hours, you are getting slightly more pay, you are paying more for your necessaries of life and in a general way you are a trifle behind your condition of a year ago. You are not very much behind, but still you are behind, and the general upward tendency of the cost of living is more rapid than the general tendency of wage increase.

This is the conclusion drawn by the United States bureau of labor, on having epitomized the reports of the several thousand experts employed in collecting the statistics of wages and food in the United States. This epitome takes in at a glance the increase or decrease in wages, and the increase or decrease in the cost of living, as follows:

> In 1904, as compared with the average for the ten years from 1890 to 1899, 35.7 per cent more persons were employed, hours of labor per week had been reduced 4.1 per cent, wages per hour had increased 17 per cent, weekly earnings per employe had increased 12.2 per cent, weekly earnings of all persons employed had increased 41.9 per cent, retail prices of food had increased 11.7 per cent, the wages of one hour would purchase 4.7 per cent more food, and the earnings of a week would purchase four-tenths per cent more food.
> In 1904, as compared with 1903, the total number of employes decreased six-tenths per cent, the hours of labor decreased seven-tenths per cent, wages per hour increased six-tenths per cent, weekly earnings per employe decreased one-tenth per cent, the total weekly earnings of all employes decreased eight-tenths per cent, retail prices of food increased 1.3 per cent, the wages of one hour would purchase seven-tenths per cent less food, and the earnings per employe in a week would purchase 1.4 per cent less food.

It is shown that the articles which marked the greatest difference in price between 1903 and 1904 are flour and lard. The average price of flour in 1904 was 118.44 per cent of the average price in 1903, or an advance of 18.44 per cent. The average price of lard in 1904 was 92.61 per cent of the average in 1903, or a decline of 7.39.

The bureau of labor has taken a basis of relative prices in order to make its comparison. It shows that beans, which sold at an average price of 105.9 in 1894, in 1904 sold for 116.8; fresh beef roasts and stews sold for 98.6 in 1895, sold in 1904 for 112.8; fresh beef steaks that sold for 99.1 in 1896 sold for 113.4 in 1904; salt beef that sold in 1896 for 90.6 was sold in 1904 for 108.3; wheat bread that sold in 1894 for 99.7 sold in 1904 for 100.9.

Cheese leaped from 90.2 in 1894 to 107.4 in 1904; chickens from 97.1 to 120.7; corn meal from 102.2 to 121.5; eggs from 96.3 to 130.9; fresh fish from 100.4 to 107.9; salt fish from 101.5 to 111.7; milk from 100.2 to 106.3; mutton and lamb from 107.8 to 114.1; and fresh pork from 101.8 to 124.

Eggs show a marked increase in price during the last few years. In 1900 the price was 99.9 per cent of the average price for the 10 year period, 1890 to 1899, in 1901 the price rose to 105.7, in 1902 to 119.1, in 1903 to 125.3 and in 1904 to 130.9. The price in 1904 was 31 per cent above the price four years previous.

The bureau of labor has made a compilation of the relative prices in the United States of certain groups of related articles of food between 1890 and 1904, and comments as follows:

> Under cattle products are shown the three articles—fresh beef roasts and stews, fresh beef steaks, and salt beef. The price of each of these three articles was higher in 1891 than in 1890; that of the two descriptions of fresh beef was lower, and that of salt beef was higher in 1892 than in 1891; prices of roasts and stews were lower and of steaks and salt beef higher in 1893 than in 1892; all three of the articles show lower prices in 1894 than in 1893; in each year from 1895 to 1903, inclusive, the price of each of the three articles increased; all were lower in 1903 than in 1902; prices of roasts and stews and salt beef were lower and steaks higher in 1904 than in 1903.
> For the United States, considered as a whole, the average cost of food per family in 1890 was $318 20. In 1896, the year of lowest prices, it fell to $296 76; in 1904 it reached the highest point of the period, being $347 10, a difference between 1896 and 1904 of $50 34, or 17 per cent. The changes in the cost of living, as shown, relate to food alone, representing 42.54 per cent of all family expenditures in the 2,567 families furnishing information.

LINCOLN PARTY NAMES A TICKET

PICKS BERRY FOR TREASURER

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Press Building,
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 11.

The "Lincoln party" today held its state convention in the parlor of the Hotel Stanton. There were but 67 delegates present. In the aggregate they represented a following—that is, they expect to acquire a following—in 34 of the 67 counties of the commonwealth. Their shortness of draught, however, did not prove to be an embarrassment, and all of the duties of a real political convention were performed. The Republican state ticket, with the exception of J. Lee Plummer, was indorsed, a platform adopted and Attorney Henry C. Niles elected state chairman. William Berry, the Democratic and Prohibition candidate for state treasurer, was placed on the ticket instead of Mr. Plummer.

In many respects the convention was a notable one. It was in the main composed of men who have been candidates for office at Republican primaries, who were defeated and who have never forgiven the party for its failure to measure them with the tape line. Conspicuous in this list is ex-Congressman Joseph E. Thropp of Bedford. Alvin Evans of Cambria defeated Thropp for the nomination, and later he was beaten at the polls by John Reynolds of Bedford, the present member from the Blair-Cambria-Bedford district. Mr. Thropp was again in the limelight today.

Another historical personage was ex-Congressman Charles A. Brumm of Schuylkill, who knows all about the Greenback, Populist, Socialist-Labor, Republican and Democratic parties for the reason that he has during his career sworn allegiance to all of them. The only party Brumm has ever sidestepped is the Prohibition party, and he may have a chance there, as he has become a follower of Berry.

Brumm and Thropp give one an idea of the personnel of the convention, but there were other features. Charles Heber Clark (Max Adler) who, it is stated, had abandoned the view humorous, presided as temporary and permanent chairman. George E. Mapes was elected secretary. Mr. Thropp was chairman of the committee on resolutions, and Lewis Emory, Jr., of the committee on organization. The following executive committee was named: H. C. Niles, York; H. S. Paul, Allegheny; Lewis Emory, Jr., McKean; George E. Reed Cumberland; J. L. Leisenring, Blair; A. A. Leiser, Union; John M. Broomall, Delaware; Charles H. Clarke, Montgomery; John B. Radall, Chester; S. M. Manifold, York; M. N. Kline, Philadelphia; W. K. Woodbury, Schuylkill, and C. F. Kratz, Montgomery.

The delegates from Allegheny were H. S. Paul, T. M. Walker, Harry F. Davis, ex-Senator J. W. Lee, Edward B. Clark, Alexander Clark, Joseph Locke and Burd S. Patterson. Others present were from Montgomery, Blair, Delaware, Chester, Berks, McKean, York, Lancaster, Cumberland, Union, Philadelphia, Schuylkill, Perry, Dauphin, Cameron, Juniata, Tioga, Forrest, Lackawanna, Snyder, Mifflin, Bradford and Elk counties. Alexander King represented Somerset county.

O. R. Hewitt of Blair presented the names of John Stewart for supreme court and Judges Rice, O'Grady and Beaver for the superior court, and William H. Berry for state treasurer. Lewis Emory, Jr., seconded the nominations. He was followed by C. H. Hubbard of Delaware and others. With the slate, platform and committees arranged in advance there was plenty of time for speeches, and they occupied very nearly the three hours of the session. Clarke, Niles, Emory, Thropp, Lee and Hubbard took turns at denouncing the Republican organization of Pennsylvania.

This evening the executive committee, which will have charge of the campaign, elected H. C. Niles chairman, George E. Mapes secretary and Mahlon N. Kline treasurer. It is the intention to enlarge the committee by adding a member from each senatorial district. Headquarters will be established here.

The platform, after stating that the Republican party was "formed for national purposes," and that its only "application to state or local government is obedience to the Constitution, security of equal and exact justice and capable and honest administration," indorses the merit system in public service and compares the Republican organization in Pennsylvania to the "pirates of the Barbary coast."

WOMEN IN HOUSE-BOATS ARE ATTACKED BY THUGS

Watchman John Miller Rescues the Frightened Females, Arrests Their Assailants and Also Man Who Offers Men Assistance.

The screams of an aged woman living in a boat-house on the Allegheny bank of the Allegheny river, near the Union bridge, last night attracted the attention of Watchman John Miller, an employe of the bridge company. Running to the little boat, occupied by Mrs. Bridget Earley, Miller came upon John Noonan of Parkway, who had the old woman prostrate across the bed with his fingers at her throat. Miller attacked Noonan and soon overpowered him. Mrs. Earley, who is over 70 years of age, was revived by neighbors. She says Noonan came on her boat shortly before 7 o'clock and attacked her with a knife, slashing her across the arm. He then threw her across the bed and tried to strangle her.

While taking Noonan up the river bank Miller heard screams from the boat owned by Gus Michael nearby. Dragging Noonan with him, Miller entered the boat and found Mrs. Nellie Michael, wife of Gus, struggling with Thomas Earl, aged 32, of Kilbuck street. Mrs. Michael's clothes were partially torn off and she was bruised from the battle. Miller quickly collared Earl and with his two prisoners went to Grant avenue, near the end of the bridge, and rang for the patrol wagon.

Before the wagon arrived John Flaherty, aged 22, of Craig street, attempted to release the two men, and was giving Miller a lively fight, when Joseph Bothwell, a colored resident of Grant avenue, appeared. Bothwell was clad only in trousers and undershirt, but got into the fight and held Flaherty until the wagon came. In the excitement Bothwell was put into the wagon, the police thinking he was one of the prisoners. Miller visited Central station a short time later with a pair of shoes and a coat. He explained the mistake to Supt. Glenn and Bothwell was released. The other three are charged with disorderly conduct. Flaherty was let out on a forfeit last night. Mrs. Earley, because of her age and physical weakness, is suffering considerably from shock.

HOLLIDAY'S MEN BEING EXAMINED

Inquiry in Pittsburgh Postoffice to Learn if Transfers Are Illegally Used.

BIG GAME IN ALLEGHENY

An investigation is being made at the Pittsburgh postoffice to ascertain if the letter carriers on this side of the river have been guilty of the illegal use of street car transfers. In Allegheny the government secret service men and the detectives of the Pittsburgh Railways Company have unearthed wholesale abuses of the transfer system.

Postmaster George L. Holliday was yesterday asked about the exclusive story printed in The Gazette from Washington announcing the dismissal of an Allegheny letter carrier for the illegal use of transfers, and detailing the schemes being employed to defraud the Pittsburgh Railways Company out of free transportation. The postmaster said he knew of nothing of the kind in the Pittsburgh office, but said he had heard of the trouble in Allegheny.

The secret service men of the railways company differ a little with Postmaster Holliday. They say the Pittsburgh letter carriers are now under investigation. If any irregularities have been found in the postoffice on this side of the river the detectives are not giving out the details. The investigation has not been completed. Postoffice Inspector O'Brien says he is not permitted to talk about his work and all reports must come from Washington.

Francies Still Silent.

Postmaster John Francies of Allegheny continues to remark that he has nothing to say about the dismissal of the carrier in his office. Even when told that a confirmation of the story had been gotten from the Pittsburgh Railways Company and that all the details were known, the postmaster declined to break his silence.

According to William H. O'Bryon, head of the secret service of the railways company, the company has known for several months that many transfers were being illegally used in the Allegheny postoffice. A report was made to the postoffice department in Washington and inspectors were detailed to work on the case.

"It was found," said Mr. O'Bryon, "the Allegheny postoffice was a regular clearing house for street car transfers. The letter carriers who have routes a considerable distance from the office are furnished with tickets to ride to the point where they begin delivery, and from the end of their routes to the office. Many of the carriers were getting transfers, although they had no use for them in their official business. When it came time to go to their homes, the transfers would be exchanged so they would fall into the hands of the man living on the line for which the slip was issued.

Carriers Had a Punch.

"In many cases the transfers had been punched by the conductor issuing them and of course the time limit had expired. The letter carriers had a punch and punched the paper to bring it up to the hour desired. The conductor receiving the transfer was told the conductor issuing the ticket had made an error and had to use his punch a second time.

"It was also found that some of the carriers had large bunches of transfers which had never been punched. We found them in the office, together with a punch or two. This shows that some of our conductors have given the carriers the books of transfers. There are a half dozen conductors suspected and we expect to get them. There are about 12 or 15 letter carriers implicated in the matter. One carrier has been removed and the others will have to stand trial before the postal board.

"The public has no idea of the number of people who are constantly trying to cheat the company in the use of transfers. As each of our 3,000 conductors has a different punch, it is difficult to get track of the illegal ones. We have to trust much to the honesty of the conductors in the issuing of transfers and men who are dishonest are continually trying to get into our employ.

Give Bogus References.

"All sorts of schemes are worked to fool us. Men have been known to appear in the morning with a beard and for some reason fail to get employment, and in afternoon return with a clean-shaven face and try to pass for another person. Every applicant must produce a reference.

"The other day a man brought me a good testimonial from a grocer in McKeesport. The letterhead did not look right to me. I noticed a word misspelled and the printing was poorly executed. Being satisfied the reference was bogus, I employed the man and immediately started a detective to McKeesport to investigate. He reported the place where the store ought to stand is a vacant lot, and a grocer by the name given had never been heard of in McKeesport. The applicant had the fake letterheads printed for the purpose of fooling us. Had the man been allowed to work he would have robbed the company.

"The South Side barber shop spoken of in the Washington report, where transfers were issued to the patrons, was discovered some time ago. We secured a search warrant and found about 500 transfers and a punch. Most of the tickets were issued for a ride on one of the inclined planes."

SWINGS TO HIS DEATH.

While in Midair Boy Loses Hold on the Rope, the Fall Breaking His Neck.

John C. Koch, aged 9, of 9 Carlisle place, was killed under the Forbes street bridge over the Junction railroad yesterday afternoon by falling off a rope in which he was swinging. His neck was broken. There was a rope fastened to the floor of the bridge and some boys were swinging out over the embankment. Koch lost his hold while in midair and fell on his shoulders and head, 15 feet below. He was identified by his mother, Mrs. Mary Koch.

Thomas Morris, aged 46, of 411 Fourth avenue, Homestead, was found dead in the stable of John Cox, 427 Fifth avenue, that place, yesterday morning. Death was due to heart failure. He was a carpenter.

Charles Ganison, aged 5 months, died suddenly at the home of his parents, 6824 Kelly street, at 9 o'clock last night. Ten minutes previous to his death the infant was apparently in good health.

Cornell Starts Season.

ITHACA, N. Y., Sept. 11.—(Special.)—Cornell started off her football season with the initial practice this afternoon under very inauspicious circumstances. Percy Field was a sea of mud and small pools of water. Despite this, however, Glenn S. Warner, head coach, marshalled his men, some 20 strong, and put them through some light work. This was mostly passing the ball. Even kicking was difficult, on account of the slipperiness of the pigskin.

Fight Six Rounds, No Decision.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Sept. 11.—(Special.)—Al Greenwood of Brooklyn and Harry Connors of New Brighton fought six rounds at 133 pounds at Heckert's gymnasium tonight. Jimmy Dime was referee. No decision was given, but Greenwood had the best of it. It was a lively bout from start to finish. There were interesting preliminaries.

Accused of Stealing Watch.

REYNOLDS FENDER TO BE INSTALLED

Director Moore Gives Railways Company Choice of Devices and It Selects Its Own.

WILL RUSH THE EQUIPMENT

Street cars are to be fenderless no longer. Director Moore yesterday selected two fenders and gave the Pittsburgh Railways Company its choice. The company elected the Reynolds device. "As soon as possible," President James D. Callery says, the cars of the company will be equipped with the fender, the invention of a man in the company's employ.

Dummies placed on the tracks in the path of the Reynolds fender were promptly torn to pieces at last Friday's test, but the Providence fender was just as sure "death" to the dummies, consequently, from the standpoint of the man who may be lying on the track the choice of the Providence would have been no better. Whether the Reynolds fender will save life or limb remains to be demonstrated; Director Moore thinks that no fender will do that.

The Pittsburgh board of trade, which stirred up the fender question, will now rest awhile and wait for a demonstration of the worth or usefulness of the Reynolds fender. If it turns out to be a good fender the board will be satisfied; if not, the subject will be taken up again.

Yesterday morning Director Moore sent the following letter to President Callery, the Consolidated car fender therein referred to being the Providence device:

President Callery Is Notified.

Pittsburgh, Pa., September 11, 1905.

J. D. Callery, Esq., President Pittsburgh Railways Company.

Dear Sir—An ordinance of the city of Pittsburgh, approved June 22, A. D. 1893, and recorded in ordinance book 9, page 225, provides inter alia that it shall not be lawful for any passenger railway company using the streets, lanes and alleys of the city of Pittsburgh to run any cars unless provided with the most improved pilot or safety guard, the same to be at all times securely attached to the front or end in which the car may be traveling for the better protection of life and limb of the public, the same to be subject to the approval of the director of the department of public safety, whose duty it shall be to see that the provisions of this ordinance are enforced and complied with; and, further, a penalty of not less than $10 and not exceeding $50 a day for each car running without being properly equipped with a pilot or safety guard.

At my request a number of cars were equipped by your company with various styles of fenders and a number of exhibitions or tests given, at which both W. B. Hays, mayor, and myself were present. After witnessing these various tests and styles of fenders and after a consultation with W. B. Hays, mayor, I have approved two styles of pilots or safety guards or more commonly called "fenders," with which your cars may be properly equipped and which I believe will fully meet the requirements of the law, viz.:

Offers Two Devices.

The Reynolds fender, which was on exhibition on Friday, September 8, 1905, at 3 o'clock p. m., in Euclid avenue, between Penn avenue and Bryant street, and which was attached to car No. 3173 of the Pittsburgh Railways Company.

Also, "The Consolidated Car Fender" on exhibition at the same time, place and date, and which was attached to car No. 3190 of the Pittsburgh Railways Company.

Therefore, to comply with the provisions of the ordinance hereinabove quoted, you are hereby directed to properly equip without delay all cars operated by your company with either style of pilot or safety guard as approved by me and hereinabove enumerated. Very truly yours,

HARRY MOORE,
Director Department of Public Safety.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 11, 1905.

Mr. Harry Moore, director of the Department of Public Safety:

Dear Sir:

We beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of even date notifying us of your approval of the Reynolds fender. Complying with your instructions our company will forthwith begin equipping all of its cars with the said fender and have all of the cars equipped at as early a date as possible. Yours very truly,

JAMES D. CALLERY, President.

Moore Still Lacks Faith.

The correspondence was given out by Director Moore. The director talked freely.

"I have no faith in the tests of fenders with dummies placed prone on the track," said the director. "The value of a fender can be demonstrated only by actual use. In my judgment I have approved the best make of fenders exhibited."

After receiving Mr. Callery's letter Mr. Moore said:

"Speaking as the director of the department of public safety and as a former electric traction man I think the Reynolds fender the best I have ever seen. While the Consolidated fender might be available for level cities like Cleveland and Buffalo, I think the Reynolds device more suitable to a hilly city like Pittsburgh. It is in actual use in Baltimore, Philadelphia and Harrisburg. From the body of the car to the outermost part of fender, which lies horizontally, the distance is three feet one inch, and the horizontal portion of the fender is one foot nine inches deep. The apron is two feet two inches high; the bars of the apron are three inches apart; the bars of the horizontal portion are two inches apart. The fender stretches across the entire front end of the car; it is adjustable and is easily kept in good order.

Will Ask for Bids.

"The fact that the fender is adjustable at different heights makes it available for a hilly district like ours. I do not intend to direct the company to adjust the fender at any certain height, but I will keep my eye on developments, and if I find that the adjustment ought to be changed I shall not hesitate to tell the company so. Of all the fenders tested very few protected the victim from contact with the drawbar; the Reynolds fender does furnish such protection."

After Director Moore had been notified by President Callery that the company chose the Reynolds fender the general superintendent, John Murphy, was asked the company's intention. Mr. Murphy said he had not received the letter from the director, but added: "I would say that if the Reynolds fender is selected I will immediately ask at least four contractors to furnish bids for 1,000 fenders, sufficient to equip all the cars actually in use. The contract would be let in very short order, and I should expect the successful bidder to begin immediately to make the fenders, so that the cars could be equipped as soon as possible."

The price of the Providence fender is $35; the Reynolds fender costs from $9 to $15 to make.

PLEASED WITH THEATER.

William G. Smythe, Personal Representative of David Belasco, Attends First Performance at the Belasco.

William G. Smythe, personal representative of David Belasco, who came to Pittsburgh yesterday to attend the first performance at the Belasco (the old Duquesne) theater, is much pleased with the playhouse in which the Belasco productions are to appear.

"Mr. Belasco was constrained to remain in New York to complete preparations for the opening in Pittsburgh, on October 2 of 'The Girl of the Golden West,' with Miss Blanche Bates as the star," said Mr. Smythe last evening. "Mr. Belasco is breaking his heretofore fixed custom of giving the premier production of a new play at Washington. To bring it to Pittsburgh for the opening it was necessary to put the piece on four weeks earlier than intended. This has required much work.

"Pittsburgh is to be congratulated on now having an opportunity to see some of the greatest productions appearing on the American stage. Hitherto they have been unable to appear in this city. After two weeks of Miss Bates and 'The Girl of the Golden West,' Mrs. Leslie Carter will come for two weeks in 'Ardrea' and revivals of 'Zaza' and 'DuBarry.' Her first appearance after leaving New York will be in Pittsburgh."

On Account of the Meeting of the Sovereign Grand Lodge I. O. O. F.

To be held in Philadelphia Sept. 16th to 23d, Penna. R. R. Co. will sell excursion tickets at greatly reduced rates on Sept. 15 to 19th inclusive, good returning until September 28th. Extension of return limit may be secured until October 5th on payment of fee of $1.00 to Joint Agent at Philadelphia.

MOVE TO FORCE POLICE TO ARREST THE SPITTERS

Councilman Walters Has New Bill Requiring Director Moore to Renew Crusade.

Select Councilman E. R. Walters of the Twentieth ward proposes to compel Director Moore to renew the anti-spitting crusade which was begun a couple of months ago by the police, and dropped. Councilman Walters prepared a new anti-spitting ordinance which he would have introduced yesterday if select council had met.

The ordinance is more rigid than the one enacted a few months ago, and is intended to correct some alleged defects in the former one. Dr. Walters' ordinance declares expectorating on sidewalks, in public buildings or conveyances to be a nuisance, and fixes the offense as a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not less than 10 days in the county jail nor more than 30 days in the workhouse.

The ordinance also specifically states that it shall be the duty of the public safety department to enforce its provisions. This is the clause which is expected to compel Director Moore to take action against the spitters.

A couple of months ago the police made two arrests for spitting on the sidewalk but the offenders were released without paying a fine when they pleaded ignorance of the law. It is stated that the former ordinance is defective because it does not fix the grade of the offense or declare the act a public nuisance.

SECRET COMMITTEE WILL KEEP AN EYE ON FENDERS

Pittsburgh Board of Trade Directors Declare They Are Not Done With the Question.

Because a fender has been adopted by the Pittsburgh Railways Company, the board of directors of the Pittsburgh board of trade announced last night, after their meeting, that the organization does not intend to drop the fender matter. Twelve out of the 15 members of the board were present at the meeting, at which T. D. Harman presided.

The directors adopted resolutions in which the organization takes a firm stand to watch the fenders after the cars are equipped, and if they find the fenders do not comply with the law the organization will insist that the ordinance passed by Pittsburgh councils be complied with. A secret committee of 10 will be appointed to watch how the fenders work and on the committee's report after the fenders have been given a fair trial, the action of the Pittsburgh board of trade will depend. Every action of the board of directors at last night's meeting was approved unanimously.

The resolution, as adopted by the directors, is as follows:

Whereas, Director Harry Moore of the department of public safety of the city of Pittsburgh has approved two fenders, the "Providence" and the "Reynolds," and permitted the Pittsburgh Railways Company to make its choice of these two fenders, and

Whereas, the Pittsburgh Railways Company has adopted the fender known as the "Reynolds," which has never been in actual, practical use on any car on any railway line except in the so-called test on Friday, September 8, 1905, instead of adopting the "Providence," which has stood the test in actual experience and found to accomplish the purpose for which it was designed. Therefore, be it

Resolved, that in the judgment of the board of directors of the Pittsburgh board of trade the fender adopted is not such a fender as is contemplated by the ordinance of the city of Pittsburgh relative thereto, and does not comply and fulfill the requirements of that ordinance; that the directors propose to watch the operations of this fender, and if found unsatisfactory, then to insist upon the strict compliance with the spirit as well as the letter of the ordinance and the adoption of a fender that will save lives.

MAYOR CONSENTS TO THE OUTING AT MARSHALSEA

For Sake of Political Harmony Director Clark Is Permitted to Have Annual Inspection.

"The inspection of the city farm will be held the first of next week," said Director James W. Clark yesterday afternoon after a conference in the mayor's office with Mayor Hays, Director Bigelow and Murry A. Verner. Political matters were also discussed at the conference. To bring about harmony and to prevent a rupture with the political followers of Director Clark the mayor withdrew his objections to the outing and the director immediately announced that all obstacles to the outing had been removed.

The resolution providing for the outing was, therefore, not introduced in councils yesterday as planned. Director Clark said he had not yet fixed the date for the inspection, but it will be on Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday of next week. A special train will carry the councilmen and city officials to the farm from the Fourth avenue station of the Panhandle railroad.

CUP CONTEST ENDS.

J. B. Crookston Leads the Field in the Eight Weeks Contest at the Field Club.

After an exciting contest lasting eight weeks, in which the crack golfers of the Pittsburgh Field club participated, the club cup was finally won yesterday by J. B. Crookston, who won first with 10 points, W. B. Hambly and A. T. Walta, with seven points each, keeping in close touch. Score for week ending September 11:

SOUSA GETS ROYAL WELCOME AT THE EXPO

March King Begins Annual Engagement at Big Point Show With More Novelties.

Sousa and his band got an enthusiastic welcome from thousands of Exposition patrons yesterday afternoon and last evening. The famous march king is always assured of welcome in Pittsburgh. No band master has a more loyal following than that possessed by John Philip Sousa in Pittsburgh, and his coming is always a signal for an increase in patronage at the ever popular Exposition.

As usual, Sousa's programs yesterday were admirable in all their points. Sandwiched in among the numbers of popular flavor, with their dominating march and "ragtime" rhythms, were several compositions of the highest class. The absolute novelties from Sousa's own pen were a suite entitled "At the King's Court," and a march, "The Diplomat," although there were several other numbers by no means familiar to the ears of the ordinary concert-goer. So great was the enthusiasm last night, calling for encore after encore, that before the evening was over the big hall resounded with the familiar old Sousa marches, which have made the bandmaster-composer so famous.

Yesterday the first of the Pittsburgh schools attended the Exposition as the guests of the Exposition society. Fully 10,000 children thronged the buildings during the morning and afternoon. This afternoon's program follows:

MANSFIELD OPERATED ON.

Actor Goes Under Surgeon's Knife Twice for Grave Intestinal Disorder.

Efforts Successful.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—(Special.)—Mr. Richard Mansfield is recovering from two very delicate and serious surgical operations. The first, which was performed three weeks ago, failed to relieve Mr. Mansfield, and another was performed last Wednesday.

For several years Mr. Mansfield has been a sufferer from nervousness brought on by a grave intestinal disorder that grew steadily worse. Three weeks ago his condition became so serious that his physician decided one and possibly two operations must be performed. The latter was entirely successful and at his home in New London today it was said that the star felt better than he had in years.

Today's Special Sale.

As you know, there is a sale on here today, collectively a sale, but specifically many sales among the 70 departments. Those that have contributed to the event have set out their newest goods,

And the Prices Have Been Lowered Very Materially Below What the New Goods Will Sell for Regularly.

A full account was given yesterday, and no attempt at recapitulation is advisable. However, in two or three instances it may accentuate your interest in economy by a review of some of the published values for underprices.

A $1.25 Broadcloth for 75c a Yard This is as remarkable as it is unexpected—a new broadcloth woven expressly for Autumn, a 52-inch broadcloth in chiffon weight, therefore admirable for the popular long coat suit—in such effective colors as myrtle green, wine, cardinal, brown, French gray, tan, navy and royal blue—a broadcloth that we bought to sell for $1.25, and at that price very reasonable—and today we will ask but 75c a yard. Other and equally stirring values as follows:

52-inch all-wool Panama Suiting, the correct fabric for making those desirable pleated skirts—shown in all the new colors for the street—bought by us to retail for $1.00—special today, a yard....50c

Imported Venetian Serge and Imported Unfinished Worsted, both exhibited in all the approved colors for Autumn wear—goods that are worth and should sell for $2.00—today, a yard, only....$1.00

Women's New $7 Trimmed Hats for Only $4 No writer can describe the loveliness of a hat in print any more than he can describe the technique of a pianist. To form an opinion the first must be seen, the latter heard. These trim little hats are the pink of perfection, and we are free to say no milliner could make up one for the sum of $4.00. And yet we are going to sell them for that price and let the purchaser save $3.00.

One is a chic little toque-turban, having a pretty shirred velvet crown, fancy breast brim, under facing of maline and shirred silk. Built on a wire frame, and can be had in black, navy, brown and red. The other is a straight brim sailor, trimmed high at left side with fancy rosette of velvet, crown of taffeta, braid underbrim, maline pleated around side of crown. Black, brown, navy, green, plum, red.

New 85c Autumn Silks, 68c a Yard That's rather refreshing just as the Autumn season is beginning to bud, and the best of it is you can select the popular plaid silks if you like. The plaids are in Roman colors and the silk is worth 85c, the other is an 85c grade of moire velour, checks and stripes in dark colors—choice today 68c a yard. Other silks for marked underprices as follows:

New colored crepe de chine, 24 inches wide, a 75 grade, specially priced at, a yard....50c

Tuesday, September 12, 1905.

Advices from Manchuria indicate it is dawning on the Russian mind, at least, that Japan has secured very important concessions through the peace treaty. It has obtained control of the railroad for 100 miles north of the Japanese occupation, and of every coal mine south of Harbin. It is significant in this connection that Russian officers are discussing the effect of this concession in the event of "another war." The Japanese apparently were thinking, quite as much as the Russians, of future possibilities.

It is to the credit of Cuba that strong opposition is made to the proposed treaty with Great Britain, giving that country trade privileges to the disadvantage of the United States. Cuba owes much to this country. This fact is recognized to some extent by treaty and to some extent in the act of transfer of sovereignty. But the Cuban people owe a duty beside that to their liberator. Moreover, they will profit materially by remaining true to their obligations rather than by giving favored treatment to every nation that comes asking.

Orders for 179,000 tons of rails are being placed by the Pennsylvania railroad interests, an increase of 40,000 tons over its last requirement. It is a huge order. It signifies expectation of enormous traffic quite as much as its recent orders for new cars, and the Pennsylvania management is in good position to know what is going to happen in the traffic world. As a matter of fact the flood is already upon the Pennsylvania and it is unable to meet the urgent demands of its patrons for cars. This very day there is a "car famine" along its lines. The wave of prosperity is rolling high.

John D. Rockefeller has done another unusual thing—submitted to an interview. It is not sensational, but it is hopeful. There are more and better opportunities for success in Cleveland now than when Mr. Rockefeller was young, he says. He tells the truth. There are more and better opportunities for young men everywhere in this country than there were 40 years ago. Some young men will grasp them—some will spend their time railing against unkind fate. The first will succeed, the latter will fail. It has ever been so, it ever will be so. The opportunities are always present, but many prefer complaining to hard work.

When we read that Lord Kitchener believes war is certain between Great Britain and Russia some day, it may be assumed the wish is father to the belief. More than one military expert has advised the construction of a railroad through the Khyber Pass and beyond, in order that India may be the better equipped for defense against invaders, and this great work, it now appears, is to be accomplished. The transportation of troops and supplies will, of course, be greatly facilitated. Ever since his arrival in India, Lord Kitchener's policy has been insistent for better defenses, and it is evident the powers at home have at last realized the logic of his contention and decided it is the part of wisdom in time of peace to prepare for war.

A recent visitor to our shores found fault with the amount of space accorded by American newspapers to fatal accidents. "Every morning when I pick up my paper," he said, "I find big headlines on the front page proclaiming some horrible disaster." Our critic places the blame in the wrong place. The fault lies in the reckless, headlong pace of modern civilization, which counts human life as the cheapest of all considerations. Most "accidents" are preventable. Yesterday's horror in New York, the killing of 12 persons and the injuring of some two-score by the derailing of a car on the elevated road, is a case in point. There are conflicting theories as to the cause of the accident. One is that a switchman set a switch incorrectly and then tried to rectify his error by moving the switch while the train was passing over it. Another is that an indicated "slow curve" was rounded at too high a rate of speed. The coroner will endeavor to fix the responsibility. We shall have a verdict and the disaster will fade from the public mind, only to be revived when a similar accident shall occur. Truly we are a long-suffering people. "Transport us quickly," we say to our rapid transit companies. "Safely if you can, but first of all, quickly."

A Fender Adopted.

Director Moore's decision in the matter of fenders cannot be regarded as a particularly happy one. Any fender will be better than none, but the best fender would be none too good to atone for the monstrous delay in providing one of any kind. The fender adopted is not the best.

Throughout the agitation and investigation the attitude of the city administration has been discreditable. It has been apparent that but for the plain mandate of the ordinance and the thoroughly aroused public sentiment, the administration would gladly have gone asleep and allowed the cars to go fenderless. It has required constant reminders by the press and repeated threats of legal action by the board of trade to galvanize the administration into tardy and reluctant action to guard the public safety.

Now the demand for fenders has been heeded it ends in a half-way compromise. The fender adopted failed in the dummy test prescribed by the administration and has never succeeded, as far as the public knows, in any other test. The fenders which have proven valuable were allowed to be rejected. It will not be long, we may be sure, until the adopted fender is tested in practice and unless it responds, as other fenders have, by saving uninjured more than 50 per cent of persons struck, the moral responsibility will hang heavy on the executive officials who have so illy performed their duty.

Primaries Saturday.

Next Saturday the Republican voters of Allegheny county will choose their candidates for the county offices to be filled after the first of January next. It is expected they will turn out in force to vote for the best men on that day. The men who get the most votes will be the nominees and the men who are nominated on Saturday will be elected November 7. There can be no reasonable doubt about it.

Director Bigelow, who is probably the most experienced politician of the Democratic-Citizens alliance has admitted his aggregation is "up against it." After Saturday's primaries he will recognize the fact that his fusion ticket is "down and out." When the method of preparing that ticket is completed with the nomination of candidates by direct vote in the Republican primaries there will be no excuse for support of the former.

Every Republican should turn out on Saturday to vote at the primary election. Every candidate has the same opportunity to get votes and the nominees should be the choice of a majority of all the Republicans in the county.

An Important Witness.

A graphic story of the assault made by a policeman on a woman near Ellsworth avenue bridge is told by one of the operators in the telephone exchange located near that point. This corroboration of the account by the woman who was assaulted puts an end to any attempt on the part of the police bureau to deny the occurrence.

Director Moore takes a more commendable attitude on this matter than that taken by his superintendent of police. He declares The Gazette has done him a favor in finding this witness and he promises to use his influence on the side of justice. We may assume he will also let it be understood that police molestation of this sort will not be tolerated in any case.

Meantime the investigation of the moral character of the police force in general has been begun by the committee of the Interdenominational Missionary society and the Allegheny force will be included. This is a wise extension of the inquiry. A policeman, anywhere and at any time, ought to be above suspicion. It is his duty to protect the person and property of respectable citizens and unless he is a man of good character who appreciates his duty he is more to be feared than trusted. An officer who would commit the act charged against the East End patrolman is a greater menace than the men he is supposed to guard against.

Mr. London's Socialism.

As an entertaining and artistic teller of stories Jack London commands our admiration and respect, but when he forsakes this occupation for that of the orator of the alarmist school, the street corner agitator, the common haranguer against that established order of things upon which thoughtful, temperate men are agreed, we are sorry that Mr. London cannot find a more suitable field for his undoubted talents. Mr. London is now a "Socialist." That is what he calls himself, but his recently expressed views on economic questions indicate that he would more logically belong in the class of anarchists—not the practical, working anarchists, who would reform the world with bomb and shotgun, but the theoretical anarchists who believe that nothing that is is right, and that the best way to make everything right is to turn everything topsy-turvy first. Mr. London has been talking and this is what he said:

> Far be it from me to deny that socialism is a menace. It is its purpose to wipe out, root and branch, all capitalistic institutions of present-day society. It is distinctly revolutionary, and in scope and depth is vastly more tremendous than any revolution that has ever occurred in the history of the world.

It is interesting to know that all capitalistic institutions of present-day society are to be obliterated, but one cannot help wondering just what is to take their place. The capitalistic institutions include, of course, the railroads, banks, newspapers, factories, and every form of commercial and industrial activity. Possibly what Mr. London meant to say was that socialism would place all these lines of enterprise under government ownership; which, of course, has always been the Socialist idea. Whatever his meaning, Mr. London has been most unfortunate in his choice of language, which is decidedly belligerent rather than of the academic tone in which discussions of the subject should be conducted.

Good Public Policy.

Why should the tariff be revised by the Fifty-ninth congress? Simply because it is good policy. Tariffs have to be revised periodically. The American tariff has been so revised. Revision should be begun before it is actually needed and when the wave of prosperity is rising. It is dangerous to defer it until there are signs of depression and it is fatal to entrust the task to the Democratic party. It is a tremendous risk to trust anything in the hands of the Democrats, anywhere.

Tariff revision is not now a necessity, as The Gazette has pointed out, but it is good Republican policy. The Republican party is the party of the people. The Republican party stands for progress as well as for prosperity. The people are beginning to demand a revision of the tariff and the Republican party, entrenched in both houses of congress and in the presidency is in a position to make a right revision that will satisfy this demand. It makes no difference that this revision is not necessary. It is desirable as a matter of policy.

Once the people desired to revise the McKinley tariff. There was no necessity for revision, but so many people thought the tariff ought to be revised that they turned the job over to the Democrats. Of course, the Democrats made a mess of it. Panic followed. It required years and another tariff revision to recover from that depression. No one desires to have that experience again. Yet the Democrats have not relented. They are ready to try their "tariff for revenue, only," again if given the opportunity. People are forgetting what happened in 1893 and there are thousands of new citizens in the country who know nothing of the lean years.

"Stability in economic policy must always be the prime economic need of this country. This stability should not be fossilization. The country has acquiesced in the wisdom of the protective tariff principle. It is exceedingly undesirable that this system should be destroyed. * * * * Unquestionably these interests—the interests of our people as a whole—will best be served if, together with fixity of principle as regards the tariff, we combine a system which will permit us from time to time to make the necessary reapplication of the principle." These are the words of Theodore Roosevelt. They are words of wisdom. They apply to the present situation. The tariff should be revised without violation of the protective principle.

A Nebraska farmer with designs upon the public lands caused his 18-year-old son to adopt his 12-year-old brother and thus become the head of a family. Then the new-made "head" applied for a homestead of 160 acres. Suppose one of the Mormon fathers in Utah should try this brilliant scheme?

A witness has been found who saw the policeman's assault on a woman at Ellsworth avenue bridge. It is going to be difficult for Superintendent Wallace to defend the fellow. He had better undertake to get a better class of officers.

A society has been formed at Richmond, Ind., to place scriptural quotations in every street car in the United States for the benefit of passengers. Stock quotations would be more popular in New York.

Poverty has its compensations. The man who couldn't purchase even a single share of Standard Oil can buy a wig without having every paragrapher in the country take a shot at him.

The organization of a $250,000 national bank by the author of "Mrs. Wiggs" should settle the question periodically propounded by writers in the reviews: "Does literature pay?"

Not content with his initial escapade, one of Niles' boy bank robbers has made a second attempt and has landed in the police station. That boy will wind up in Wall street yet.

An Arkansas man, who has brought his wife into court because she hasn't spoken to him in a year, affords the latest example of a fellow who doesn't know when he's well off.

A Philadelphia critic says the new twenty-dollar bill is an "artistic crime" and "an insult to the cultivated taste." Most of us are willing to pocket the insult.

We are not surprised that a South Dakota woman alleges excessive snoring as a cause for divorce. Continued audible somnolence will break up any happy home.

The Japanese generals who have been dodging shells will have the pleasure of sitting on the fence and watching the Japanese envoys dodge bricks.

A San Francisco surgeon says he can cure kleptomania by an operation on the brain. An operation on the hands would be equally effective.

It has been discovered that bull and bear movements in Wall street are due to "psychological waves." What will Mr. Lawson say to this?

In one week 10 arrests in breach-of-promise cases have been made in Chicago. The Windy City is full of promising young men.

New York women have taken to wearing the monocle, but the men won't follow suit. They're never satisfied with a single glass.

The western philanthropist who proposes a monument to Bryan will doubtless set it up in the political graveyard.

And now they are beginning to criticise Mr. Bryan's grammar. Mr. Bryan's chief mistakes have not been grammatical.

A PREACHMENT BY THE QUIET OBSERVER

By ERASMUS WILSON.

Are you coming out this season?

What are you coming out from, or coming into? Do you know?

Coming out is held by some to be a most important epoch in the life of a girl. At least a great many look forward to it with high expectations, as though it would change their lives in some essential features.

Fond mammas make a great ado about the coming out of their daughters, and affectionate fathers pay the bills cheerfully.

And when all is done, what does it amount to, more than a social function, or blowout?

As far as known, any girl can come out who has the price, for there seems to be nothing required but this, and to be of proper age.

If it meant that the debutante had finished a course in domestic arts, household economy, and practical social ethics, there would be something to it. But merely to stand up to be looked at, criticised as to dress, and kissed by a lot of other girls, doesn't seem to be worth the worry and expense.

And how the poor come-outs are flattered or guyed in a polite way. Don't they know that it is taffy-talk they get? They ought to be able to remember what was said to the girl friend who came out last year, and what was said on the side?

Not funny in the sense of being humorous or laugh-provoking; but because of the nonsensical way in which people conduct themselves.

You can name more people than you have fingers who are acting as though they haven't a thimbleful of common sense, and yet they seem to be sane, at least in their talk. In fact, this is the type of person who can put up a fine talk, point out where the other fellow made a mistake, and give you pointers on how to succeed.

And yet this is a good sort of world, just good enough for us, because it is as good as we want it.

Right here you are liable to stop and say that isn't so, or words to that effect.

Well, if the people want a better world, why don't they make it to suit them, since they have the making of it?

Do you know what is the matter with the world? We, the people who make it what it is, don't do unto others as we would have others do unto us.

That's what's the matter.

And the world will grow better only as the people observe the golden rule more closely.

Sociologists, political economists, professors of this, that or the other thing, together with D. D.'s, LL. D.'s, Ph. D.'s, may theorize all they can, evolve logical propositions, and deduce cocksure conclusions, but until men love their neighbors better and more practically, things will go on about as they are going.

Why don't they do this?

Simply because they are not taught to do so from infancy up to manhood. It must be bred into the people, and not merely stamped on the outside.

Mr. Quiet Observer:—What do you really know of the Humane society?

The public seems so unfamiliar with its true inwardness, for which, no doubt, the public is alone, and very much, to blame.

May I ask if you are a member of it, and if so, what is necessary to become one? Of course, though, the proper way to get the latter information will be to hunt up the society's headquarters and learn directly. Perhaps we can learn, too, why it is so often spoken of in a critical, sarcastic manner.

For instance, when some peculiarly vicious action compels attention and a crowd gathers, on all sides one hears, "Where is your Humane society now?" and "I thought there was a society to prevent such horrors." Just as similar remarks are flung at the police department, whose officers number thousands to the probable two or three Humane ones, and still that necessary evil continues in business, as no doubt the Humane society will.

No one can deny that in connection with newspaper accounts of atrocities against animals, Humane agents are almost invariably mentioned as having unearthed them and brought their perpetrators to justice. I have even been told the society stops on its way to church, sometimes at the very door, and says: "Please blanket those shivering horses while their owners are being preached into humane frames of mind," or "Lower those excessive checkreins," or "Since you have seen fit to dock your horses' tails, kindly provide covers to protect them from their merciless little tormentors—the flies?"

One of our papers stated that one of the agents had arrested some priest for turning the hose on a starving, vagrant cat, to drive it back into the clutches of the dogs with which he had chased it up a tree for satisfying hungry pangs with some young chickens he had been raising for his own eating. And how I did bemoan it as another opportunity lost for a glorious object lesson, and by the exemplar of a parish and preacher of humanity.

If people would only once, instead of hounding friendless cats and dogs from place to place with clubs and stones, until they are crazed, if not absolutely driven mad, try befriending them by throwing a little food to them, they would not only save their own bacon, or chickens, but find themselves the objects of so much gratitude and devotion, pure and simple, as would compel them to repeat the experiment for pure delight in it. Eyes can be more eloquent than speech, and anyone, looking into those of some abused animal and noting the hunted, pitiful expression change gradually under kind treatment to one of hope, and trust, and love, will find, if not tears in his own eyes, a pretty strong conviction in his heart that we humans are not the only possessors of souls.

This is a conviction that, if ever widespread, is destined to develop wonderful possibilities in the way of securing animals their rights; but liable right here to get in the way of the final act in the scheme of benificence we are contemplating for animal outcasts—euthanasia. No druggist, or physician worthy of his vocation, will refuse to bestow this boon, meaning so little to him—only a few moments time—ever so little prussic acid, introduced by means of a small syringe, or saturated bit of sponge, into the mouth so that it will reach the throat, even a drop of it, and instant, painless release from misery of an old, diseased, tormented, unwanted animal.

But don't forget that, before asking this favor of a doctor, we must first have secured and confined the poor subject, no very difficult task since we are supposed to have been ministering to its wants—proving ourselves the protectors and friends God intended we should be to these, our lowly, "less-favored" kin, and not the arch enemies previous experience had taught it to consider all mankind.

Might Arouse Interest.

The Ohio Democrats might fall back on the initiative and referendum as the paramount issue. So few people know what it is that curiosity, if not interest, might be aroused.—Toledo Blade.

Can't Beat Our Pie Foundry.

Chicago may well crow over the fact that she does the bulk of the chicken canning business of the United States, which amounts to 75,000,000 pounds annually.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

ACCIDENT DISTURBS ALL NEW YORK

Latest Catastrophe Sole Topic of Conversation—Remarkable Record Broken.

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—The people of New York seemed to give no thought to anything else today except the accident on the elevated railroad that cost so many lives. Everywhere it was the one topic of discussion. This is easily explained, apart from the general feeling of sympathy for the victims and their families, because practically everyone in the city finds use for these roads daily, and if they are dangerous everybody is in danger. It has not yet been decided what was the cause of the accident, but it is known that it was somebody's blunder. It is nearly always a mistake on the part of some one that causes a disastrous wreck, which only serves to emphasize that fact, that no one is infallible.

But the most surprising thing told about the accident is the fact that never before has a passenger been killed after entering an "L" train. Employes have been killed, and one woman was killed three years ago while trying to board a train after the gates closed. But for 36 years, the elevated roads in New York have been operated without having killed a passenger after boarding a train. This is certainly a remarkable record, and it is well to emphasize the fact at this time, when people are inclined to be afraid to use that mode of transportation. Certainly there must have been exceedingly good management during all these years, and we can feel assured that the good management will continue despite today's wreck; perhaps it will increase the caution.

Accident Cuts Stock Prices.

The accident on the "L" was the cause of a pretty severe drop in traction stocks in Wall street. Of course, Interborough stock was the hardest hit, as there are likely to be some heavy damages to pay as a result of the disaster. Even without damage suits, the expense of such a wreck is very large, as it not only stops the gathering in of nickels for the time being, but it leaves a nervousness with people that causes them to seek some other mode of transportation, probably as hazardous. In the sharp tumble in Wall street, Interborough lost 3¾ points, while Manhattan fell 1½.

Mayor McClellan Back at Work.

Mayor McClellan returned to his desk today. He has been away on a six weeks' vacation and the tan on his face shows that he spent it mostly in the open air. He has been in the Canadian woods, and says he enjoyed every minute of the time he was away from his desk. He spent most of his time fly-fishing and of course his catch averaged at least 50 a day. No true fisherman could report a less result. The mayor positively declined to discuss the political situation, and does not look at all worried about what the fusionists are likely to do to him.

Great Army of School Children.

People seldom think of what a great army of school children there are in New York, except on the opening day of school, which this year happens to be today. We are told that 610,000 pupils are enrolled, which is by a large number too many for the accommodations. Of those enrolled today more than 80,000 were put on half time. Every possible effort is being made to take care of all of them, but the school year will be half finished before all can be given seats regularly. Then the same trouble is likely to be encountered next year, as it was last.

New School of Real Estate.

The New York Young Men's Christian association has for several years had the distinction of having the only school of real estate in the world. Now, however, the New York university announces that a class in real estate will be established beginning September 28. The course in real estate is designed to meet the special needs of three classes—brokers and their employes, owners of real estate who lack experience in its management, and all persons who are likely to become owners, either through inheritance or otherwise. The class will meet in the evenings, and women as well as men will be admitted.

Some of the Things Taught.

Many things can be taught to those who desire to give their attention to real estate investments, as the announcement of the New York university shows. The course includes growth of cities and the theory of realty values, preparation of contracts, defects in titles, encumberances, title insurance, duties and obligations of brokers, condemnation proceedings, general outline of real property laws, building and loan operations, the placing of mortgages, planning of buildings and provisions of the building laws, apartment house management, taxes, etc. These give only a general idea of the many things that can be taught under the head of real estate.

Bowery Goes to Picnic.

Even the rainy weather could not keep the people in the Bowery today. "Big Tim" Sullivan gave his annual picnic at College Point, and it took two big steamers to carry his friends away from the district over which he rules. The Bowery was all but deserted, as 5,000 people accepted the invitation issued by "Big Tim." Those who remained at home must have been invalids or very busy people, for "the big 'un's" picnic is the chief event of the year for that section of the city.

SOME GOOD STORIES OF PITH AND MOMENT

They were at Monte Carlo, and, like other visitors to that insidious paradise, they considered the Casino was a place which ought to be visited. They stood hesitating before one of the tables, and at last the temptation to join the players proved too strong for the lady.

"I must just risk one £10 bill," she said to her husband. "Give me one, darling, and I will put it on the number of my age. That is sure to be lucky."

Hubby was inclined to be skeptical, but, of course, he might have spared himself the trouble of grumbling, and the money was duly deposited on No. 24.

Alas! No. 36 proved to be the winning numeral, and the lady gave a little gasp of despair.

"Serve you right!" said her great brute of a husband. "If you'd told the truth you'd have won!"—London Tit-Bits.

Wanted to Find Way Back.

One of the first cases which the late Gilman Marston of New Hampshire had after being admitted to the bar was a civil suit involving a somewhat complicated question of inheritance. In no way daunted, young Marston tackled it, looked up authorities all the way back to Julius Caesar, and prepared an argument of a few hundred pages which seemed to him more than unanswerable. His only fear was that it might be beyond the comprehension of the court.

When the time came the young man rose and plunged in boldly. The judge seemed interested and Gilman took heart. But at the end of an hour and a half, in the midst of the most intricate part of his plea, he was pained to see what he thought was a lack of attention on the part of the court.

It was just as he expected; the judge was unable to appreciate the nice points of his argument. He paused, hesitated, and then said: "Your honor, I beg pardon, but do you follow me?"

"I have so far," answered the judge, shifting about in his chair, "but I'll say frankly that if I thought I could find my way back I'd quit right here."—Boston Herald.

How Storms Are Made.

Dr. W. J. McGee, who was head of the anthropological department of the World's fair, was in St. Louis on his way back to Washington, and told a reporter, after a remarkable four months' experiment in the great American desert in Arizona, in which he says he discovered how storms are bred in the region which has long been termed the "storm-breeding" belt.

"A reservoir of aqueous vapor is formed over the Pacific coast and the Gulf of California," he said, "and this swings over the 'storm-breeding belt.' The ground here is perfectly level and the radiation from the earth's surface is consequently regular and even. The heat radiation from the desert is, of course, very great. This strong radiation by its regularity keeps the aqueous vapor high above the earth in a stable condition.

"When the vapor moves eastward over the mountains and meets the irregular radiation that comes from the uneven surface of the earth a precipitation of the vapor results, causing rain and storms."

American Boy Kept His Word.

"While I was sojourning recently in one of the German university towns," said Mr. T. C. Imley of Chicago to a Washington newspaper man, "I met a young American, who confided to me that he had been subjected to a great deal of rude treatment at the hands of a number of the native students. He said that in every instance the insults were gratuitous, and that he had done nothing to provoke such unmannerly treatment. I asked him what he was going to do about it, and he responded in a single word. 'Fight.' He told me that he was green so far as the use of weapons was concerned, but that he was taking lessons daily, and was getting so he could handle a sword fairly well. 'When I get to be expert,' he said, 'which I hope to be in the near future, I will pay back some of those braggarts, and if I don't leave my mark on them it will be no fault of mine.'

"I wished him good luck and went on to a different part of the country, but two months later I got back to the place, and one of the first men I met was my young countryman. Remembering what he had told me, I asked him if he had carried out his plans. 'Yes,' said he, 'even better than I had hoped to do. Since you left here I have fought three duels. Two of my men I put scars on that will not come off, and the third I almost killed. Since then they have let the Yankee severely alone.'

"After we parted, I made it my business to verify the statement of the young man, and I found that he had told it to me in a very modest way. He had simply outfought three of the most expert of the German student swordsmen, and one of them came within an ace of being slain. It is needless to say that he will be left free from future insults. This plucky youngster was a Minnesota boy, but I do not feel at liberty to give his name."

Absent-Minded Professor.

Prof. Barrett Wendell of Harvard, according to the Boston Herald, was describing at a banquet the absent-minded men he had met.

"We had once at Cambridge," he said, "a very absent-minded Latin instructor. This gentleman would walk the streets with an open book before his face, and everyone had to get out of his way, as though he had been blind. It is said of him that one spring day, as he was walking in the outskirts of Cambridge, with his usual open book, he stumbled against a cow, and before he had time to collect his thoughts mechanically took off his hat and murmured, 'Madame, I beg your pardon.' Then he perceived his mistake, and continued on his way, reading as before. Half a mile further on he collided with a young lady, whereupon, in an angry tone of voice, he said: 'Is that you again, you brute?'"

Tip from the Bench.

"When Judge McCay was on the bench for the northern district of Georgia, the attorneyship of which the president has offered Representative Carter Tate," said a Georgia representative, "a young lawyer secured the attention of the judge and told him that he wished a postponement of a case in which he was to appear for the defendant. The case was one of simple moonshining, but the lawyer contended that it would take several hours for the argument.

"'I can understand all you will have to say in an hour's time,' said the judge.

"'I am satisfied I shall take fully eight hours in my argument,' contended the lawyer.

"'Very well; have your own way; but it will take the prisoner about three years to tell why he employed you.'"—Philadelphia Ledger.

IN THE BEST OF HUMOR.

"When you sold me this watch," said the customer, "you said it would work like a charm."

"Yes, sir," replied the jeweler.

"Well, suppose you sell me the charm now. Perhaps that will work like a watch."—Philadelphia Press.

"How can you shake hands so cordially with that man when you know he hates you?" said Jaggs.

"You see, I have the better of him," replied Waggs. "He doesn't hate me half as bad as I do him."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Wigg—Dejones married a rich wife, but he hasn't a cent. She even buys his shoes.

Passenger—Have I time to say goodby to my wife?

STORIES FOUND IN THE LOBBIES

Interesting Happenings About the People Who Are Traveling.

There was at least one passenger on the New York flyer of the Pennsylvania railroad last night who has stringent scruples on Chinese exclusion—or at least, on the exclusion of Chinese from the same sleeping quarters with dignified American citizens.

"Are you going in that car?" asked a well-dressed man of very genteel appearance and modern business rules of a Chinaman who stood near one of the cars of the New York flyer.

"Yeh," replied John Chinaman, who himself was dressed as a Chinese gentleman of high class, although his queue being slightly awry from under his soft hat made his appearance the least bit unkempt.

"In this sleeping car—this one right here?" again asked the American citizen, with a snarl in his manner that bespoke more than a volume of words.

"Yeh, sir," rejoined the Chinaman, himself little perturbed by the snarl of the other man.

"Well, it's the [illegible] that ever permitted a Chink to yellow-peril this land," exclaimed the man as he walked away and entered the car. In a moment he reappeared with his grip and asked to have his sleeping car accommodations changed, but as the train was due to leave in two minutes this was found impossible, and he was advised to endeavor to get the change made after the train had started.

Close at hand, while the conversation was going on between the American and the Chinaman, stood a woman passenger guarding two suit cases and a grip that had been left in her care by her husband while he went to look after the tickets with the conductor a couple of car lengths away. At the end of the conversation she was evidently of the same opinion as the well-dressed business man, for she picked up the three traveling cases and moved several feet farther away from the Chinaman, who stood as immovable as a statue.

Homestead Man Goes to Canton.

John McConnell of Homestead, general manager of the open hearth department of the Jones & Laughlin Company's plant on the South Side, has been appointed general manager of the United States Steel Company of Canton, O., and will leave for Canton next Monday. Mr. McConnell is a brother of Norris McConnell, who recently left the Duquesne works of the Carnegie Steel Company, and who has been elected president of the Passaic Rolling Mill Company at Passaic, N. J. The two came from Scotland [illegible] years ago, when the first open hearth furnaces were erected at Homestead. Mr. McConnell made a success with the new Talbot furnaces of the Jones & Laughlin Company at their American Iron and Steel works.

Mr. Fairbanks in Pittsburgh.

Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks was in Pittsburgh early yesterday morning, but unless the shifting of the private car in which he was traveling awakened him, he did not know of having been in Pittsburgh until a few hours later. The vice president occupied the private Pullman car "Rocket," attached to a section of train No. 21 yesterday morning, coming in on the Pennsylvania from West Chester, Pa., where he had delivered an address, and going to Indianapolis, where, presumably, he will spend some time at his home before returning to Washington.

Prominent Harriman Officer Here.

J. C. Stubbs, vice president of the Southern Pacific and a traffic director of the gigantic Harriman system of railroads in the west, spent several hours in Pittsburgh yesterday in conference with prominent manufacturers and railroad men, and also with General Agent George G. Herring, who represents the system's traffic department here. He occupied the private car "Sunset," of the Southern Pacific, and went to New York on Pennsylvania train No. 16. His office as vice president of the Southern Pacific is in New York, while his office as traffic director of the Harriman lines is in Chicago.

St. Paul Minister Visits Pittsburgh.

The Rev. A. Overton Tarrant, Ph. D., rector of the Church of the Messiah, Protestant Episcopal, in St. Paul, Minn., is spending a couple of days of his vacation in Pittsburgh. "There is no significance whatever to my visit here," he said. "It is simply a portion of my holiday, which I am spending in the east. I wanted to see something of the Pittsburgh of which so much is heard everywhere." The Rev. Dr. Tarrant will visit some of the mills and other places of interest during his stay. He is registered at the Hotel Antler.

He Tells Some Fish Stories.

Police Inspector Werner returned last evening from Lake Chautauqua, where he spent two weeks of his vacation. The inspector acknowledges that he gained 10 pounds. He also said he had done some fishing and had caught one fish weighing 32 pounds and 31 inches in length. He exhibited a wonderful increase in the biceps of his right arm, which he credited to pulling the large fish out of the water.

Death List Enough.

Pittsburgh has had 21 victims of fenderless street cars so far this year, and there is a public clamor for fenders. The death list is apparently large enough to warrant them without necessity for public clamor.—Wheeling Intelligencer.

ETNA FIREMEN RESIGN IN BODY

Borough Will Have to Be Entirely Rerated by the Insurance Underwriters.

COUNCIL'S EXCITING SESSION

Stand 'em on their head,
Stand 'em on their feet,
Etna firemen can't be beat.

To the accompaniment of tin horns, cowbells and catcalls 300 men and boys of Etna surrounded the borough building hooting the councilmen and cheering the firemen, who had gathered in a body to tender their resignations rather than submit to the orders of council, with this doggerel verse. The pandemonium surpassed anything ever heard in the quiet borough before. The cries of the mob filled the council chamber and drove the members of that body almost to distraction. After the quiet had been restored on the street by the police the disorder spread to the council chamber, and in the debate following the presentation of the fire company's resignation fists were shaken, voices raised in anger and denunciation and the wildest scene ever known in the history of the council ensued.

Denunciations flew like wildfire and the majority of the councilmen strived hard to plead their innocence of any injury done to the firemen. President of Council W. B. Kroesen only succeeded in restoring order by stopping all debate, after which the resignation was accepted on the motion of Councilmen Alex Wally.

Etna now faces the serious situation of having the borough rerated by the board of fire underwriters of Allegheny county, as being devoid of fire protection. In a letter addressed to President W. B. Kroesen, but circulated among the councilmen and officials of the borough, Fire Marshal W. D. McGill stated that he would be obliged to do this unless the present company was retained.

After considerable routine business had been transacted Chairman Deithrich then presented to council as chairman of the fire and property committee the following resignation of the firemen:

> For the last several years we, as members of the volunteer fire company, have sought by faithful discharge of duties to meet the good will of the people of Etna. That we have not failed is evidenced by the high favor in which the department is held. Recently certain rumors have been circulating, affecting the repute of the fire department. Your honorable body, without giving the members of the department an opportunity to be heard, and without an investigation of the rumors, and without any effort to ascertain the truth or falsehood thereof, took certain action which in our judgment renders our continuance in the service impracticable. Any investigation your honorable body might have thought proper to make would have disclosed all such rumors as malicious and unfounded, and would have further disclosed that the single purpose of the department has been to protect public and private property and to give to the people of Etna a vigorous and efficient fire department. We therefore hereby notify you that on and after Monday, the 18th day of September next, we will cease to act under direction of your honorable body as members of the fire department.

The resignation was signed by the entire membership of the company. The action of council referred to in the resignation was the resolution passed unanimously at the regular meeting of August ordering the firemen to remove the pool table and all their other belongings from the borough building. The firemen removed their belongings to new quarters on Thursday and are now established as a chartered fire company independent of the borough officials.

LANG THINKS SOME CITY EMPLOYES TOO WELL PAID

Allegheny Councilman Suggests Board for Revision of Salaries Be Appointed to Act.

Councilman Edward G. Lang of the Eleventh ward enlivened a meeting of the finance committee of Allegheny councils last night by suggesting that the committee advise councils to have appointed a board of salary revision to affect all city employes.

"There are a whole lot of men on the city payrolls who are getting more money than they earn," said Mr. Lang. "I think it would be a good thing to have a board or committee appointed to investigate this matter and report back to councils."

"I have been in councils a good many years," remarked Thomas McHenry, "and I think every year some good man makes the same suggestion, but I have never seen the plan carried out."

"The same thing has been attempted time and again," said John C. Oliver, "and councils always found it impossible to get the desired data from the heads of the departments. I favor such a thing myself, but I guess it would be useless to start it."

This seemed to nonplus Mr. Lang, and when it was suggested that he make a resolution that such a board be appointed he sat down.

CANDIDATES MUST PAY TODAY

In Order to Enter Republican Primaries Aspirants Will Have to Post $500 With Ford.

This is the last day for paying the assessment required by the rules from candidates entering the Republican primaries. Those who have not deposited $500 with Chairman T. J. Ford by this evening cannot submit their names to the Republican voters of the county on Saturday.

The prospective candidates who have not put up their money are Harvey A. Lowry for recorder, A. S. Miller and Robert C. Routh for register, Fred Goettmann for commissioner and W. E. Newlin for controller. Robert K. Cochrane of Allegheny, who is a candidate for recorder, yesterday handed Chairman Ford his $500.

Newlin, who announced his candidacy for controller on the last day, was yesterday in doubt about posting his money. He says he will not pay unless he is given a clear field for the nomination. This would necessitate the retirement of Frank P. Booth, who has put up his money. There has always been considerable doubt about Newlin being a bona fide candidate.

The tickets for the primaries cannot be printed until tomorrow and this will cause Chairman Ford to do considerable hustling to get everything in readiness for the opening of the polls at 2 o'clock on Saturday afternoon. He says he has his plans perfected and is confident that all of the printing necessary will be delivered at the 621 polling places in the county on time.

The Citizens will make an attempt tomorrow afternoon to fill the three vacancies on the fusion ticket. The committee on vacancies, consisting of Mayor Hays, Director McIlvain, Max Blumenthal, Treasurer Collingwood and S. D. Snee, will meet at headquarters. It has to select candidates for commissioner, prothonotary and director of the poor. The selections will then have to be confirmed by the Democratic committee. It is probable final action will not be taken until next week.

DEFIES ORDERS AND LOSES JOB

Allegheny City Employe Refuses to Pay Political Assessment and Is Dropped.

LEVY CAUSES MUCH HARDSHIP

Because he refused to pay the second 2 per cent assessment levied by the Allegheny administration for political purposes, or some other purpose not made public, Peter Durkin has been dismissed from his position at the Montrose pumping station. Durkin was an oiler and has a family to keep. The yellow book was handed to him but he refused to sign it. Then, when he was paid last week for his services during the month of August, he was asked for 2 per cent of the money. This he refused to give up, saying his family needed all his wages.

"I was told," said Durkin, "that I must either pay up or get fired. I said I would never give the Wyman machine another cent of mine to be spent in furthering the political ambitions of the leaders, and I was told to quit. It was no fault of the chief engineer. He had to do what he was told. My certificate for $11 due me was drawn and Controller Brown gave me a warrant for the money. I haven't got work yet, but a willing man can always get a job, and I won't get one where I'll have to divide my earnings with politicians."

So far as is known Durkin is the first sacrifice to disobedience of the orders of the Allegheny bosses. His job is a humble one and his wages small. His family needed the money, but this is not considered by the machine leaders. The order has gone out that those who refuse to contribute will be discharged no matter what position they hold.

Not more than half the money pledged by the payroll has so far been collected. The customary meek submission manifested on past occasions is not being shown, and the administration is discovering a recalcitrant spirit that is causing anger in city hall. This unusual display of unwillingness to split their wages with the administration machine brought out the mandate that all who refuse must go. Agents have been sent out to the pumping stations, police stations and fire engine houses to bring back the money still unpaid. One per cent from every employe must be handed over this week and the other 1 per cent comes out of the September wages. An Allegheny business man, who has large acquaintance with city employes, said yesterday:

"Frequently men in the employ of the city come to me to have their warrants cashed, and from them I have heard of the hardship and suffering this political assessment is causing. Only the other day a policeman came to me and said he positively could not afford to pay the assessment. 'What shall I do about it,' he said. 'Go and pay like the rest of them,' I told him, 'for you know you've got a long winter staring you in the face and your family can't live if you don't work.' He took my advice and gave up the money, although the sacrifice will be felt keenly by the man's family.

"Unless a man talks with the men on the city payrolls he can have no idea what a shameful thing this assessment is. I don't go in for politics much myself, but I feel sure that this last assessment will do the city hall crowd more harm than good. They will get the money but they are getting besides the bitter enmity of the city employes. If the machine gets the money and the other side gets the votes, I don't see what good the assessment will do them."

A LETTER TO OUR READERS.

53 Cottage St., Melrose, Mass.
Dear Sir— Jan. 11th, 1904.

"Ever since I was in the army I had more or less kidney trouble, and within the past year it became so severe and complicated that I suffered everything and was much alarmed—my strength and power was fast leaving me. I saw an advertisement of Swamp-Root and wrote asking for advice. I began the use of the medicine and noted a decided improvement after taking Swamp-Root only a short time.

"I continued its use and am thankful to say that I am entirely cured and strong. In order to be very sure about this I had a doctor examine some of my water today and he pronounced it all right and in splendid condition.

"I know that your Swamp-Root is purely vegetable and does not contain any harmful drugs. Thanking you for my complete recovery and recommending Swamp-Root to all sufferers I am very truly yours,

"I. C. RICHARDSON."

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, sent absolutely free by mail, also a book telling all about Swamp-Root. If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need, you can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at the drug stores everywhere. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

COUNCILMAN SAYS HE WAS INSULTED

COUNCIL PROTECTS FRICK

"I hereby charge William Brand with insulting me. He said I was not a gentleman, which I know is not true."

The above statement, in writing, was filed last night with President Ward, of common council, by Councilman John Maslowski, of the Twenty-seventh ward, while Mr. Maslowski was smarting from a remark dropped in debate by Councilman Brand of the Seventeenth ward.

An attempt was made to take $1,000 from the appropriations for boardwalks and steps from the Thirty-seventh ward and give it to the Twenty-seventh ward. Mr. Maslowski was in favor of the transfer because it was for the benefit of his ward. Mr. Brand opposed the transfer and asked D. J. Bole, chairman of the finance committee, if the appropriation had been made for the Thirty-second ward when the annual appropriations were prepared by the committee.

Mr. Maslowski interrupted and Mr. Brand protested against the interruption with the remark: "When I am asking a question I always address a gentleman. I don't want an outsider to answer."

"Mr. president, I am insulted. I'm a gentlemen. We are all gentlemen here," declared Maslowski. "You are out of order," replied President Ward. The Twenty-seventh ward member again tried to tell the president that he had been insulted but failed to get a hearing.

Some of his friends gathered about him and gave him advice. Maslowski, a few minutes later, walked up to the president's desk and laid down the written statement formally charging Mr. Brand with insulting him and asserting that there was no basis for Brand's insinuation. President Ward refused to consider the matter and the money was allowed to remain to the credit of the Thirty-second ward.

Call It Spitework.

"This is only spitework on the part of people who live in the Morningside district because I objected to the Eighteenth ward engine house being placed in the Morningside district and had it located in the other end of the ward, in Stanton avenue," said Councilman A. M. Barr of the Eighteenth ward when a remonstrance was presented against the proposed vacation of a portion of Morningside avenue, which Mr. Barr advocated.

The proposed vacation covers that part of Morningside avenue lying between Butler street and the Allegheny Valley railroad, on both sides of which the property is owned by Joseph Nickel and to whom the street will revert if vacated. The portion of the street to be vacated is 60 feet wide and about 91 feet long.

The ordinance was passed with but one dissenting vote, that of A. G. Roenigk, who said that if the street was vacated the city could not lay a sewer at that point without paying the property owners.

The ordinance re-establishing the grade of Second avenue between Allegheny street and the city line Twenty-third ward which was held up at the previous meeting by the votes of members who claimed they had been refused free transportation by the Baltimore & Ohio railroad was taken from the desk and passed by a unanimous vote. A companion measure to it, the ordinance for the relocation of Second avenue from Allegheny street to the city line, was reported out of the surveys committee and also passed. By the relocation of Second avenue between these points the tracks of the Baltimore & Ohio road are shifted outside of Second avenue and placed along the river bank while the course of Second avenue is changed to run along the side of the hill.

Second Avenue Widened.

The relocation of another portion of Second avenue, that part between Ross street and the South Tenth street bridge, was also passed. This bill widens Second avenue between Ross and Try streets from 40 to 60 feet, and between Try street and the South Tenth street bridge from 50 to 60 feet, making a uniform width along the thoroughfare of 60 feet.

H. C. Frick found a friend in common council. The body refused to approve the two bills for the opening and the grading, paving and curbing of Fillmore street, from Dithridge street to Bellefield avenue, Fourteenth ward. Both measures were indefinitely postponed. Mr. Frick owns the property on both sides of Fillmore street, between Dithridge and Bellefield, and the improvement would have been at his expense, and it is said to have been asked for by property owners residing at the other end of Fillmore street between Dithridge and Neville, which is the eastern terminus.

Councilman Johns claimed this was unjust to Mr. Frick because it was asked to have Mr. Frick's portion of the street improved and to leave the balance of the thoroughfare unimproved. Mr. Johns said a new ordinance for the improvement of the entire street from Neville street to Bellefield avenue, would probably be introduced in councils.

The Aspinwall annexation ordinance was approved without a dissenting vote, and council passed the ordinance refunding $1,016.20 to the Western Union Company for taxes collected under the linear tax law declared unconstitutional by the supreme court.

Mellon Wants Damages.

The repairs to the Shingis street sewer, which caused destruction to the milk and ice cream of Councilman Peter Hermes, will cost the city $10,266.80. A bill for the amount was rendered the city by Contractor James H. McQuade, and a resolution to pay him was introduced in council. He has been paid $354.82, leaving an unpaid balance of $9,911.98.

W. L. Mellon asks the city to pay him $25 for damage to his carriage on December 2, 1904, by engine No. 11. The controller refused to pay the bill without authority of councils.

An ordinance was introduced to retire bonds of the separate indebtedness of Elliott borough, amounting to $62,000.

Select council failed to obtain a quorum yesterday and did not transact any business. Only 10 members responded to the roll call.

Her Speech Returns Suddenly.

After being unable to speak for 19 months, during the greater part of which time she was also paralyzed in both arms and unable to lift her head, Miss Mary Allhouse, living in the rear of No. 1018 South avenue, Wilkinsburg, has suddenly recovered her speech and the use of her arms. Miss Allhouse has suffered for many years from nervousness, and about four years ago her spine was injured in a fall. Since then she has been confined to her bed.

ACOUSTICON AIDS THE DEAF IN HEARING RELIGIOUS SERVICES

For the first time in their lives the deaf on Sunday heard the sermon and the music in the Fourth Avenue Baptist church. An experiment was made with the acousticon, which may be installed in that church for the benefit of the members of the deaf department and for the aged who are hard of hearing.

The Fourth Avenue Baptist church is not the first to consider the acousticon, which has already been installed in at least 25 churches in this country, the majority of them west of Pittsburgh. During the past summer the acousticon was in use at the summer institute in Northfield, Mass., at the Ocean Grove camp grounds, and is now installed in churches in Chicago, Denver and New York. Just before the close of the theatrical season it was placed in the Nixon theater in this city.

The Fourth Avenue Baptist church, which annually appropriates several hundred dollars to the distinctive work of the deaf department, employs Miss Shrom, formerly of the Western Pennsylvania Institution for the Deaf and Dumb in Edgewood, as the interpreter for the deaf mutes, who occupy seats near the pulpit platform during the morning and evening church services.

Last Sunday the experiment with the acousticon was made during the morning service and was successful, several who have never heard the music nor any portion of the church services, hearing and following with wonder and delight each feature of the program. The acousticon, which was invented by R. H. Hutchison, consists of a receiving instrument, which is placed out of sight upon the pulpit desk, yet where it will receive the impressions of the speaker's voice as he addresses his congregation. From the receiving instrument, to which is also attached a powerful battery, run wires to the different pews. This ear piece is fashioned of hardened rubber like the receiver of a telephone, and is in the form of a small Japanese fan, which is simply laid against the ear. The principle of the acousticon is to magnify the volume of sound, and so successful has it been that some who have never heard and others who have not heard for almost half a century have listened to music and to a sermon often for the first time in their lives.

The Death Roll.

Lieut. Robert Paul.

Lieut. Robert Paul, an old resident of Pittsburgh, died yesterday at 12:45 at his home, 209 Erny street, Bon Air. He was born in Coirain, Ireland, in 1840. His parents came to this country when he was a boy, moving to Allegheny, where he lived until the war broke out. He enlisted in Company A, Thirteenth regiment, on April 25, 1861, for 90 days, was discharged, and later assisted Capt. Robert B. Hampton to recruit Battery G, Pennsylvania light artillery. He was mustered in as an orderly sergeant on October 8, 1861, participating in every battle the battery was engaged in. He was promoted to first lieutenant and resigned on January 3, 1865. He was a member of U. V. L. and G. A. R. Lieut. Paul was engaged in the lumber business for 25 years, when he retired. He was twice married, having buried his first wife. His second wife, who survives him, is Mary M. Paul nee Goldner. The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and will be attended by members of the U. V. L., Hampton Battery and Lawrence Castle No. 26, K. of P.

Robert Bruce Fraser.

Robert Bruce Fraser, aged 73, of 634 Collins avenue, died yesterday at the East End hospital following an operation. Mr. Fraser was born in Scotland and came to Pittsburgh in 1844. He was a clerk in the Mellon National bank for 15 years. During the Civil war he served with the Fourth Pennsylvania cavalry and was a member of McPherson Post 117, G. A. R. He was a member of Duquesne commandery No. 576, of the Knights of Honor, and of the Highland Avenue Presbyterian church. He leaves his widow, Mary E.; one daughter, Margaret P., and two sons, Alexander C. and Charles G. Fraser. He also leaves a brother, John D. Fraser, of this city and three sisters, Mrs. Margaret Given and Misses Agnes and Anna Fraser.

Mrs. Elizabeth Roos.

Mrs. Elizabeth Roos, an aged resident of Allegheny, is dead at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Otto Mayer, 1439 Juniata street. She was born in the Fifteenth ward, Allegheny, October 22, 1833, and was the daughter of Michael Thomas. In September, 1857, she was married to Philip Roos, who was in the meat business on the North Side until his death in 1894. Mrs. Roos was a member of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church, Allegheny, and was active in church work until her health failed. She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Annie Mayer, and her sons, Philip E. and Fred T. Roos. Funeral services will be held this afternoon at the Mayer residence at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. William Stewart.

Mrs. Ellen Stewart, aged 56, died yesterday at her home, 4308 Lawrence street, Seventeenth ward. Mrs. Stewart was born in County Derry, Ireland, and came to this country 22 years ago, settling in this city. Her maiden name was Quigley. In 1874 she married William Stewart. Mrs. Stewart was a member of the Forty-third Street Presbyterian church. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at her late home. Her husband, one son, John Stewart, and a brother, John Quigley, of this city, survive.

Funeral of the Rev. J. B. McClay.

Funeral services over the body of the Rev. J. B. McClay, who died Saturday, were held yesterday afternoon in the United Brethren church of Wilkinsburg. The Rev. J. S. Fulton spoke feelingly of the departed minister's labors in and around Pittsburgh. The pallbearers were the Revs. J. M. Lester, J. L. Lichleiter, C. C. C. Miller, I. P. Truxal, L. W. Xtahl and A. L. Funk.

Obituary Notes.

Mrs. Alvira Falls, the aged widow of Wilson Falls, is dead at New Castle, from paralysis. She was born in St. Louis. She was a member of Trinity Episcopal church and is survived by two children.

The funeral of Dr. William L. Phillips, aged 60 years, of Mt. Washington, who died Saturday night, took place yesterday afternoon from the home of E. D. Miller in Uniontown, with interment in Oak Grove cemetery.

John McNulty, for many years a resident of this city, died suddenly Sunday at the residence of his son-in-law, William Smith, 254 Lombard street. He was a member of St. Brigid's church. Eight of his grandchildren will act as pallbearers.

William Witherspoon, aged 21, son of the Rev. J. W. Witherspoon of 1703 Buena Vista street, Allegheny, died yesterday morning. He had been sick for several months and recently returned from a trip to the south, where he had been for his health.

Samuel Wallace, aged 79, a retired farmer of Treveskyn, died yesterday at 4:30 p. m. from old age. He leaves two sons, J. J. Wallace, one of the survivors of the Sheraden disaster, and William Wallace and one daughter, all of Treveskyn. Funeral services will be held from his late residence tomorrow at 1:30 p. m.

MEN ATTACK AGED LADY.

Citizens of Patton Want to Hang Two Criminals for Alleged Assault.

EBENSBURG, PA., Sept. 11.—(Special.)—Charles Mayes, aged 30, and William Edwards, aged 35, familiarly known as "Billy the Bum," were lodged in jail here this morning charged with assaulting Mrs. Catherine Smithbower, 68 years old, the wife of a farmer in Clearfield township near Patton. About 5 o'clock last evening Mrs. Smithbower passed the two men at a schoolhouse. They were resting their horse. Mayes seized the woman, placed his hand over her mouth and told her to keep quiet or she would be killed.

Mrs. Smithbower screamed and Constable Jesse Nagel, whose farm is near, hastened to the rescue of the woman. A lynching was feared, but the men are now in jail. Mrs. Smithbower is in a critical condition.

Will Celebrate Mitchell Day.

SCRANTON, Sept. 11.—Mitchell day, which falls on Sunday this year, will be celebrated in this district on the preceding Saturday, October 28. There will be a big demonstration here to which all the leading officers of the mine workers' union have been invited.

Unconscious in the Street.

Charles Somes, aged 45, was found unconscious last night on Wood street, near Fifth avenue. At the Homeopathic hospital it was said he had an attack of epilepsy. He was kept there all night. His name was found on a book in his pocket, but his address is not known. He has but one leg.

YELLOW FEVER AGAIN IS BECOMING VIRULENT

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 11.—The yellow fever report up to 6 p. m. is as follows: New cases, 38; total to date, 2,327; deaths, none; total, 316; new disease centers, 18; cases under treatment, 300; discharged, 1,711.

The fact that the general mass of the people are not working with the same zeal that marked the earlier stages of the fight is given by the authorities as one of the reasons why yellow fever is not declining as steadily as it was a couple of weeks ago. Appeals are made to the people to arouse themselves from a position of false security.

The situation at Tallulah and Lake Providence is now causing the state board of health more concern than anywhere else in Louisiana. Tallulah has fewer than 1,000 inhabitants, but the fever is generally distributed over it in virulent form, and there is not sufficient scientific help to handle all who are ill. Learning of the conditions there, Dr. Charles Chassaignac, president of the Polyclinic of New Orleans, today volunteered to go to Tallulah to take charge. Dr. John von Ezdorf has also been directed to Tallulah, while the state board today sent three additional nurses to that point.

The disease at St. Rose has been especially malignant, there having been a total of 17 deaths out of 35 cases.

PENSACOLA, FLA., Sept. 11.—An autopsy held on the body of O. H. Wolfburg, Norwegian vice consul, who died suddenly today, showed that he died of malignant yellow fever.

BIG RAIL ORDER PLACED.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 11.—The Pennsylvania Railroad Company today placed orders for 179,000 tons of steel rails for 1906 delivery. This is an increase of 40,000 tons over the last contract.

The orders were distributed among the United States Steel corporation, Pennsylvania Steel Company, the Cambria Iron Company and the Lackawanna Iron and Steel Company.

CHARGE TRUSTEES WITH CORRUPTION

STROUDSBURG, Sept. 11.—The charges of corruption against members of the board of trustees of the East Stroudsburg Normal school assumed definite shape today when warrants were issued for the arrest of Milton Yetter, R. F. Schwarz, George E. Stauffer and B. F. Morey, members of the board. These warrants charge them with violating the act of assembly in furnishing supplies to an institution receiving state aid. Up to tonight only Stauffer had been arrested. He gave bail. It is expected that Yetter and Schwarz will be arrested tomorrow.

P. & A. WILL BE PART OF TELEPHONE SYSTEM

Capitalists Interested in Independent Telephony Will Be Here Tomorrow.

A trip of inspection which is considered preliminary to the amalgamation of the independent telephone companies of the leading cities of the United States is now under way, and the capitalists interested will reach Pittsburgh tomorrow to see the Pittsburgh & Allegheny Telephone Company's plant.

President J. G. Splane of the local company left yesterday for Rochester, N. Y., where he joined the party and with them will inspect today the plant of the Stromberg-Carlson Company, one of the largest concerns manufacturing telephone apparatus.

There are over a dozen members of the party, all being interested in independent telephone companies. In the number are Adolphus Busch, president of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing association of St. Louis; Breckenridge Jones, vice president of the Mississippi Valley Trust Company of St. Louis; Col. W. D. Powers, president of the United States Trust Company of Louisville, Ky., and Joseph J. Heim, a brewer of Kansas City.

The Pittsburgh & Allegheny Telephone Company, which will be visited, is considered one of the best equipped independent companies in the country, with a complete system of conduits and pole lines and a plant second to none. Among those who are actively interested in it are ex-Senator William Flinn, Robert C. Hall, the broker; D. P. Reighard, R. H. Binns, J. M. Clapp, H. B. Beatty, Ralph E. Flinn, Vice President John S. Weller and President J. G. Splane. George R. Webb of Baltimore, one of the founders of the company, still retains an interest, although Pittsburghers own the great majority of the stock.

Select Special Judge.

WASHINGTON, PA., Sept. 11.—(Special.)—Judge R. E. Umbel of Fayette county, a Democrat, has been selected to hear the case in which J. M. Ralston, representing the Washington county Democratic committee, which is opposed to fusion, seeks to have the nomination of J. A. Huffman of Mt. Pleasant township declared null and void.

Hurts Driver and Kills Horse.

James Hutcher, a driver for R. W. McCrea, a lumber dealer of Braddock, while driving a lumber wagon over the Pennsylvania railroad grade crossing at Copeland station yesterday morning, was struck by an eastbound freight train and had his right arm broken and was badly bruised. One of the horses was killed.

FURS WILL SOON BE NEEDED

No distant day till you're again donning furs.

And isn't it a pleasing advantage to know that you'll be in readiness when the time comes?

If you have furs to be repaired or made-over, you will get better service from our shop now than later.

Same advantage also holds good on having new furs made to order. 1905-6 designs are here—also the new skins.

the plaid idea

Plaids always have been pleasing to women, but of late years feminine taste has become so conservative that the clan tartans have been practically abandoned.

Now comes new thought in plaids—superb quiet toned effects without the glare that once seemed so essential.

We show a collection of 18 different styles Austrian Suitings in softened checks and neat plaid effects that for rich inherent beauty have a place for themselves in the realm of Autumn Dress Stuffs.

The general colorings are Brown, Blue, Green, Dahlia, Garnet, etc.

The fine cambric in which they have been brought out gives them a tone that will appeal to people of exclusive taste.

fine french crepe, 50c

Practically a Crepe de Chene—40 inches wide, 50c.

Wool, but some silk in it—rich, soft, clinging.

For Evening Gowns or fine house dresses it's the opportunity of years.

about ladies' suits

The Suit you select should harmonize in color and character with the figure and complexion.

Some say it is essential to consider the characteristics of the individual if supreme success is to be attained.

Some women are dashing, others demure, and most are neither the one or the other, yet possess and impress a distinct personality.

Well, then, if these very different women are all to be garbed according to their individuality, where on earth are they to find sufficient variety of fashionable garments for selection?

Permit us to say that our provision for all has been so lavish that each is assured of abundant satisfaction.

We offer you today a most extraordinary collection of fashionable Suits within a moderate range—$13.50 to $65.00.

At $25.00 and $35.00 there's style and general excellence surpassing the best that's yet been done.

These we hope you will see.

dress linings

Now that it's coming cooler weather there'll be increased demand for Dress Linings.

Preparations have been going on all through the Summer to complete fully the details of the Dress Lining business—to be so thoroughly prepared as to retain and increase the department's already large business.

This is to be done by larger assortments and less prices—and choice goods.

A test will be a proof—a test by comparison.

Percaline, Silesia, Mercerized Satines, Lining Silks, Silk-faced Serge and Satin Coat Linings—Elastic and Tailor's Canvas, etc.

All the sample shades and newest fashionable shades.

Special offerings for those who come to investigate the lining proposition—and others—50 pieces fine Lining Satine—40 inches wide, 15c a yard—no Black or White—but a fine range of colors.

An immediate chance to save 10c on every yard of Lining Satine you may need at present.

RAINY WEATHER GREETS VISITORS AT FRANKLIN

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

FRANKLIN, PA., Sept. 11.—Franklin had wet and disagreeable weather for the second day of its old home week and county centennial today. "Those fellows from the dry spots of Arizona and California will appreciate it anyway," said Chairman Borland tonight, trying to be cheerful. Old timers representing many states met in the courthouse this afternoon and listened to an address of welcome by Mayor John W. Robertson.

The mayor told them that the value of Franklin's products annually is $30,000,000. The response was made by R. R. McDowell of Cleveland, O. Other former residents spoke. It was discovered today that the decorators of the city building unintentionally put a "Welcome" sign over the entrance to the police station and it is suggested that that may account for the unusually large number of prisoners who will spend the old home week in the lockup.

The county centennial feature will begin on Tuesday and an interesting program has been prepared. Much interest is being manifested in the reunion on Friday of the former pupils of Miss Anne Walker, who has been teaching in the public schools for 38 years. Miss Walker today received a letter from a former pupil, now in Washington, who sent her a check for $100.

ARE GIVING ATTENTION TO THE RELIEF WORK

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

UNIONTOWN PA., Sept. 11.—Now that the bodies of nearly all the 18 victims of the Rand powder explosion at Fairchance have been buried more attention is being given to the work of relief. Samuel Rand, general manager of the Rand Powder Company and brother of the injured superintendent, arrived this morning from Tennessee and went at once to Fairchance. He visited the families of the killed and injured, personally extending his sympathy. He also arranged to send to their former homes at Pittsford, N. Y., the families of Charles Bartlett and Charles Ellifritz, who were killed in the explosion.

The finance committee in Uniontown reports that subscriptions to the amount of $4,000 have been received to the relief fund, which includes $1,000 from the Rand Powder Company for immediate relief and $400 from the Hotelkeepers' association. Frank M. Semans is chairman of the finance committee. The relief committee has visited the grounds each day since the explosion and looked after all cases it could find. On the first day 18 families were given orders on stores.

The heavy rain of last night and today increased the suffering, as many homes were wrecked. The relief committee consists of A. B. Hutchinson, agent for the Pennsylvania railroad at Fairchance; George F. Titlow, Springer Todd and C. W. Weltner of Uniontown. A committee has also been appointed at Fairchance to work under the supervision of Mr. Hutchinson. The injured superintendent, C. M. Rand, was reported this afternoon as being much improved. As soon as he heard the first explosion Mr. Rand warned Clyde Wood, his stenographer, and they started to leave, but had gone only a short distance when the second explosion occurred and shattered the office building.

The next Mr. Rand knew he was lying 30 feet from where the office had stood and part of the timbers of the building were on him. Mr. Rand was bruised about the top of the head and had a gash under his left eye, but will not lose his sight as has been reported.

WIDOW OUTWITS FARMER.

Steubenville Man Files Suit Against Woman Who He Alleges Promised to Be His Wife.

STEUBENVILLE, O., Sept. 11.—(Special.)—Alleging he was the victim of a clever game, Joseph Makinson, a widower and prominent farmer of this county, has filed a sensational suit against Mildred Horton, a widow of Newark, O., and he asks that she be arrested on the charge of obtaining money under false pretense. Makinson advertised for a wife and Mrs. Horton appeared.

After promising to marry him, she left, taking with her, it is alleged, $150 of Makinson's money. Makinson followed her to Newark and attached some goods she had stored there, but it is alleged she had him release the attachment and promised to marry him again. Makinson returned home and patiently waited but the widow did not return, and he now wants her arrested.

Issue Warrants for Saloonists.

SCRANTON, Sept. 11.—The State Anti-Saloon league has issued warrants for more than 200 saloonkeepers in this county, who, it is claimed, have been guilty of selling on Sunday. Forty detectives have been getting evidence. Hearings were to have been started today, but were continued on motion of the accused.

Looks for Leak With Torch; Finds It.

WASHINGTON, PA., Sept. 11.—(Special.)—While searching for a gas leak at the residence of the Rev. S. L. Parcell a plumber ignited the escaping gas with an open torch. An explosion occurred and the building was set on fire. The blaze was put out before much damage had been done.

Old Mail Carrier Passes Away.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Sept. 11.—(Special.)—William McClusky, aged 93 years, who is dead at the home of his daughter, Mrs. James K. Rowland, of Mahoning township, was the oldest mail carrier in the county. He was a Republican and a member of the Presbyterian church.

Wife Ill, Pastor Tenders Resignation.

SHARON, PA., Sept. 11.—(Special.)—On account of the critical illness of his wife the Rev Thomas Morgan has tendered his resignation as pastor of the First Congregational church. Mr. Morgan went to Wales last May to bring his wife to Sharon when she became ill.

Will Hear Swensson Claim.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 11.—The Dauphin county court has fixed next Friday for a hearing on the objections brought by ex-Congressman Bowden of Allentown to the fees charged by Emil Swensson of Pittsburgh, as engineer of construction of the state bridge across the Lehigh river at Allentown.

Kittanning Installs Fire Alarm System.

KITTANNING, PA., Sept. 11.—(Special.)—The council has just installed the Gamewell fire alarm system and re-enacted the curfew ordinance. All children under 16 years of age must be off the street by 9 o'clock at night.

PROMINENT FARMER SERIOUSLY INJURED

UNIONTOWN, PA., Sept. 11.—Special.)—Moses N. Clark, one of the best-known farmers of Westmoreland county, was probably fatally injured this afternoon. While helping to unload a car of lumber on the Manor Valley railroad near his home he fell, a heavy plank striking him on the head. He sustained concussion of the brain and tonight had not regained consciousness. Mr. Clark is a member of the state board of agriculture, a trustee of State college, and a director of the Westmoreland Agricultural society.

Stab Bystanders in a Fight.

The conference accepted the report of the temperance committee which comments on the failure of the Subway tavern in New York, as follows: "Your committee emphatically condemned the action of Bishop Henry C. Potter of the Protestant Episcopal church, in dedicating the Subway saloon in New York City, but notwithstanding the benediction on it by so noted a divine, it has failed in its purpose." A resolution of sympathy for the victims of the Fairchance explosion was adopted.

The conference changed the name of the church at Braddock to Rankin. The new mission at Monongahela was attached to the Springdale pastorate.

Relents and Remembers Daughter.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 11.—(Special.)—The will of the late Thomas H. Wells was filed in probate court this morning disposing of the estate of about $2,000,000. His youngest daughter, Mrs. Grace Seigfried, married against his wishes and he had declared that he would cut her out entirely. He relented and made a provision that she should have her share of the estate only after 15 years had elapsed instead of after 10, as provided for the other children.

Will Start New Industry.

OIL CITY, PA., Sept. 11.—S. R. Dresser & Co., of Bradford, have secured a lease of the plant of the National Tube Company here, which had been dismantled, and will at once commence the manufacture of oil well couplings. About 100 men will be employed.

Early Morning Wedding.

UNIONTOWN, PA., Sept. 11.—(Special.)—The wedding of Dr. A. T. O'Neil of Carbondale, Pa., and Miss Carrie May Brown of this city, took place at 6:30 o'clock this morning at the rectory of St. John's Catholic church in Uniontown, the Rev. B. F. Kenna officiating.

Liquor Dealers Sell Beer Cheap.

SHARON, PA., Sept. 11.—(Special.)—Wholesale liquor dealers in South Sharon, Sharpsville and Sharon are having a cut rate beer war and consumers are profiting thereby. The cutting was started in South Sharon and was followed by the other dealers, so that beer is now being purchased at cost. One well-known dealer said that before peace is restored consumers will be buying beer at $2 a barrel.

Vicious Cow Attacks Woman.

GREENSBURG, PA., Sept. 11.—(Special.)—Mrs. William Baker, living on the Elder farm, near New Alexandria, was probably fatally gored by a vicious cow Saturday afternoon. While crossing a field the cow which was at pasture, attacked her. The woman was gored about the head and shoulders. S. M. Steel, a neighbor, rescued her. She was brought to the Westmoreland hospital.

Floats Down River in a Wagon.

BLAIRSVILLE, PA., Sept. 11.—(Special.)—As George Geary, a driver, was driving his team into the Conemaugh river to dump some offal this evening, the wagon was upset and he floated three miles down river on the wagon bed before he succeeded in reaching the shore at a sharp bend in the stream. The horses were rescued and the wagon was but slightly damaged.

Endeavors to Beat Shell Game.

NEW BRIGHTON, PA., Sept. 11.—(Special.)—Constable W. H. Fetter today recovered $500 which a New Brighton man lost at a shell game run by two men when a circus was here last week. The shell game was operated in the side show. The New Brighton man thought he could beat it and went to the bank, drew $500 and returned to the show grounds where he lost the money within a few minutes.

The Safe and Helpful Beverage—

GOOD beer helps the stomach to perform its offices. It aids the digestion. The percentage of alcohol in good beer is very small. GOOD beer—Wiener—quenches the thirst and refreshes instantly and naturally. Athletes drink Wiener beer when in training. They know that it is good for them.

BLATZ WIENER BEER

The absolute wholesomeness of Blatz Beers is predetermined by the Blatz Method, months before it comes to you. Pure, sparkling water—hops—barley malt—brewed and matured in the good Blatz way. The ideal home beverage.

HISTORIC ROAD BRINGS $75,000

The Pennsylvania Buys the Railway Strip in Twenty-First Street, South Side.

TRAFFIC MANAGER IVES HERE

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has just come into possession, by purchase at $75,000, of an interesting little piece of railroad property on the South Side. It is the railroad line that runs in Twenty-first street from the Monongahela division connection to the point where it curves westwardly along the tracks of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, near the Monongahela river bank. The road is the only connection that the Pennsylvania has directly with the mills and shipping concerns along the Monongahela river between Twenty-first street and the big terminal warehouse that is being built a short distance above the Panhandle bridge.

The interest attaching to the property bought, which consists of a strip 20 feet wide in the center of Twenty-first street for a distance of 2,414 feet from above Mary street to the Monongahela river, lies in the early history of the ground. When Ormsby borough was laid out the owners of the property were interested in a coal mine in the hills back from the South Side, and to accommodate their needs in getting the coal from the mine to the river bank for shipment, a strip of 20 feet was kept for a coal road track in Twenty-first street. It was used in this manner for many years and was one of the picturesque things about Ormsby back almost a half century ago. Along the old track the horses and mules pulled the cars, and later a block and tackle arrangement was installed.

About 15 years ago the narrow strip of property was noted to be of value for more than the dying little coal road with its wooden rail, and the late Henry W. Oliver saw in the strip an outlet for the Oliver steel mill products to the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad. Accordingly the Pittsburgh & White Hall Railroad Company was formed. This company secured a lease on 12 feet of the 20-foot strip, and on it a standard gauge road was built. The coal road retained use of eight feet for its tracks. As soon as this was done the new road was leased to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's service through operations on the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston road, now the Monongahela division of the Pennsylvania. The Pennsylvania held the easement of the property until a few days ago when the purchase of the entire strip in Twenty-first street was made at $75,000. It was a good price to pay for the property, but the necessity for purchasing the line was seen in its being a connecting link from the Monongahela division at Twenty-seventh street, to the factories and mills below Twenty-first street. The little branch also has connection with the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie in that district.

Wabash Traffic Manager Here.

D. O. Ives of St. Louis, general traffic manager of the Wabash system, is spending a couple of days in this district acquainting himself with the conditions of the Wabash lines here and associating with the shippers. "Gen." H. J. Booth, general freight agent of the lines east of Toledo, of Cleveland, is also here. Yesterday the two officers accompanied Vice President B. A. Worthington in an inspection of the West Side Belt road and the proposed connections with the steel interests at Homestead and Clairton. Today Messrs. Ives and Booth will confer with some of the industrial people and shippers in this city.

Mr. Ives expresses himself as well pleased with his first inspection of the Pittsburgh terminal line, and says that the road will soon be well conditioned for handling an immense tonnage. The traffic already hauled is gratifying, but, of course, is nothing to what is expected with the opening of branches to the manufacturing industries of the Monongahela and Allegheny valleys. He says freight traffic is on the increase and that this fall will witness the heaviest traffic in the history of the country. Cars are scarce, but the roads are in better shape than in former years.

Wabash Transfer Order's Significance.

The order for the transfer of a large number of the Wabash road men, including conductors, trainmen, enginemen and firemen, from Pittsburgh to Columbia, near Massillon, as headquarters, which was mentioned in The Gazette yesterday morning, bids fair to become troublesome. The main issue is the giving of seniority to the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad crews, or those who were on the Wheeling & Lake Erie at the time the line into Pittsburgh was opened, and a large number of conductors and trainmen were given service from this end of the line to Toledo. These men were formerly in the employ of the other Pittsburgh roads, and in their positions on those roads they stepped from positions that would have given them seniority over other men into new positions on the Wabash-Pittsburgh Terminal railway, where their seniority dated from their taking service. It is now desired to give seniority to the conductors and trainmen of the Wheeling & Lake Erie over the men who joined the Wabash ranks here, and the Pittsburgh Wabash men are far from inclined to accept this. Wabash officers disclaim knowledge of a rupture, but it is known to exist.

Traffic Managers Go to Chicago.

To attend the semi-annual meeting of traffic managers of the companies subsidiary to the United States Steel Corporation a party of Pittsburghers occupied a special car on the night train of the Wabash to Chicago last evening. Although meetings are held monthly by these officers, there are two semi-annual meetings which are longer and afford more opportunities for thorough work. These meetings will be held today and tomorrow in Chicago. There are also some social features in connection with the trip, and ladies accompanied the party. The roster included L. C. Bihler and Miss Bihler, J. F. Townsend and Mrs. Townsend, C. S. Belsterling and Mrs. Belsterling, A. F. Mack and Mrs. Mack, A. G. Young and Mrs. Young, F. A. Ogden and Mrs. Ogden, A. L. Ralston and Mrs. Ralston, J. P. Magill and Mrs. Magill, W. O. Davis and Mrs. Davis, J. M. Belleville, A. P. Oxtoby and Mrs. Oxtoby, J. A. Coakley, D. N. Bates and Col. W. D. Holliday, assistant general freight agent of the Wabash.

Col. Zeigler Addresses the Agents.

Col. E. E. Zeigler, freight agent of the Pennsylvania railroad at Duquesne freight station in Pittsburgh, was the principal speaker at the monthly meeting of the Order of Railroad Agents of the Pittsburgh division of the Pennsylvania railroad at Greensburg on Sunday afternoon. The meeting was a large and interesting one, and the agents took an active interest in the subject. This was "Delivery of Freight and Obtaining Receipts for Same." Col. Zeigler, who is one of the veteran traffic men of the Pennsylvania, spoke at some length on the subject in a manner that was interesting and beneficial to all because of his long tenure in the freight department. These meetings are becoming more valuable and attractive each month. The agents do not like the meeting on a Sunday, but, owing to their heavy duties through the week, it is impossible to hold the sessions on any other day.

Fighting Forged Pay Checks.

To avoid a repetition of the forgeries that have been unearthed in the roll of the Baltimore & Ohio system, particularly several cases that were found on the southwestern portion of the system, the company is making use of checks of blue, heavy waterline paper in its issue for the August payroll. The old checks were white. In consequence of the forgeries that were made with the old check paper, many of the banks that had handled the checks refused to have anything to do with them in the future, and this has resulted in a change to a safety paper for the check.

Young Man Promoted on Lake Erie.

C. A. Steck, who has been stenographer to Col. J. M. Schoonmaker, vice president and general manager of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, has been appointed car tracer of the Lake Erie lines, with headquarters in Pittsburgh. Mr. Steck entered on his new duties last Friday. He has been with the Lake Erie for the past two years, prior to that time having been in the service of the Pennsylvania railroad.

Railroad Notes.

Robert E. McCarty of Columbus, general superintendent of the Panhandle, conferred with general officers of the Pennsylvania lines.

W. M. Bonar, auditor of the Wabash lines east of Toledo, will go to St. Louis tonight to confer with E. B. Pryor, assistant to the president, on matters pertaining to his department.

H. L. H. Blair, assistant to the general manager of the Pennsylvania lines west, returned yesterday from his vacation jaunt to Canada with Mrs. Blair and a party of Sewickleyites.

The Philadelphia Company is replacing its old line under the tracks of the Monongahela division of the Pennsylvania at Elben with the latest approved piping, and is extending the casing to clear the tracks in the new yards at Shire Oaks.

W. E. Whitemore, commercial agent of the Seaboard Dispatch, made calls on his Pennsylvania railroad friends at East Pittsburgh and Wilmerding yesterday, incidentally looking into the big shipping interests there. He is well known to all of the agents of the Pennsylvania from his long service in the traffic department of that road.

Traveling Passenger Agent Harry C. Young of the Rock Island-Frisco system, and District Passenger Agent James K. Dillon of the Pennsylvania lines, returned Sunday with a special train bearing Post 88, G. A. R., of Allegheny, from the trip to Denver. The veterans and their friends in the party were loud in their praises of the service of the roads and the courteous attentions of Messrs. Dillon and Young.

Clearance Sale of Fine Furniture Begins This Morning

Reduced Prices on All Odd Pieces and Discontinued Patterns

This morning (Tuesday) begins this store's semi-annual clearance sale of all odd pieces and discontinued patterns. The variety of goods involved is particularly large this time—in fact, there's greater variety than ever before—so choosing is as easy as the unusual values are numerous. And every article is up to this store's characteristic high standard. Whatever you select here is correct in taste and perfect in construction.

The original price and the reduced price are plainly marked on each piece.

This advertisement does not include Office Furniture, which will be offered at a special clearance sale of Office Furniture next week.

NATIONAL GAMES TODAY.

It will take more than a ruptured blood vessel and an obstinate physician to keep Manager Fred Clarke away from his Pirates these days, when there is a remote possibility that the Giants may yet be overtaken in the pennant race. Clarke's physician had decreed that the Pirate leader should remain at home for at least the best part of this week, but the patient rebelled and will leave tonight to join the team at Springfield, Ill., where an exhibition game is scheduled for tomorrow.

When Clarke was injured last Friday he turned the managerial reins over to Tommy Leach, and yesterday word was received from St. Louis that the littlest Pirate had gone lame and there was a possibility that Beaumont would also be forced out of the game because of his rheumatic legs. This would mean the entire breaking up of the Pirate outfield, and Clarke no sooner received this word than he decided to pass the physician and the injured leg up and join the team at once. Clarke is particularly desirous to be on hand for the reason that there are a number of new players to be tried out in the exhibition games, and he wishes to see for himself how they conduct themselves on the playing field. Clarke was able to walk yesterday without the aid of a cane, and thinks he will get back into the game in a few days. A special telegram from St. Louis says:

Pittsburgh plays her last games on Missouri soil this season when the disabled Clarke's warriors line up against the Cardinals in a double header today. Big Mike Lynch, and possibly Hillebrand, the young collegian, who catches as well as he pitches and bats as well as he fields, may torment the natives. Taylor and McFarland are slated for duty for the natives.

Outfielder Flannigan, late of the New England league, was in the Pirate bunch who held sway in one section of the grandstand yesterday at the Brown's games. Flannigan may be seen in action in one of the games against the Cardinals today. He is big and powerful, and has a good record in the east.

There were several old-time sessions between innings yesterday, when some of the Pirates "fanned" with Lajoie, Earle Moore and others of the Cleveland club. In the stands the players followed the game closely, and when Sugden's rap hit in safe territory in the third inning of the second game an argument arose as to the justice of allowing the batter a hit on the play. Umpire Bob Emslie allowed that it could be granted either way, but Detective Frank McKenna declared that "Old Gladstone," much as he needed the bingle, was not entitled to it according to the rules. And Frank was right.

Clarence Beaumont has rheumatism badly in his legs, and one or two of the Pirate flingers are ailing. It is well that Boss Clarke recruited for the tough battles in front of him. He will need it to stand off the Giants.

Cincinnati 3-0—Chicago 2-12.

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 11.—Cincinnati and Chicago broke even today. The first game was a pretty pitching contest in which Vowinkel, a new pitcher, won. Chech was driven out of the box by consecutive hits and two sacrifices in less than a third of an inning in the second game. Attendance, 3,000. Score:

RAIN POSTPONES TENNIS.

Opening Play for the Western Pennsylvania Championship Is Delayed.

Rain yesterday caused a postponement of opening play in the lawn tennis tournament for the championship in singles of Western Pennsylvania at the Pittsburgh Golf club. The singles will be started today and the doubles tomorrow, if the weather permits.

The Brighton Country club announces a tennis torunament for its members in men's singles, commencing next Saturday at 3 o'clock.

The finals for the championship of the Tioga Tennis club in singles were the hardest fought battle of the tournament. The players were Dr. J. F. Alcorn and Dr. W. A. Woodburn, and the honors went to Woodburn after four hard sets—8-6, 4-6, 15-13, 6-4. The cup emblematic of the championship becomes the permanent property of Dr. Woodburn.

Senators Agree to Transfer.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 11.—At tonight's meeting of the Harrisburg Athletic club, the baseball committee and board of directors were ordered to transfer the three last games of the season on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, to Williamsport for a guarantee of $1,000, or 40 per cent of the gate receipts.

BOSTON, Sept. 11.—Each team won a game here today, Boston taking the first 6 to 3, and Washington the second, 14 to 0. All the hits and bases on balls off Winter in the first game were made in the fourth inning. In the second game the Boston pitchers were batted hard, while the home team could do nothing with Falkenberg. The game was called because of darkness after seven innings. Scores:

JOHNSTOWN HITS WELL AND BEATS ALTOONA

JOHNSTOWN, Sept. 11.—Johnstown easily defeated Altoona this afternoon by heavy hitting, 10 to 2. Varner had good control and kept Altoona guessing. Lobert, the third baseman of Johnstown, leaves Sunday night to finish the season with the Chicago Nationals. Badel, left fielder, has declined an offer from the Buffalo Eastern league club. "BUCKING MACHINE" IS INVENTED AT WASH-JEFF WASHINGTON, PA., Sept. 11.—(Special.)—Coach Frank A. Piekarski today started afternoon football practice at Washington and Jefferson college. A squad of 15 men was out. College reopens Wednesday.

An innovation here was used today. It was what Piekarski calls his "bucking machine," made expressly for practice in line pluging. It is a huge padded horse with a beam about two feet and a half from the ground. The 'varsity men are required to buck against this padded beam, which is supposed to be at the right height for line plunging. This machine, if it proves successful, will do away with much of the hard work of the scrubs on defense, and will really give the regular men more practice in hitting the line at the right height.

Ball Player Found Drowned.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—Fred Housemann of Canton, O., identified today a body which was taken from Lake Michigan yesterday. Mr. Housemann said the corpse was that of his uncle, George Housemann. The uncle is supposed to have fallen from a steamer on his way to Chicago from Holland, Mich. Deceased was a member of the Canton Central league baseball club at Canton.

AL. COMFORT TO COACH ALLEGHENY COLLEGE NINE

Pitsburgh Boy Will Succeed Branch Rickey at Meadville Institution. Barrier Against Prep. Athletes.

Albert Comfort of Pittsburgh has been selected to coach the Allegheny college baseball team next spring, succeeding Branch Rickey, who has been drafted by the Chicago American league team from the Dallas club of the Texas league. Rickey, however, will continue to coach the Allegheny football team, but at the close of the football season he will enter Michigan or Chicago university to study law. Comfort is an experienced baseball player. He came into prominence several years ago as pitcher at Pittsburgh academy, then with fast independent teams. Comfort is also captain of the basketball team at Allegheny.

At the close of the present season preparatory students will be barred from college athletics at Allegheny. Allegheny has followed the stand taken by Washington and Jefferson college, adopted a few years ago. They are the only colleges in Western Pennsylvania having prep. departments that have raised the barrier to the embryo collegians.

Harper Allen, "Doc" Allen and Jeff Vincent, Allegheny High school athletes, leave for Mercersburg academy tomorrow. Wallace Shultz, the crack pitcher at Shadyside academy, will enter Mercersburg next week. He intended to go tomorrow, too, but he sprained his right ankle Saturday playing ball at Brownsville.

John Messmer, a Milwaukee High school boy, one of the best inter-scholastic weight men in the United States, and a crack football player, has entered Chicago. Michigan tried hard to get him.

MARTY HOGAN IN DEMAND.

Successful Manager of Youngstown Team is Wanted by Minor League Clubs.

Marty Hogan, manager of the champion Youngstown team, is receiving offers daily from clubs in many leagues, inquiring if his services can be secured for next year. Yesterday Hogan was tendered the management of the Savannah club of the South Atlantic league. All these offers he will likely refuse. Hogan has won independent championships the past two years for Youngstown, and since taking charge there three years ago he has turned out players who are now in the big league.

Youngstown now leads the independent race with 53 victories and 27 defeats. Out of the last 36 games played 28 were victories, and all but six games were played on the road.

Wonderful Work by Flanagan.

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 11.—In two weight events at the athletic games here today the 16-pound hammer and the 56-pound weight—John J. Flanagan of New York made distances which, if allowed, would be world's records. In the 16-pound hammer event Flanagan threw the weight 175 feet, the present record being 172 feet 11 inches, which Flanagan made at Long Island city on July 31, 1904. Flanagan threw the 56-pound weight 42 feet, the record being 40 feet 3 inches, also made by him at Long Island city July 17, 1904.

Westmoreland Fair Opens Today.

GREENSBURG, Sept. 11.—(Special.)—The seventeenth annual exhibition of the Westmoreland County Agricultural society will open tomorrow morning at Youngwood. Big preparations have been made for the fair. The race program will begin on Wednesday. Purses of $250 are offered. Prizes will be given for fancy driving and fancy saddle horses.

Will Hold Tennis Tourney.

NEW CASTLE, Sept. 11.—(Special.)—Another tennis tournament will be held this week under the auspices of the New Castle Country club. It will begin Friday afternoon and will be for men's doubles.

It Pays to Be a Fighter.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11.—Correct figures made public today on the Britt-Nelson contest show that the total receipts were $48,311. That amount was divided as follows: Nelson, $18,841.29; Britt, $12,560.86; management, $16,908.82.

Barrow Will Manage Toronto.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Sept. 11.—Ed G. Barrow, manager of the Indianapolis club of the American Baseball association, has resigned to accept the managership of the Toronto club of the Eastern league. Mr. Barrow will remain with the Indianapolis club until the end of the season.

W. U. P. FOOTBALL SQUAD NOW NUMBERS 23 MEN

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

EXPOSITION PARK, PA., Sept. 11.—With the arrival of Capt. Thompson and party this evening, the W. U. P. squad was augmented to 23 men as follows: McCormick, Swenson, Waddill, Perry, Klawuhn, Mosse, Leidenroth, Springer, Zeig, Miller, Yielding, Sullivan, Capwell, Boisseau, Thompson, Edgar, Rice, A. Griggs, F. Griggs, Q. Banbury, W. F. Banbury and Frye.

In spite of wet weather today Coach Mosse had the men out for the first signal practice of the season. Swenson, one of the quarterbacks, was given his first trial and showed up in fine style. There are now five quarterbacks in the squad—Ritchey, Boisseau, Swenson, A. Griggs and Q. Banbury. The race for this position is likely to prove very interesting. Rice, W. Banbury and F. Griggs are new candidates for halfback positions.

Regular practice will begin tomorrow with the full squad, and from this time on rapid progress will be made in preparations for the game with Grove City here on the 30th.

BRADDOCK IS DEFEATED BY YOUNGSTOWN, 2 TO 1

Youngstown won from Braddock yesterday at Edgar Thomson park, 2 to 1. Aside from the first inning McHale for Braddock pitched winning ball, allowing but three hits in the eight innings. Thomas pitched for Marty Hogan's team, and he allowed but seven hits and struck out nine men. Youngstown won in the first inning. The three first men up, Blount, Maloney and Phyle, cracked out singles. James and Blount cut off between first and second but made a wild throw. A fast double ended the inning. For the next five innings, but 16 Youngstown men faced McHale. Braddock's one run was made in the sixth on a base on balls and a double by James. Score:

NEW CARS WIN FAVOR.

All-Steel Passenger Train Equipment Proves by Actual Service Its Practical Value.

Work is now progressing at the plant of the Standard Steel Car Company at Butler on two mail and express cars ordered for the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad. These cars are to be of all steel construction.

The order for the New Haven road followed that for three cars given by the Erie. All the Erie cars have been tested in service, the first having been delivered just a year ago. The reports are that they are thoroughly satisfactory, and it appears that the successful design for a steel car for passenger trains has been obtained and realized.

While the steel passenger car is still considered to some extent experimental, it is probable that its development is only a matter of a few years at the most. The Standard company would build a new plant at Butler for such work.

BOWLERS WILL BE RECOGNIZED

MEETING OF THE UNITY TEAM

The Gazette intends taking up bowling and making it one of the leading sporting features. The Gazette has secured the services of Clark DeVoe, who will have charge of the bowling news department. Mr. DeVoe is an expert bowler himself, and is probably more competent to give an intelligent report of bowling than any one in the Pittsburgh district. All games played will receive our special attention in every issue and on Sunday there will be a general review of the good work done on the many alleys the previous week. News from bowlers will be gladly received, all communications to be sent to the editor of the bowling news. The Gazette will lead in bowling as it does in all other branches of sporting.

Capt. McGrath of the Unity team has called a meeting of the club for Friday night at Sam Hellsbaucher's, 533 Smithfield street. All members are to attend.

HIGH-UP MASONS HERE.

Officers of Grand Lodge Will Lay Cornerstone of McKeesport's Masonic Temple Today.

At noon today there will be constituted in McKeesport a new Masonic lodge, after which ceremonies the McKeesport Masons, assisted by a number of leading Masons of this state, will participate in the corner stone laying of the new $250,000 Masonic temple which is building at Walnut street and Sixth avenue.

A number of the officers of the Grand Masonic lodge of Pennsylvania, who have come here for today's ceremonies at McKeesport, were in conference with the Hon. James W. Brown, grand master, at the Hotel Schenley last evening.

Among those who will participate in the ceremonies are: George W. Kendrick, Jr., deputy grand master; William A. Linn, grand secretary; William J. Kelly, past grand master; John A. Perry, deputy grand secretary; Samuel W. Wray, grand tyler; William B. Joslyn, instructor of the work; George J. Vandergrift, grand sword bearer; John O'Donnel, grand marshal, and Francisco B. Gilbert, grand steward.

Work on the new temple is well under way. The foundations are already completed and work is now being done on the structural iron. The board of directors of the McKeesport Masonic association expects to have the building ready for dedication by next March.

CLARKS CAN'T GIVE BAIL.

Young Couple Jailed Because of Lodging Bill and Resultant Trouble.

Bert Clark and his wife, neither of them more than 22 years old, were about to board a train for Jamestown, N. Y., when the cruel law, in the shape of Alderman John A. Martin's constable, interfered. They were locked up in jail.

That was on Saturday night. Yesterday afternoon the Clarks were arraigned before Alderman Martin on the charge of assault and battery, preferred by Mrs. W. S. Klingensmith, with whom they had roomed. She said they had refused to pay her $1.50 they owed her and then assaulted her. Clark said he owed the woman only $1 and when he offered it to her she refused it, tried to grab his suit case out of his hand and barred his exit from the house, whereupon he pushed her aside and went out. This happened on August 30. The next day Mrs. Klingensmith swore out a warrant against the Clarks, who were not found until about to board the train for Jamestown. The Clarks were sent to jail in default of $300 bail each.

NEW BELASCO THEATER OPENED UNDER PLEASING AND SUCCESSFUL AUSPICES

With Margaret Anglin and Strong Company Present New Play. The House and Audience.

AT THE OTHER THEATERS

By CHARLES M. BREGG.

History has a way of repeating itself in theatrical events, as well as in those gravers affairs of life to which the proverb had original application. The tides of time have ebbed and flowed around the old city block bounded by Sixth street, Cecil alley, Penn and Liberty avenues, for a quarter of a century, bringing changes, creating new skylines and reducing once supposedly stately buildings to the level of mediocrity. On one of the earlier tides the Duquesne theater rode into existence, a thing of beauty, and, it was confidently expected, to be a joy forever. Its genesis was a livery stable and under its first fresh shadows lay a big auditorium across the street in which Patti sang to an enormous audience.

Those were the times when theaters were scarcer than they are now and when theatergoing was considerably more of a luxury. It was long before the syndicate waxed fat and sassy. The Henderson boys were in their glory. If the old Penn avenue environment had "a thousand tongues to sing" it could tell wondrous stories of the success and failures of the stars. Some of the biggest of them played in the cosy little hole in the solid wall that was dug before the state legislature got busy passing laws about how theaters should be built. Jack McCullough, out at the Empire, was manager there in some of those days, and "first-class" was written all over the place. The rattle of silver-mounted harness was an accustomed sound around the modest front of the theater. Madame Fashion and her numerous brood crowded through the narrow foyer and rustled ostentatiously to their seats and boxes every night.

Another Turn in the Tide.

But time's tide swept the Alvin from out of the stage-won wealth of old Alvin Joslyn and there was sorrow in Penn avenue. The rattling carriages no longer turned in that direction, but kept on down Sixth street. It was the ebb time for the Duquesne that immediately followed. Then came Harry Williams and the once proud little Duquesne blushed as red as its new red paint, with the consciousness that it was now only a "vaudeville" house. But other crowds and perhaps bigger ones, were gathered into its four walls. But, when competitive vaudeville came to town and the grim reaper called for Harry Williams, the ebb of even this glory fell over the portals of the Duquesne. The old house must have felt keenly the signs of decay that were settling around it. Not even a season of roystering musical comedy, when a noisy throng sat nightly in the lap of the old playhouse, brought back the smiles. Friends of the old place sadly shook their heads and declared that "It was all over with the Duquesne." But they forgot about history repeating itself. Down under the deep tides of theatrical affairs a seething torrent has been raging. Little waves rippled forth signs of an upheaval from time to time, but no one was prepared for the big wave that rolled into Penn avenue last spring and caught the old Duquesne theater and bore it upward again to its once proud place of eminence. When the wave rolled back again it left only the frame of the once decaying Duquesne. It even washed the old name away in the flood, and last night the lights shone out again and the silver harness rattled and the children of that other Madame Fashion came to see a blazing electric sign spell "Belasco," and everybody realized that when history undertakes to repeat itself she has a wonderful way of doing it, and that in this instance she made a good start toward using the old Duquesne theater again as a pen with which to write some more interesting pages in the annals of Pittsburgh's theatrical affairs.

Theater in a New Dress.

It is not necessary that I should repeat the technical descriptions covering the physical improvements that have been added to the theater. The impression as one enters the building is that the interior has been very much brightened. The design is in white and gold and the seat furnishings in green leather, while red greets the eye in carpets and hangings. The new decorations are tasteful and pleasing and indicate the skill of the Joseph Horne Company, who I am told furnished them. There may be need for a more permanency given the painting on lobby woodwork and stairways, but these are defects that are the necessary results of haste. Take it all in all the Duquesne is made quite as attractive and comfortable as it ever was in even its best days, and in the noiseless seats and wealth of new carpets is a shade more desirable as a home for modern theater-goers. It is well to be perfectly frank, however, and say that the drop curtain is a monstrosity and should be replaced as soon as possible by first, a subject more in harmony with the theater and second, one in which the work is hand-made, not put on with a machine. It is gratifying, however, to find the house made over so beautifully in its general details and to see a disposition on the part of this courageous new management to give Pittsburgh a theater in some measure commensurate with the character of the dramatic offerings that are to be seen across its footlights.

The house last night shone down with its new luster upon an immense audience. It was a thoroughly cosmopolitan audience, as testified by the restlessness in the gallery at times and on the other extreme by representatives of social and official life that filled the parquette and balcony. I am averse to the word representative, for that is a difficult term to define, but the first-night audience of the new Belasco represented the people of Pittsburgh in so far as the limited seating capacity would allow. It was an audience that was sympathetic, not in any narrow way, perhaps, as between any differing managers, but one that felt the necessity of a break in the sort of booking hierarchy that could say: "You shall have only such attractions as I am pleased to give you." It was an audience that came in carriages, in street cars and by the more democratic way of walking, but it came with no significance beyond the sensible one of seeing a dramatic performance and giving a new and important art opportunity and business venture a fair and square welcome.

Margaret Anglin the Star.

I have said this much about the merely visual and personal side of the rededication of the house first, but I hasten to add that after all its success in these particulars they by no means belong first. The initial performance on the rejuvenated stage of the old playhouse was an inspiring promise of good things dramatic and a return to the prestige for the drama that the theater once enjoyed. The Messrs. Shubert selected one of their strongest native organizations to present a play adapted by an Englishman and a well-known actor. There were English players in the cast, and the leading woman is herself a Canadian, but the organization as a whole must be accepted as the native idea of what a stock company should be. Mr. Henry Miller is, presumably, the organizer and director of the new company of Shubert players, and it is only fair to say that it represents a standard of intelligence that is throughout an augury of good. It is not a star company. Miss Anglin is the center of interest, but she is surrounded by fellow players of such uniform strength and gifts that the uneveness of the usual "star" company is obviated completely. This in itself is an item worthy of note. The star system has almost ruined the acting art and has certainly so marred the symmetry of stage performances as to prove a threat. In this new Shubert company of players there is a balance of power so admirably preserved as to be a constant delight. Margaret Anglin, Frank Worthing, Mrs. Thomas Whiffen, Jameson Lee Finney, George O. Titharadge, Fred Thome, Beverly Sitgreaves and J. R. Crauford are players, all of them, of intelligence, skill and fine training in the best methods of modern characterization. Even in casting the small and usually regarded unimportant roles Mr. Miller has shown good taste and good knowledge.

The Play Emotional.

In presenting a dramatized version of Wilkie Collins' novel, "The New Magdalen," Mr. Hartley Manners and Mr. Miller have shown discretion and skill. The structure of the story follows the novel closely, but that is all. The prologue has been cut and might be still further improved by excision, for it is a little slow in revealing the plot by progress, though that plot is obvious enough. There have been wise elimination, rearrangement of the material throughout and the dialogue has been given a modern flavor and new lines introduced. For all practical purposes, however, the plot remains intact and deals with the question of right and wrong between women, one of whom steals the name and credentials of another whom she believes to be dead in order to recover a character and standing she had lost during an unhappy youth. The adapters have introduced a few lines concerning the resemblance of a picture called Zira to the heroine in order to account for the name which they give to the play. By ordinary standards of dramatic judgment this play is a melodrama of strong situations and deep human interest. It is a play of little complexity of plot, but deals with some of the most complex questions of morals and human right and human frailty. It is the sort of play material that is determined very largely by the interpretation on the past of the people who assume its character. Past experience and the most casual observation of the structure of the piece prove how easily "Zira," in its new form just as all its predecessors under other titles, might be made a ranting offense, both to the sense of probability and the sense of good taste. In the hands of Mr. Miller's company it is neither of these, but a strong, emotional play touching high points of sympathy and interest among its hearers.

Miss Anglin's Art.

Not all, but certainly the lion's share of the credit of this result belongs to the clever players who last night gave the piece its first Pittsburgh performance. Miss Margaret Anglin heads the company both on the program and in the character of her work. She has matured wonderfully since she was last seen here. This maturity is indicated first in the development of bodily vigor and facial strength, but is even more observed in the strength and mobility of her art. In the prologue the actress showed signs of nervousness and in the great scene in the second act she unfortunately allowed her earnestness to entrap her into a misuse of her voice that resulted in hoarseness that marred somewhat her subsequent lines. Miss Anglin, too, is the victim of a mannerism that while small is a defect to most admirable art. When speaking under strong emotion she drops her head down between her shoulders, giving an overstrained appearance to her attitude. These are minor blemishes to abilities of a very commanding kind. In vocal equipment, in sincerity of method and in breadth of understanding, Miss Anglin excels as an emotional actress. She is a delineator of genuine human passions, giving you always the impression of personal surrender to the waves of feling that sweep over the character she is portraying. There is improvement in her work on the side of repression and she displays firmer grasp of the fundamental principles of her art. Having mastered in greater degree the spirit of acting she is less concerned than formerly with the devious detail of the letter and the manner of her personal carriage. Her best work last night was in her interview with the woman she had wronged, and but for the defects noted it would have been an almost perfect piece of sheer emotionalism. As it was, the audience broke into spontaneous applause and called the actress again and again to the footlights and gave her a great bunch of beautiful roses.

The Company Excellent.

Of the players supporting Miss Anglin there is so much that may be said in praise that to mention any one of them alone would sound invidious. Frank Worthing is an excellent actor in the intelligence and culture of his methods. He is a player of impressive and interesting personal gifts, and but for mannerisms that sometimes give an air of uncertainty and halting to his work, would command always unstinted praise. His Gordon Clovering in the Manner's play, is convincing, polished and in conception thoroughly clear cut. The result is not always what one would take a young clergyman under like circumstances to be, but Mr. Worthing nowhere mars the tone and style of his portrayal by failure to reflect the mood consistently that he has conceived. Jameson Lee Finney does a very clever and incisive piece of work as Capt. Sylvester. Mr. Finney shades delicately and properly the impersonation of the young army officer who is both a gentleman and a tipster. It is in every way a creditable piece of acting. Our dear old friend, Mrs. Whiffen, is graciously fine in her ripened art as Lady Constance. It is a delight that we have this splendid old stage woman still with us and her presence in the Miller company adds dignity, worth and gracious art to even that excellent organization. Mr. Titharadge as the surgeon, Mr. J. R. Crawford as Trent, Fred Thome as the bishop and Miss Beverly Sitgreaves as Ruth Wilding, completed a cast that presents some of the best acting talents among the younger school of players. Miss Sitgreaves especially must be commended for playing the difficult scene with Miss Anglin in such a way as to add strength to the strongest moment in the play.

Comfortable Details.

In detail there are some admirable features about the new management. The Shuberts are fortunate in calling good men to their aid. George W. Sammis, the resident manager, is one of the most efficient men in the profession. An orchestra under the leadership of Oscar Radin almost at once sprang into notice both in the dash of the entre act selections and in the fine quality of the music rendered. It is a grateful and encouraging feature of theater entertainment that is too often neglected. The program of the house is quite the most artistic and prosperous-looking playbill I have seen in a Pittsburgh theater, and its publishers, George D. Kelly & Co., deserve the thanks of patrons for its neatness. Mr. Smythe, the representative of David Belasco, read the following telegram from his chief:

> Messrs. Lehman & Davies, Belasco Theater, Pittsburgh, Pa.
> I deeply regret my inability to be present tonight. I appreciate the honor you have done me in naming your playhouse after me and I only hope that I can live up to that honor. I shall take great pleasure in being able to present my plays in Pittsburgh again, and am very happy that I am not barred out of the city where I found appreciation, kindly sentiment and many delightful audiences. May all the success in the world be yours and the Messrs. Shubert, and may the patronage given by the people of Pittsburgh be such that others may be tempted to join our little band of independent managers, fighting for their rights against a great trust, in the interests of the decent American stage and the drama in America. Although I cannot be present, my heart and thoughts will be with you all the evening. Faithfully,

The New Belasco Theater, Its Managers and the Star That Opened It.

Nixon—"Little Johnny Jones."

"Little Johnny Jones," which opened a week's engagement in the Nixon theater last night, is a predigested theatrical morsel that serves to introduce bright lines cleverly read, some catchy music, pretty gowns and pretty girls, and novel electrical scenic effects. In the author and star, George M. Cohan, and in Jerry J. Cohan, Helen F. Cohan and Ethel Levey, the audience that tested the seating capacity of the house last night had opportunity to meet old-time favorites. The play, for there is sufficient plot to dignify it as such, involves the romance and vicissitudes of an American jockey in London and gives evidence that the author found his inspiration in the experience of "Tod" Sloan abroad. Tom Lewis as "The Unknown" was entrusted with some exceptionally bright and witty lines which he assumed with great credit, and appreciation of his efforts were shown by an enthusiastic reception upon his every entree upon the stage. Ethel Levey, who assumed one masculine and two feminine roles, was best seen as Mme. Fauchette, where she had opportunity to display some sparkling vivacity. George Cohan was as grotesquely humorous as ever, and the company as a whole did creditable work. "Yankee Doodle Boy" was one of the song hits, while "'Op in the 'Ansom'" proved to be a bright bit of music and song that introduced a sextet of both sex who presented some mighty clever work. The finale of the second act and the opening of the third act offered some electrical scenic effects that were exceptionally picturesque and which were heartily approved. The ensemble effects were above that of the ordinary musical comedy and the costuming of the chorus, which was a large one, was as varied as it was handsome. A happy, light and breezy humor pervades the whole performance with a total lack of seriousness that would make the ordinary program synopsis an unnecessary adjunct and which is wisely excluded. As an invigorating tonic and laugh producer "Little Johnny Jones" will serve as a successful recipe.

Alvin—"Serio-Comic Governess."

There's a spice in the fun at the Alvin this week, a quaint dash in the songs and a catchy swing in the action that fairly captivated the big house that greeted Nellie Beaumont and Henry V. Donnelly in their first appearance here in the "Serio-Comic Governess," the Israel Zangwill comedy that was straight comedy last year. When she came out as Eileen O'Keefe of the Castle in the prologue, and felt out the feelings of her hearers in such rich Irish airs as "Irish Molly O," the wily Nellie had an open sesame to their favor. And when the big-lunged Montmorency star ventured in the first act to show how Heinz is leader of the German band, the fun became infectious, and from the front seats in the orchestra circle to the far galleries, the applause broke forth in generous measure. These were only the beginnings of an evening's fun that is hard to excel. Plenty of music rendered by rich voices and with a spirit that made it a "go," with an abundance of catchy features, gave the pretty love story a setting that made it all the more enjoyable, and helped Nellie Beaumont in her dual character of governess by day and music hall singer by night to make a strong hit. As a real member of "the profession," the noisy, blustering Mr. Donnelly is a host of fun in himself, and needs no second introduction to Pittsburgh playgoers. Two other characters were unusually good, Fred Wayne in the role of Alderman Maper, the too-dignified English justice, and Helen Weatherby, his wife, whose feminine eccentricities were among the best offerings of the evening. The production is well staged and has a capable chorus and strong cast throughout.

Bijou—"The Boy Behind the Gun."

In providing a group of Japanese who do quite cleverly a military drill Harry Clay Blaney puts about the only interesting feature beyond the ordinary in the melodrama that he brought to the Bijou yesterday. Blaney himself perpetuates his Willie Live characterization in "The Boy Behind the Gun," and has neither improved nor, we rejoice to state, deteriorated as an actor. For those people who like Blaney's style he is exceedingly amusing, and his dash and assurance are things over which his admirers laugh with much glee. His comedy is all of a type and a not very versatile type at that. In his present play he continues to appear at the right time and to perform startling feats in a merry ha, ha sort of way. The melodrama he is using is a conglomeration of nearly everything under the sun, from the enforced signing of papers to a plot involving the late Russo-Japanese war. There is some bright music in the piece, and Mr. Blaney and Miss Kitty Wolfe make a hit with their parodies. The company is of little better talent than melodrama usually gives us, including Franklyn Munnell, Sully Guard, W. G. Beckwith, John Leach, in his favorite role of a Chinaman; Ethel Clifton, Eleanor Jennings and Kitty Wolfe. The stage settings are admirable and the spectacular specialties ordinary. A feature of the performance at the Bijou this week is the capital way in which Director Wolff presents the spirited "Flying Squadron" march by his excellent orchestra. The number evokes a whirl of applause at every performance.

Empire—"Wedded and Parted."

"Wedded and Parted," a drama in four acts by Theodore Kremer, was received by a large audience at the Empire theater last night. The story of the play is based on the parting of husband and wife by the former's relatives in order to bring about a marriage between the husband and his cousin. Members of the company are offered many opportunities for good acting, and John Morrissey as Herbert Dixon, the husband, Charles L. Alexander as John Kennedy, the prison warden, and Harry Frederick Alyn as Harry Snider, the tool of Jerome Cameron, played their parts so well that on several occasions their voices were drowned by the applause. Margaret Brownlee as Marion Cameron, the woman without a conscious, played her part with all the fine scorn and contempt of a woman determined to win the man she loves away from his wife. Ruth McCauley, who took the part of Nora Farleigh, the wife, has more than ordinary talent for emotional acting, and frequently brought tears to the eyes of her audience. "Wedded and Parted" is one of the best plays seen at the Empire for some time and promises to draw big houses all week.

Gayety—Bryant's Burlesquers.

Harry Bryant is a favorite of long standing among lovers of burlesque in Pittsburgh and his entertainment which he brings to the Gayety this week is much more handsomely garbed than it has ever been before, and under Gayety rules we are also glad to say it is much cleaner in its lines and songs. The olio is not long and would be commonplace but for the presence of the Four Nelsons and the Brothers Lloyd. Both these acts are above the average and the only ones of the olio that are. The burlesques are well put forward, and though of no special force were played so well by the company that the audience seemed to get a lot of fun out of them. Harry Bryant led the fun-making, first as Roaring Dick and later as an Indian medicine man. Frank Dumont, the old-time minstrel man, wrote what book there is to the two burlesques. There is a good-sized female chorus and they have new costumes that are pretty and some songs that go well.

Academy—"Reilly & Woods."

The Academy offering for this week is Reilly & Woods' Big Show, presenting a bill sufficiently funny and diversified to keep the two big audiences yesterday in a continuous uproar. The program is divided into three parts—burlesque, spectacular and farce comedy—and each division is in highly capable hands. The show opens with a burlesque, "Simon Simple and Simple Simon." The strength of the company is introduced, and the act abounds with some catchy music and a variety of knock-about which met with hilarious approval. Pat Reilly and Harry S. Fern sustained the titular parts. In the second division were Ira Kessner in some pictured melodies, Kennedy and Evans, the Revere sisters in a vaudeville act, the Golden Ballet, in which three scenes, entrance to hades, the river Styx and a palace in hades, are calculated to make one lead a better life, and Reno and Smith, comedy acrobats. The Vanos are handcuff manipulators who kept the audience mystified. The bill closes with "A Hot Old Time at Reilly's," a side-splitting farce comedy. The entire bill seemed just what the Academy audience was wanting.

"Belle of Avenue A."

"The Belle of Avenue A" serves to introduce Miss Elfie Fay to her many admirers in this city when she comes to the Alvin theater next week, presented by A. H. Woods. The new musical play is preceded by many excellent reports and it is safe to say that Miss Fay has never before had such excellent opportunities of displaying her unusual brand of comedy. "The Belle of Avenue A" is from the pen of Williams & Hoffman, the authors of "Tom, Dick and Harry." The humor is said to be pure, the situations natural and the presentation unlabored. The music is by Aron Von Alstyne and is said to be in the popular composer's most tuneful vein.

RUSSIANS VISIT AT WEST POINT

BARON KOMURA IS NO BETTER

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WEST POINT, N. Y., Sept. 11.—Standing ankle deep in the wet grass, with a downpour of rain drenching them, the Russian peace envoys, M. Witte, Baron Rosen and party, reviewed the battalion of cadets here today. The distinguished party came to the academy as guests of J. Pierpont Morgan on his yacht Corsair. Mr. Morgan accompanied them.

The party, on its arrival, was received with full military honors, Gen. Mills and staff meeting the members at the wharf. A detachment of cavalry led the way to the academy, followed by a party in carriages. A salute of 19 guns was fired as they reached the crest of the hill leading to the parade ground.

The historic old chapel was first visited, after which the party watched the cadets march to dinner, then visited them in the mess hall. Commander T. A. Keshita of the Japanese navy and Col. Tachibana of the Japanese army also visited the academy, but were not of the Russian party, having come up early in the day.

The Japanese encountered M. Witte and party as they came out of Grant hall, and, shaking hands heartily, joined them in reviewing the cadets. Later Mr. Morgan took his guests to his summer home at Highland Falls, where a dinner was served. The party returned to New York aboard the Corsair.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—M. Witte and Baron Rosen returned from West Point this evening and went at once to an art gallery in Fifth avenue, where they opened formally an exhibition of pictures by Russian artists. Tonight the Russian envoys were guests at an informal dinner.

The reception of M. Witte and Baron Rosen, arranged for tomorrow morning at the Produce Exchange, has been cancelled at the request of the envoys, who begged to be excused on account of unexpected and pressing business. M. Witte sails for home tomorrow afternoon.

The departure of the Japanese peace commission for Japan, which has been set for Thursday, may be delayed by the illness of Baron Komura, who is confined to his apartments at the Waldorf-Astoria.

The baron's condition since Saturday has caused some anxiety and a recurrence of high temperature and a fever today resulted in a consultation of physicians tonight. Following the consultation it was announced it is still undetermined as to whether or not Baron Komura will be able to set out on his journey to Japan next Thursday.

STEAL NEGRO'S SAVINGS FROM POCKET WHILE HE SLEPT

John Curry, a Homestead negro, yesterday declared that hereafter he will place his savings in a bank. Curry is a driver for Erbeck & Co., and sleeps in the stable. He had accumulated $110 which he carried in an inside pocket. Yesterday morning when he awoke he found that his clothes had been cut open while he slept and his money was gone.

Dockstader's Minstrels.

The advance sale of seats opens Thursday at the Nixon for Lew Dockstader's genuine revival of minstrelsy presented with all the modern accessories of lights and beautiful scenery. Mr. Dockstader appears in both the first part, where he sings two of his quaint songs, and again later in the evening, when he will be seen in a novelty entitled "The Album of Minstrelsy," and an amusing skit entitled "The Rubbernecks." The company is said this year to number 100 in all.

"TIN FLUTE BOB" IS LAST VICTIM

FRIEND OF POOR CHILDREN

"Tin Flute Bob," the well known character in the Penn avenue district who brought music into the lives of poor children there almost daily, is the latest victim of the fenderless car.

"Bob," whose real names is Robert Hughes, went under a street car at Penn avenue and Thirteenth street about 11:30 o'clock last night. He was struck by Frankstown car 3112, west bound. For a short distance he was dragged and when he was taken from beneath the car it was found that both his legs were crushed and the back of his head badly gashed. He was taken to Mercy hospital, where one leg was amputated, and it is feared that the other is too badly injured to be saved. He is about 55 years old and not in robust health. Death is very probable.

There was no better known character in the wards that lie along the Allegheny river. Hughes was born in the Twelfth ward and had lived along Penn avenue all his life until recently, when he moved into Wylie avenue. He was an expert umbrella maker and for a long time has been the "old umbrella man" of the Penn avenue district. As a side line he mended tubs and buckets and did a little general tinkering.

His little tin fife or flute, however, was the cause of bringing him such wide acquaintance. He had a quick ear for catchy airs, and from the little instrument could bring out more music than one who has never heard him would believe. Wherever he went he carried the flute and was always willing to play when asked. If money came in return, good, but it was not essential, for he played as willingly for poor children as for those who had nickels to give. It was a common sight to see Bob going along Penn avenue followed by 50 or 100 children, stepping to the martial air of his favorite selection, "Marching Through Georgia." If no special tune was asked when some one requested him to play, it was certain that "Marching Through Georgia" would be the one to be heard first.

There was one other place where he was well known—in the police court—for he had a weakness for strong drink. In no other way was he troublesome or law breaking. He is thought to have a family, but none of his relatives could be found last night.

DIVIDING ARMIES IS THE QUESTION

RECEPTION OF PEACE TERMS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

GODZYADANI, MANCHURIA, Sept. 10.—It is announced that Gen. Ovanovski and Fukiushima, representing respectively Gen. Linevitch and Field Marshal Oyama, will meet September 13 to establish a line of demarcation between the two armies. Each general will have a small escort. The Chinese report that the Japanese army at Chantufu will retire to Mukden in 10 days.

The peace terms became known here today. The majority consider them inoffensive to Russian honor and dignity. It is not clear at what station the railroad is to be turned over to the Japanese, at Kwang-Cheng-Tse or Chantufu. This question is very important. If the turnover takes place at Kwang-Cheng-Tse then Russia cedes to Japan 100 miles of yet unoccupied line and likewise the only coal mines south of Harbin. From Chantufu start all the trade routes to the very rich Kirin province and should the road become the property of the Japanese to Kwang-Cheng-Tse the complete possession of Chantufu would place Kirin province entirely under Japanese influence. This would be very undesirable for Russia.

Advantage to Russia.

Should the transfer be made at Chantufu or further south, Kirin province, which has supported the Russian army for six months, would remain Russian, which would be particularly advantageous because the southern portion of the railroad has no natural outlet. This and many other questions, such as the Russian right to maintain consular officials and commercial agents at Liao Yang, Mukden, Port Arthur and Port Dalny should, it is claimed here, be settled before the armies withdraw from their strategic positions. A high officer declared today that it would be impolitic to permit the Japanese to settle in Kwang-Cheng-Tse, for in case of another war they could reach Harbin in 50 hours, occupy Kirin and cut Russia off from the Amur regions.

It was announced from Portsmouth, N. H., August 30, that the formal recognition of Japan's possession of the Chinese Eastern railroad below Kwang-Cheng-Tse involves the payment of Russia to China of a sum estimated at $75,000,000. This is the Chinese interest in the road and for it China must be remunerated.

The question of the ultimate possession of the road is a matter to be settled between Japan and China. Japan can keep the road or surrender it to China. If she elects the latter course Japan will, therefore, obtain as an indirect "spoil of war" from Russia the $75,000,000 in addition to reimbursement for the cost of maintaining the Russian prisoners of war.

Dispatch That Passed Censor.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 11.—A dispatch from Godzyadani of September 8, only a small portion of which was allowed to pass the St. Petersburg censor, says that on August 14 there were 20,500 sick men and wounded men and officers in the military hospitals.

No orders have yet been given for the return to home ports of the interned warships in accordance with the terms of the peace treaty. The admiralty can do nothing until notified of the telegraphic exchange of ratifications. When that occurs the vessels in condition to hoist the homeward bound pennant will start for the Baltic or Vladivostok under their own steam and with their own crews, as the period of internment has been used to repair all the damages sustained in the battle of August 10 and at the battle of the sea of Japan.

It is absolutely incorrect to say that any steps have been taken toward the execution of the new naval program, except the orders given for the construction of torpedo boats and for a 15,000-ton cruiser in England, as already announced. The next big vessel will probably be another 15,000-ton cruiser of the same type to be built on the Baltic.

Ships Not Subject to Seizure.

A dispatch to the effect that ships carrying contraband of war are not subject to seizure during the armistice is declared here to be incorrect. It was explained today that such vessels are subject to previous existing conditions until the exchange by telegraph between St. Petersburg and Tokyo of news of the ratification of the peace treaty. The armistice will be fully effective in all other directions.

TOKYO, Sept. 11.—On September 9 the Japanese in north Korea dispatched the bearer of a flag of truce to the Russians camp, but the Russians refused to treat owing to the non-arrival of the notice that an armistice was to be arranged. Skirmishing occurred in Manchuria September 9. Two companies of Russian infantry with two guns opened an attack, but were outflanked by the Japanese and fled in disorder, leaving 40 corpses.

The special session of the privy council today lasted for four hours. No bill was presented, only a report from the cabinet ministers, Premier Katsura making an extended statement of the peace negotiations.

According to the constitution a treaty with other powers requires to be submitted to the council before ratification. It is unusual to hold a special sitting for simply making a report on diplomatic affairs before a treaty assumes a form ready for ratification, and the sitting today, without a special bill, was rather unexpected.

Opposition political parties have appointed an extensive committee to fully report on sufferings alleged to have been caused by the police during the recent rioting. The progressives and their local branches continue to press resolutions against the government. The Shiba branch condemns the government's assumption of the power to suspend newspapers, declaring it to be wholly unconstitutional. Quiet, however, prevails in Tokyo.

JOHNSON ROBS TILL.

Dashes Away from Store With Fat Pocketbook, but Is Caught After Hard Chase.

Officer James Baker chased William Johnson half a dozen blocks yesterday afternoon, along Third avenue, Ross street, Grant and Water streets, where he finally caught him and sent him to Central station. Johnson went into the store of H. A. Lande, 425 Third avenue, and asked for 10 cents' worth of ice. When Lande went to get it in the rear yard Johnson got behind the counter and was opening the cash drawer just as Lande was returning.

Johnson ran and Lande followed, calling loudly for the police. Officer Baker was near at hand and caught him. In Johnson's side pocket was found a purse which Lande claimed. It contained $123 in paper and a $2.50 gold piece, $13 in loose paper and silver and a gold ring.

Some time later Michael Dwyer, a store keeper on Webster avenue, went to Cen- station and identified Johnson as a who had robbed his cash drawer eeks ago. He said Johnson had a with him and asked for oil and he went to the cellar for it John- obbed the till. The prisoner said s 22 years old and lived in Chicago.

HAVE THE PLAGUE WELL IN HAND

New Cases of Cholera in German Empire Are Few and Widely Spread.

MANY ARE UNDULY ALARMED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

BERLIN, Sept. 11.—An official bulletin issued today says that 16 cholera cases and 6 deaths were reported from noon, September 9 to noon, September 10, and 15 cases and 6 deaths from noon, September 10 to noon today, making the totals 161 cases and 58 deaths. The new cases are distributed as follows:

Tilsit district, 1; Marienburg, 4; Graudenz, 4; Schwetz, 1; Kulm, 1; Marienwerder, 4; Friedberg, 1; Landsberg-on-the-Warthe, 1; Obornik, 2; Posen, 1; Filehne, 1; Hohensalza, 1; Bromberg, 1; Wirsitz, 3; Schubin, 1; Kolmar, 1, and Czarnikau, 1.

The symptoms of cholera have become so well understood throughout Germany that in numberless cases inocuous complaints such as cramps of the stomach are suspected by sufferers to be cholera, and physicians are summoned in wild haste. The doctors themselves are frequently misled and order patients off to the nearest cholera suspect barracks. Only bacteriological tests fix the presence or absence of the Asiatic cholera bacillus with certainty.

Although there were 31 fresh cases during the two days ending with noon, that is seven fewer than the preceding 48 hours. This furnishes continued cause for confidence at the ministry of health that the infection is under control, although a steady fight will be necessary to keep that control. The cost of the campaign is likely to be a considerable addition to the Prussian budget. In the province of West Prussia, where the cholera has been serious, nearly $100,000 has so far been spent.

Five hundred non-commissioned officers and men of the army railway building brigade who have been working near Thorn in the cholera area, were brought back to their barracks here yesterday under close sanitary control and are quarantined in the barracks. One of their number was left behind, suspected of having contracted cholera.

BROMBERG, PRUSSIA, Sept. 11.—Seven new cases of cholera were reported today in six villages in this administrative district. Two convicts have died of the disease at Gnesen.

MARIENWERDER, WEST PRUSSIA, Sept. 11.—Six fresh cases of cholera have been reported in five places in this district. Two deaths have occurred.

FAMOUS "KILTIES" ARE AT LUNA PARK THIS WEEK

Music at Pittsburgh's New Pleasure Resort Has a Scotch Flavor This Week.

The head-liners at Luna park this week are "The Kilties," a famous band of Scotchman from Canada, who dress in Highland costume and who play classical and popular music in an artistic and pleasing manner. The band arrived yesterday over the P. & L. E. road, and after the street parade through the downtown district marched to Luna park, where they opened their engagement in the afternoon.

Last evening's programs were highly enjoyable from every standpoint, being interspersed with singing and dancing by the Clan Johnstone troupe. A bagpipe solo by Pipe-Major Albert Johnstone was a feature of the concert, as was also the singing of the Kilties choir.

Much interest attached last evening to the prize cake walk given at Luna when eight dusky couples occupied the platform and walked as few cake walking artists have ever done before.

The "Kilties" will have several special concerts during their engagement here, but interest attaches chiefly to the Scotch concert on Thursday evening. Invitations have been sent out by the management of Luna park to all the Scotch residents of Pittsburgh, whose name by the way is legion, and the concert on that evening promises to be a "braw" occasion. Tonight's programs follow:

March, "Tannhauser"	Wagner
Overture, "Magic Flute"	Mozart
Bagpipe solo	Hon. Pipe-Maj. Albert Johnstone
Waltzes, "Immortellen"	Gungl
Scotch Reel	Clan Johnstone Troupe
Part Song	Kilties Choir
INTERMISSION.
Grand Selection, Maritana	Wallace
Sword Dance	Mr. Tom Johnstone
Flower Song (a) "Hearts and Flowers"	Tobani
(b) "Badinage"	Herbert
Sailor's Hornpipe	Clan Johnstone Troupe
Ballet, Music from William Tell	Rossini
Irish Jig	Clan Johnstone Troupe
March, "Entry of the Gladiators"	Fuick

NO MENTION OF WIFE.

Will of Charles H. Burchinal of Toledo Devises All to Pittsburgh Relatives.

In the will of Charles H. Burchinal, filed at Toledo, O., yesterday, his entire estate is devised to his brothers and sisters in Pittsburgh, and Herbert C. Burchinal is named as executor. The devisees are Edward F. Burchinal of Sheridanville, Herbert C. Burchinal, Walter D. Burchinal and Mrs. Eleanor B. Vaillant.

In the will no mention is made of his wife, who filed papers for a divorce some time before his death.

It was stated in a telegram from Toledo last evening that the widow, Mrs. Mina Burchinal, was demanding a settlement and insisting that if one is not forthcoming she will sue for her share. This was denied last evening by Herbert C. Burchinal, who had just returned from Toledo. "I saw Mrs. Burchinal today and she said nothing about such action," he said. "The laws of the state of Ohio provide for her receiving her due proportion."

NEGRO ATTACKS GIRL AND DEMANDS MONEY

WASHINGTON, PA., Sept. 11.—(Special.)—An unknown negro made a brutal attack on a nurse at the Washington hospital last night. The nurse, whose name is withheld, was on one of the principal residence streets, when a negro suddenly seized her and placing one hand over her mouth, demanded her money. The nurse held out the pocketbook but it was knocked from her hand and the negro attempted to strike her but she dodged the blow and screamed for help. The negro then fled. No arrest has been made.

Armstrong Democrats Name Ticket.

KITTANNING, PA., Sept. 11.—(Special.)—The Democratic ticket for Armstrong county was completed today and certificates of nominations filed. At the county nomination there were no candidates for treasurer, prothonotary and register and recorder. A committee was appointed to supply candidates and the complete ticket is as follows: Treasurer, William P. Heckman; prothonotary, R. W. Reynolds; register and recorder, William Hutchison; commissioners, Alex Montgomery, Andrew Gallagher; jury commissioners, J. F. McNutt and Robert Lemmon.

Continue the Shea Case.

SCRANTON, Sept. 11.—On account of the inability of President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers to be present, the celebrated Shea case, in which the constitutionality of the miners' certificate act is attacked, was continued in equity court today until the next term.

Attorney Victim of Paralysis.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Sept. 11.—(Special.)—While seated in the court room this afternoon Attorney Frank A. Blackstone was suddenly attacked by paralysis. He apparently fell asleep in his chair, but efforts to arouse him were in vain. He was taken to the hospital.

Second Trial of Physician.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Sept. 11.—(Special.—The second trial of Dr. Edwin S. Cooper convicted and sentenced to two years' imprisonment for conspiring to perform criminal malpractice upon Miss Mabel Williams of Johnstown, Pa., who died here September 16, 1902, at Mrs. Della Talbitzer's home, was begun here this afternoon.

SOCIETY

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES W. DICKINSON of East End avenue will issue invitations in a few days for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Grace Dickinson, and Dr. Edward A. Waugaman. It will be a home wedding at 7:30 o'clock on the evening of Tuesday, October 3, with the Rev. A. R. Van Fosson, pastor of the East End Presbyterian church, as officiant. Miss Dickinson will have as her attendants a matron of honor, Mrs. Harry Feely, who announced the engagement, and as bridesmaids Miss Sarah Bud Dillon of Coraopolis and Miss Maud Waugaman of this city. Andrew Muirhead will be Dr. Waugaman's best man and the ushers will include Albert Frampton and Harry Feely. A wedding supper and reception will follow the ceremony. At the conclusion of their honeymoon tour Dr. Waugaman and his bride will be at home with Mr. and Mrs. Dickinson in East End avenue. At-home days for after November 1 have been announced. Several social affairs will be given for Miss Dickinson before her marriage, among those already scheduled being a plate shower at which Miss Dillon will be hostess, next Saturday afternoon; a china shower which Mrs. J. T. Garling will give on September 23, and the rehearsal dinner to be given by Mr. and Mrs. Dickinson on the wedding eve.

Ushers for Gilleland-King Wedding.

The ushers required to complete the bridal party attending Miss Kathrene Louise Gilleland and Charles H. King at their wedding on September 14 have been chosen. They are John Bradley of Bellevue, Paul Aehe of Allegheny, Lester Degelman of Pasadena, Cal., and Harry Turner of Wilkinsburg. W. Arthur Gilleland, the bride's brother, will serve as best man. Miss Elizabeth Brinker, who is to be maid of honor, gave a handkerchief shower for the bride-elect yesterday afternoon, the shower being followed by fancy work. Miss Ida Niele, one of the bridesmaids, will be hostess at a luncheon this afternoon, the guests including the other girls in the bridal party.

To Have Junior Club.

A new euchre club is to be formed in the East End as a branch of the East End Euchre club, which is being reorganized this year with the same officers as before. The new club will be known as the Junior East End Euchre club, and will have the same officers as the parent club. The officers are: President, Charles S. Boehm; vice president and secretary, John Presy, and treasurer, Herbert Hauser. The first meeting of the club will be held during the second week in November.

Dance for Four School Girls.

Four students from St. Margaret's school will share the honors of the dance to be given this evening by Mrs. George E. McCague of Sewickley. The dance will be conducted in the Edgeworth club house, in honor of Miss Alice McCague, a daughter of the hostess, and her three visiting friends, Miss Marguerite Hubbard of Cleveland and Miss Edith Semans and Miss Josephine Boyd, both of Uniontown. The girls will resume their studies at St. Margaret's on September 18.

Mr. Siebeneck in Bethlehem.

Henry King Siebeneck of Beech street, Allegheny, will be among the guests at the wedding of Miss Helen Macbeth and Dr. William B. Boggess, scheduled for today at the summer home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Macbeth, in Bethlehem, N. H. Among other local guests at the wedding will be Judge and Mrs. James Hay Reed, Miss Katherine Reed, Miss Harriet Balken, Miss Roma Huselton and Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Spencer.

Reception to Wilmerding Pastor.

A reception was given last night in honor of the return of the Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Ricketts of the Wilmerding United Presbyterian church. The affair was in charge of the elders of the church, and was held in the parsonage. About 130 persons were in attendance. A luncheon was served by the Aid society. Mr. and Mrs. Ricketts returned last week from a month's trip through California and Yellowstone Park.

Cards in Oakmont.

Oakmont is to have its usual quota of smart little social affairs this week. One of the most interesting will be the afternoon of cards with Mrs. Thomas P. Henderson and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Clarence Henderson, as hostesses, on Thursday. The guest list includes the married women of the borough, together with a few friends of the two hostesses from the younger set.

Home from Summer Trips.

Miss Eleanor Dorrington Mustin of Shady avenue, East End, has returned to her home after visiting with Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Sibley of Franklin. Her mother, Mrs. William Irwin Mustin, is home from Lake Chautauqua, where she spent some time at the various resorts along the lake.

Notes from the Musical World.

John C. Dickson, well known in Pittsburgh's musical circles, began a tour of eastern cities yesterday morning.

Notes of Society.

Miss Margaret P. Hagen will entertain this afternoon at her home in Zara street in honor of her house guests, the Misses Jerrome of West Liberty, W. Va.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Smith of Fayette street, Allegheny, have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Clara Lytle Smith, and Clifford Gordon Branigan of New York, the wedding to take place on September 19.

Among the Clubs.

Will Never Be Christianized.

Japan will be Japan to the end of the world. It will never be Christianized. The people are so self-centered, so antagonistic to foreign influences, only so far as they may use them to reach a higher commercial plane, and so thoroughly imbued with the teachings of Confucius and ancestor worship that it is impossible for the missionaries to effect a genuine change of heart.

This is an epitome of the impressions gained by Mrs. Henry J. Bailey during her recent visit to Japan, and formed the gist of her talk on Japan and the Japanese yesterday afternoon before the Keystone chapter, Daughters of the American Pioneers. Mrs. Bailey is the regent of the chapter and presided at the meeting which was held at the home of Mrs. Minnie Ourey Roberts at Carlin station, near Crafton. As the meeting was in the nature of a reunion of the daughters, several of whom have been away from the city for several months, little business was attended to. The formal program consisted of the regent's talk of her travels, music and the reading of a poem, "Columbia," by Mrs. Daniel Patterson, the state regent. Arrangements were also made for a reception which the chapter will give in honor of Mrs. Bailey and Mrs. Alfred E. Clarke, at the home of Mrs. John Musgrave, Center avenue, on Friday afternoon, September 22. The committee of arrangements is composed of Mrs. Roberts, chairman; Mrs. Thomas P. Fleeson and Mrs. John Musgrave.

In her talk Mrs. Bailey also described a visit to the Pioneer club of California. Mrs. Bailey and Mrs. Clarke on their way to the Pacific last March to sail for Japan, missed their boat by several hours and were compelled to remain in San Francisco for 10 days. While there they were entertained by several of the women's clubs of that city, which were most hospitable, and visited the Pioneer club, of which only the men who went west during the gold fever days of '49 are members.

After the informal program was concluded tea was served, Mrs. Roberts' daughter, Mrs. Z. Bailey Ogden, and Mrs. Dallas Albert presiding at the tea table. The decorations were very pretty, red roses being in the parlors and yellow and white flowers on the tea table. The next meeting of the club will be held the first Monday in October, and thereafter the daughters will only meet once in two months.

China Painters Home Again.

The Duquesne Ceramic club held its quarterly meeting yesterday afternoon, the president, Mrs. Albert J. Pettet, who spent all last winter in the Isle of Pines and returned to Pittsburgh late in June, presiding. Nearly all the other members of the club who have been away from home for the summer are now back in the city. The club yesterday arranged for the showing in Pittsburgh of the traveling exhibit of the League of American Mineral Painters on November 16, 17 and 18 at Hamilton & Clark's in Penn avenue, near Fourth street, almost opposite the Hotel Lincoln. The need of a permanent home for the club was also discussed. Some time ago application was made for a room in the enlarged Carnegie Institute, and this application will now be renewed. Application has also been made to the trustees of the Carnegie institute for permission to hold the annual exhibition of the club next March in the art galleries. The club now has a membership of 48.

Preparing to Open in November.

A meeting of the committee having in charge the furnishing of the new wing to the United Presbyterian Home for the Aged, Penn and Trenton avenues, Wilkinsburg, will be held today. The managers expect to have the wing completed so that the committee can furnish it in time for the dedication and formal opening early in November. The meeting of the committee was postponed from yesterday because of the absence of Mrs. H. C. Campbell, president of the United Presbyterian Women's association, who has been in New York since early last week. The wing being erected at a cost approximating $25,000, is uniform in style with the wing erected several years ago on the Trenton avenue side of the main building.

Opening of Kindergarten College.

The Kindergarten college opened yesterday morning. The students were arranged in their classes and informal addresses were made by the superintendent and supervisor, Miss Georgia Allison, and the principal, Miss Elizabeth Culp. Today the real college work will commence. The college this year opens with 30 new students, making a total in the three classes, junior, senior and post-graduate, of 50 young women.

Noted Miniature Painter Here.

Mrs. Vance Phillip of New York is visiting Miss Eichleay of Bouquet street, Oakland. Early next week Miss Eichleay will give a tea for her visitor, the other guests to be members of the Duquesne Ceramic club, who are invited to meet her. Mrs. Phillip is the head of the summer school of china painting at Chautauqua and is a well-known ceramic painter and miniature artist.

More Milk Dealers in Trouble.

Agent W. A. Hutchinson of the State Dairy and Food commission made information against four more milk dealers yesterday before Alderman John Groetzinger. James Anderson, dairyman; John H. Whye, restaurant proprietor of McKees Rocks, and A. C. Rosenberry and O. L. Brown, dairymen of Sheraden, are the accused men. They are all charged with the preserving of milk by the use of formaldehyde. At a hearing yesterday afternoon Anderson was held for court under $300 bail, which he furnished. Whye, Rosenberry and Brown all waived a hearing and furnished $300 bail for their appearance at court.

QUEER THINGS IN REAL ESTATE DEALINGS ABROAD

Hale and hearty, with every appearance of the best of health and spirits David P. Black, president of the Real Estate Trust Company, yesterday sat in his private office surrounded by beautiful bouquets and receiving the congratulations of dozens of his business friends who called to shake his hand after his return from a three-months' tour of Europe. Evidently Mr. Black "did" Europe in an easy manner and came back refreshed instead of worn out. His genuine enjoyment of the trip may be attributed partly to the fact that he kept away in most part from the beaten paths of the tourist, and in an automobile saw the things that most Americans miss. Mr. Black, with his wife and daughter, covered about 1,000 miles in an auto, mostly in Germany.

Mr. Black's tour also took him through England, France, Belgium, Holland and Switzerland. He says that the general business conditions in these countries are good and that both merchants and manufactures talk in a hopeful manner. Some very curious things were observed in the transaction of real estate dealings in the Old World, a few of which Mr. Black spoke of yesterday.

"Gradually the dealers on the other side of the water are getting Americanized in their ways of dealing," said Mr. Black. "They have made great improvement in the 14 years since I was there and now have many methods in common with the American dealers, including brokerage houses, agents and salesmen. There is very much less congestion outside of London, and prices of property are accordingly lower. One of the queer things one notices is the real estate signs put up on property. Although they read "To Let" and "For Sale," as ours do, in London the sign specifies whether the property is a leasehold or a freehold. Still more curious is the clause on the sign saying that the buyer can deal through the broker whose names appears at the head of the sign or through his own broker."

UNCLE SAM OBJECTS TO THE CUBAN TREATY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Inquiry at the state department into the status of the Anglo-Cuban treaty, which is now before the commercial bodies of Havana for an expression of opinion as to its merits, has developed the fact that last June the state department, through American Minister Squires, lodged a most energetic protest with the authorities at Havana against the consummation of the treaty as it then stood.

The principal objection was that it might operate in the future to prevent the conclusion of another treaty between the United States and Cuba in the nature of reciprocal favors to be bestowed upon the shipping of the two countries.

Minister Squires has been instructed that the treaty would not be objectionable if a provision were attached that it shall not be invoked by the British government as a basis for demanding favored nation treatment such as would be enjoyed by the United States in any treaty to be entered into in the future with Cuba.

ENGINEERS VISIT PRESIDENT.

Mr. Roosevelt Will Tolerate No Unnecessary Delay in Building the Panama Canal.

OYSTER BAY, L. I., Sept. 11.—An important conference took place at Sagamore Hill today between President Roosevelt and the board of consulting engineers for the Panama canal.

The president is anxious that the work on the great waterway should be prosecuted vigorously and with as little delay as possible. He will tolerate no unnecessary delay.

MANY BRADDOCK HOMES ARE LOOTED BY THIEVES

They Operate Nearly All Night and a Varied Assortment of Plunder is Secured.

Burglars made a wholesale raid on houses in the vicinity of Talbot avenue and Fourth street, Braddock, early yesterday morning, securing a miscellaneous collection of jewelry, clothing and wearing apparel. The houses entered and the goods taken are as follows:

Thomas McCauly, 418 Talbot avenue, two suits of clothing and a number of small pieces of jewelry; Edward Flinn, 415 Talbot avenue, man's watch, valued at $50; Mrs. Selma Lotsman, 406 Talbot avenue, clothing and food stuff; Grey's market, Talbot avenue, meat and $3 in money; Kittell Bros.' bakery, Third street, cakes, pies and bread; Thomas Burkhart, 412 Talbot avenue, clothing and two silver ornaments; Frederick Sayers, Oliver street, women's clothing.

Efforts were made by the thieves to enter nearly a dozen other houses in the same vicinity and it is thought they worked in the neighborhood for the greater part of the night. At the home of Frederick Heinz at 418 Talbot avenue, they were frightened away, but returned about an hour later and attempted to enter the adjoining house and were again chased away by Mr. Heinz.

Signs Requisition Papers.

Harry E. Holman, receiver for the Duquesne, Lafayette and North American Mutual Fire Insurance companies of this city, returned to Pittsburgh yesterday morning. Holman and Attorney Kahle went to Harrisburg to have the governor sign requisition papers for the return of A. G. Marshall, an officer and director of the insurance companies, who was arrested last week in New York. The governor was located at Phenixville and after he attached his signature to the papers Attorney Kahle went to Albany.

To Improve McKeesport Water System.

Select and common councils of McKeesport met last night, an ordinance being introduced into each providing for a vote of the citizens of McKeesport on a $200,000 bond issue for the building of a filtration plant and other improvements to the water system. The ordinances were passed.

WHAT JOY THEY BRING TO EVERY HOME

as with joyous hearts and smiling faces they romp and play—when in health—and how conducive to health the games in which they indulge, the outdoor life they enjoy, the cleanly, regular habits they should be taught to form and the wholesome diet of which they should partake. How tenderly their health should be preserved, not by constant medication, but by careful avoidance of every medicine of an injurious or objectionable nature, and if at any time a remedial agent is required, to assist nature, only those of known excellence should be used; remedies which are pure and wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, like the pleasant laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. Syrup of Figs has come into general favor in many millions of well informed families, whose estimate of its quality and excellence is based upon personal knowledge and use.

Syrup of Figs has also met with the approval of physicians generally, because they know it is wholesome, simple and gentle in its action. We inform all reputable physicians as to the medicinal principles of Syrup of Figs, obtained, by an original method, from certain plants known to them to act most beneficially and presented in an agreeable syrup in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to promote the pleasant taste; therefore it is not a secret remedy and hence we are free to refer to all well informed physicians, who do not approve of patent medicines and never favor indiscriminate self-medication.

Please to remember and teach your children also that the genuine Syrup of Figs always has the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package and that it is for sale in bottles of one size only. If any dealer offers any other than the regular Fifty cent size, or having printed thereon the name of any other company, do not accept it. If you fail to get the genuine you will not get its beneficial effects. Every family should always have a bottle on hand, as it is equally beneficial for the parents and the children, whenever a laxative remedy is required.

ASKS COURT TO REMOVE A LETTER

WIFE FILES EQUITY SUIT

Claiming that a letter she sent to agents who rented her property to Harry Davis, the theatrical manager, casts a cloud upon her title, Mrs. Mary McClure of Ann Arbor, Mich., has filed a bill in equity in court of common pleas No. 3, to have this letter removed from the county records. The defendants are Harry Davis and the Samuel Black Co., real estate dealers. Mrs. McClure alleges that the company sent its secretary, O. B. Hitchcock, to see her at Ann Arbor. He represented that the company desired to act as her agent in renting property she owns at Fifth avenue and Smithfield street, and had in view a tenant whom they thought would pay $14,000 a year on a long lease, with the privilege of tearing down the building and erecting a new structure to cost not less than $50,000. She declined to accept this but wrote a letter agreeing to accept $20,000 rental annually. He then told her the prospective tenant was Harry Davis, who was worth not less than $2,000,000. The company on July 1, notified her that they had closed for Davis at $20,000 for 25 years. She refused to sign the lease because no security was offered for the rent.

Later the Black company placed her letter agreeing to rent at $20,000 on record at the court house. She avers that this was done to cast a cloud upon her title and asks that the letter be returned to her and the records straightened.

Starts Proceedings Against Husband.

Louise Mauritz began equity proceedings against her husband August Mauritz. She asks that the defendant be restrained from selling or incumbering property in the Twenty-fifth ward in fraud of the rights of her or her children. Mrs. Mauritz on Saturday filed a libel in divorce against her husband, alleging cruel and barbarous treatment.

The Monongahela Trust Company was appointed receiver of the Kilgore & Atkins Sporting Goods Company of Homestead at the suit of C. R. Atkinson and D. S. Kennedy, who own 221 shares of the company's stock. It was represented in a bill in equity that the company has debts of $18,000, while its assets are valued at $25,000, in addition to a building on a leased lot. The company has a good business, and if properly managed can pay all its debts.

Harry G. Tinker, trustee in bankruptcy of the National Concrete Steel Company, began proceedings in equity to have the company's stock assessed to pay the unsecured debts, the expenses of the bankruptcy and of the suit filed by the trustee. One of the heaviest holders of stock, it is alleged, is bankrupt, and another, who is given as Frank H. McKinnie, is named as a defendant along with the company for which the plaintiff is trustee.

The master in the divorce suit of Gennaro De Grazia against Maria Pallone De Grazia has filed a report recommending a decree on grounds of infidelity. The husband testified they were married in 1897, and he left her in 1901 at his father's while he went to Cuba to look for work. Returning, he said, he found her living with another man.

Want the Bill Dismissed.

In the equity suit of Joseph S. Stevenson against George L. Epps, Epps' wife and others, a suit arising over patent rights in steel ties, the Epps' have answered. They deny their interest in the patent rights are subject to the plaintiff, and ask the court to dismiss the bill, the allegations of which they deny in a full and complete manner.

The wholesale liquor license of Neil McDermott, ex-burgess of McKees Rocks, who was killed Saturday night while driving on Neville island, was transferred to his wife.

In the equity suit of the Pennsylvania Water Company against the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, an action to restrain the defendant from interfering with the plaintiff's water main at Port Perry, the preliminary injunction was continued until Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Lewis Hertzel has answered the suit of Snowden township against him, an action arising over laying some pipes in a roadway. He says that he substituted two 18-inch pipes for one 20-inch conduit under the supervision of the township.

A petition in bankruptcy was filed by John F. Gerbracher, a merchant of 301 Cherry street, Erie, Pa. He gives his assets as $1,921.77 and his liabilities as $2,250.20.

The Armstrong Cork Company filed a bill in equity in the United States circuit court asking for a perpetual injunction restraining the Bruening Cork Company of Oakdale from using or manufacturing a new improvement in feed mechanism for cork-cutting machines, for which the plaintiff owns the patent.

Final Account Is Filed.

The first and final account of Aaron French's estate has been filed, showing balances as follows: Personal estate, $27,076.88; real estate, $322,328.02. In the personal estate the accountants charge themselves with $82,417.86, and claim credit for $55,340.98. The largest receipts include two notes of $5,000 each and a claim against the Creighton M. & M. Co. of $2,640.67, and the disbursements show $3,658 for professional services of Dr. Stuart Patterson and $1,008 to H. Samson, the undertaker. In the realty account the accountants charge themselves with $323,576.05, and claim credits of $1,248.03 for expenses connected with handling the estate. The account of the proceeds of the realty sales shows several large ones in Homestead and a small one in Michigan. One in the Twentieth ward, Pittsburgh, is included in the list.

The supplemental final account of the estate of Thomas W. Jones was filed, showing a balance of $85,861.22, made up of stocks, bonds, dividends and interest. It includes 142 shares of Pittsburgh Mercantile Trust Company stock and $14,175 dividends on Jones & Laughlin Steel Company stock.

The first and final account of the estate of Thomas M. Gillespie shows a balance of $34,836.86, which includes the amounts distributed by the orphans court as the estate of J. J. Gillespie in May, 1900.

Executions issued—M. B. Brace vs. Amanda Nordenfeldt et al., $141; A. W. Holthouse vs. A. J. Millinger, $245; Peter Weinhauf vs. Maud Cochran et al, $109; Albert F. Stiefel vs. George L. King, notice, $6,094.

The will of Henry Lamp of McKeesport was offered for probate. It leaves the estate, valued at about $10,000, to the widow during her lifetime, and at her death to the children.

Grand Jury Returns.

The grand jury yesterday returned the following true bills: Embezzlement, Thomas B. Middelton, W. B. Sunderland; forgery, Kirk Graner, W. G. Richards, Robert Spegel (2); false pretense, Anna McCord, Robert Spegel (2), Max Kreman; felonious assault, W. H. Cooper, Daniel Darling, Fred Keller et al., Frank Rando; entering a building, G. W. Burdette, Howard Hall (2), Fred Schroder, Earl Wilson; burglary, William Jackson; larceny, Georgie Clark, John Edwards, Edward Mulligan, Patrick Sam, William Vandeveer, John Wilson, C. D. Miller et al., Margaret Rhine, W. G. Richards, Morris Robinson, Louis Schultz; aggravated assault, William Smith; assault and battery, Randolph Chapman, George West, "Bud" Witty, W. J. Gailbreth, James Heinzel.

Mrs. Mickle Gets Letters.

Mrs. Annie J. Mickle, who was acquitted of killing her husband, Harry Mickle, of Allegheny, by a jury in criminal court Saturday morning, appeared in the office of Register Stengel yesterday and secured letters of administration on the estate of her deceased husband. She was accompanied by her attorneys, J. L. Ritchey and W. A. Jordan, who defended her. The estate is valued at about $125, and her attorneys became her bondsmen to the orphans court in $250. The affidavit shows that Mickle died intestate, and is signed by Mrs. Mickle.

RESIDENTS OF NEWPORT CELEBRATE PERRY DAY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 11.—"Perry Day," the most important day in "Old Home week" in this city, and named in honor of Rhode Island's great naval hero, Commodore Perry, was observed today. Statues of Perry were handsomely decorated, as was also the old stone mill. On the principal streets festooned arches were erected, bearing words of welcome, and flags and bunting were displayed throughout the city.

Prominent in the decorations were pictures of Commodore Perry and of President Roosevelt. Thousands of former residents and other visitors thronged the streets. The principal event of the day was a naval parade of sailors and marines from the vessels of the coast squadron of the North Atlantic fleet and apprentice seamen from the naval training station.

Tonight both city and harbor were brilliantly illuminated. The flagship Texas and the monitors Nevada, Florida and Arkansas were outlined in electric lights. The most spectacular feature of the marine illumination, however, was the playing of the searchlights from all the warships upon the American flags on the signal masts of the vessels. There was also a beautiful electrical display at the torpedo station.

GRAVE-ROBBERY CASE ON TRIAL

DUFFY AND JACKSON GET OFF

Desecrating the bones of former priests, smashing their coffins and stealing the silver coffin handles that he might dispose of them as old silver, were the crimes charged against Christian Frederick Bauen, who was placed on trial in criminal court yesterday, before Judge Macfarlane. According to the testimony of the Allegheny police, Bauen is a self-confessed grave robber; what his defense will be has not yet been disclosed, but in spite of the alleged confessions he is fighting the case hard, being represented by Attorney Ralph Tannehill.

Bauen is charged with entering the vault of St. Mary's cemetery under the chapel on Nunnery Hill, last June, desecrating the sepulcher, and robbery, by Acting Superintendent of Police Glenn of Allegheny. The prisoner, who is a bright looking young man, watched his case closely yesterday and on several occasions coached his attorney on questions put to the witnesses.

William Rappert, who is a care-taker at the cemetery, testified that there had been no burials at the cemetery for over 12 years. He described the arrangement of the crypt and told how when a lady was placed in the vault it was sealed with a marble slab. Rappert testified to going to the vault on June 20, and finding the slab torn away and broken, and the bones of the priests thrown about in confusion. The silver coffin handles, he said, had been pried off and were missing. Rappert said the reason he visited the vault was to prepare for the removal of the remains of the priests to St. Vincent's monastery at Latrobe.

Testimony of the Police.

Detective Cecil G. Rice, who arrested Bauen while the latter was attempting to sell three silver discs at a wholesale jewelry house in Penn avenue, testified that Bauen told him he had secured the discs by melting down a quantity of old silverware he had found in the cellar of his boarding house in Allegheny.

Detective John King of Allegheny said that Bauen told him that he had robbed the vault, but was sorry and would never do it again if he secured his freedom.

A. H. Kane, clerk of the bureau of detectives, read a confession Bauen made to Superintendent of Detectives McQuaide. Bauen told of the robbing of the vault in detail and the confession was taken down in writing by Kane. In the confession Bauen said he had gone into St. Mary's chapel out of curiosity, on June 20, and seeing the trap door leading down to the vault beneath, had lifted it and gone down. He stated that the coffins were all broken and that he had easily twisted off the silver handles and left the vault. He said he took the handles to the residence of Mrs. Edward Spangler in Henderson street, and borrowing an old skillet from her, melted the silver handles into discs.

Mrs. Spangler testified that she had always treated Bauen as a son and had given him the skillet to melt the handles. She said she was under the impression that the coffin handles had been left at the house by a man named Frank Hock as he had called at the house with a bag containing some heavy articles a short time before. She was made to admit that Bauen had served a workhouse sentence for theft, but stated she did not believe he was guilty of the crime charged on that occasion.

Morris Harris, a pawnbroker, testified that Bauen had visited his store with the silver discs which he wanted to sell for $50. He advanced Bauen $10 while the discs were being tested, and returned the silver to him the next day on the latter refunding the advance. Bauen told Harris that he had melted silverware he had brought from the old country to form the discs. At the conclusion of Harris' testimony adjournment was taken until today.

Braddock Burglary Case.

Martin Duffy and Patrick Jackson were acquitted on a charge of entering a building with intent to commit a felony. Martin O'Donnell, who was named in the information with Duffy and Jackson, was shot and died in the McKeesport hospital, and County Detective Jerry Lutz is charged with shooting him.

The building entered was the store of Andi Kosale, 1138 Braddock avenue, Braddock. O'Donnell, the dead man, is said ot have been in the store when the alar mwas given, but the others were outside. This was testified to by Kosale and his wife. Kosale also said that O'Donnell had a lot of catsup baked beans, etc., in his coat lining when caught.

Both defendants denied any complicity in the affair. Jackson said the first he knew of the cause of arrest was when he was told after his arrest. He admitted he had spent two years in the workhouse and to having been in Morganza. Duffy said he, too, had been in Morganza. He admitted that he returned a can of beans to Kosale's daughter. The verdict of acquittal was returned in a short time.

William J. Robinson, formerly a justice of the peace of Swissvale, entered pleas of guilty in three charges of false pretense and one of forgery. He was sent to the penitentiary for two years on each charge, all to run consecutively. He passed a check for $26 on the Hotel Duquesne, a check for $18 on C. M. Hostetter, a Wood street merchant; one for $225 on W. Y. Bygato of the Hotel Henry, and one for $18.15 on F. G. Stieren, an optician. Several others testified that Robinson had made unsuccessful efforts to pass checks on them.

Other Cases Disposed Of.

Other cases disposed of were as follows: Charles Bender, larceny, 20 days to the workhouse; Robert Clark, entering a building, one year to the workhouse; Mike Soroned, larceny and receiving stolen goods, 90 days to the workhouse.

A nol pros was allowed in the case of Nattie Simcox, charged by Joseph G. Wasson of the Joseph Horne Company with false pretense, larceny and receiving stolen goods. It was claimed she secured goods on December 23, 1904, by misrepresentations and also stole some of them.

MAKE GOOD FARMERS.

Boys at Industrial Home Reap Rich Harvest During Past Season.

The managers of the Boys' Industrial home at Oakdale met yesterday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. building. Superintendent J. W. Cleland reported that the work on the farm during the summer had been very satisfactory. Six hundred bushels of oats and 110 bushels of wheat were threshed, about 40 tons of hay harvested, and many vegetables raised for use at the home. A silo was built, an addition to the green house constructed and other improvements made.

The receipts from all sources during August were $1,315.48; in that month seven prominent Pittsburghers sent in their checks for $100 each to Treasurer Charles F. Dean. The board discussed the need of a new farm house, the present buildings being altogether inadequate and John T. Findley, W. H. Jamison and Major J. W. Nesbit were appointed a committee to prepare plans for a new structure.

Held Back by the Contractors.

The Grant school, First ward, Bellevue, and the Pitcairn borough schools, which were to have opened yesterday, will have to remain closed, as the buildings are not finished. The desks, seats and blackboards for the Bellevue school are said to be held up on the railroad near Grand Rapids, Mich., from which place the furniture was shipped. The contractors expect to have the new Pitcairn school finished by September 18.

Pittsburghers in Paris.

PARIS, Sept. 11.—(Special Cable.)—Among the Americans in Paris are: George J. Gusky, Mrs. G. Gusky and Miss Mary E. Gusky, and E. D. Nevin of Pittsburgh.

HAY FEVER

Two cents will prove that hay fever can be quickly stopped and cured.

Send a two-cent stamp to pay postage for a free sample of Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm—also Booklet on hay fever—to Pretzinger Bros., Chemists, Dayton, O.

"In all truth I can say that your Catarrh Balm gave me more relief during hay fever period than anything I ever tried and I spent 20 years in trying.

The most disagreeable feature of hay fever—the itching of the eyes—did not make its appearance at all and I sneezed very little. Above all, the Balm permitted me to sleep at night; an undisputed blessing." D. P. McNeal, 22 E. James St., Lancaster, Pa.

Mrs. Lilly Holland, Georgetown, Ky.

"The jar of Catarrh Balm I ordered from you helped me. I then got another jar from our druggist, which entirely cured me of hay fever. I had hay fever over 30 years and your Balm is the first and only thing which I found relieved and cured me." Mrs. Kate Morse, Convoy, Van Wert Co., O.

How To Make Children Healthy

Proper Care, Clean Teeth, Clean Skins, Healthful Stomachs, Plain, Wholesome Food.

The ills of man or woman are more often than not the result of improper care or training in childhood. The child does not know, and the parent is too often careless or negligent, and for this the child must suffer through grown-up years.

How often do you see a child who uses the tooth brush properly, yet many a misshapen mouth comes from that and many a stomach trouble comes from bad teeth. This is only one instance.

How many parents study what their children should eat? Many cases of constipation are caused by wrong food. A gentleman, the publisher of a well-known magazine, came into my office the other day and in speaking of these matters said: "Our little girl was badly constipated. We finally took her to a well-known sanitarium and they told us that the breakfast foods we had been using were to a considerable extent the cause. We tried several of those recommended by the doctor at the sanitarium, but the child didn't like them, although she improved somewhat in health. She always was fonder of Malta-Vita than any other breakfast food, so we got her that. She enjoyed it and after using it a short time she was completely rid of the trouble."

Now the people who make Malta-Vita do not advertise it as a cure for constipation, but they do claim, and with facts to back them, that it is the most perfect natural food on the market, and used regularly will restore to normal condition any person who is suffering from derangement of the digestive apparatus, and besides it is just the best you ever tasted.

Wheat has in it all of the elements of the human body. Wheat makes meat. Hutchison, the great British food expert, says that proteids, water and a little mineral salt will build tissue and nothing else will. Wheat is rich in proteids, almost 11 per cent, and Malta-Vita is the whole of the wheat. That's why Malta-Vita makes muscle. Malta-Vita also makes blood, bone and nerve force, because it is all of the wheat and prepared in such a way that it is quickly absorbed by the blood. Malta-Vita is now 10 cents at all grocers.

LEGAL NOTICES.

MILLER & MILLER, Attorneys-at-Law, 442 Fifth ave., Pittsburgh, Pa. In the orphans' court of Allegheny county. To Elizabeth Carnahan, David Carnahan, John Carnahan, or their respective legal representatives, or whoever may be interested in the legacies hereinafter mentioned: Take notice that on the 28th day of August, 1905, Robert A. Armstrong et al. presented their petition averring that they are the owners in fee of a tract of land (except the mining rights and coal under same) in Union township, Allegheny county, Pa., described as follows: Beginning at a point in the road and at line of lands of Purvis and Strahan; thence by said road north 24 degrees east 114.5 feet to land of T. J. D. Carnahan, trustee; thence by same north 26 degrees west 100 feet; thence by same north 14 degrees east 300 feet; thence by same south 26 degrees east 100 feet to said road; thence north 14 degrees east 265.4 feet to a point in another public road; thence by the last mentioned road the following seven courses and distances, north 28 degrees 15 minutes west 427.8 feet, north 36 degrees 45 minutes west 116.3 feet, north 40 degrees 20 minutes west 162.75 feet, north 34 degrees 1 minute west 162.6 feet, north 41 degrees 30 minutes west [illegible] feet, north 33 degrees 1 minute west 266 feet, north 37 degrees 45 minutes west 189.5 feet to a point in said last mentioned road; thence crossing said road and by land of the heirs of Wm. Carnahan, deceased, south 62 degrees west 242.6 feet; thence by same south 21 degrees 15 minutes east 888 feet; thence by same south 60 degrees 20 minutes west 126 feet; thence by land of Purvis and Strahan south 27 degrees 25 minutes east 1101.18 feet to the place of beginning. Containing 21.821 acres. That David Carnahan died seized of said land, inter alia, having his will probated January 3, 1855, and recorded in Will Book 8, page 61, in which he charged said land, inter alia, with the payment of three legacies, to wit: one of $40 per annum to his wife, Elizabeth, during widowhood; another of $30 to his son David, payable in one year after testator's decease; and the third of $30 to his son John, payable in one year from the death of said testator. That said legacies have not been released of record and that the period of twenty-one years has elapsed since said legacies became due, and no payment has been made within said period of any of said legacies or any interest thereon. And praying for satisfaction thereof. Whereupon said court ordered that notice of said facts be served by the sheriff of Allegheny county on said legatees, Elizabeth Carnahan, David Carnahan and John Carnahan, or their respective legal representatives, if to be found in said county, and having known residence, and if not, then to give public notice by advertisement requiring them to appear in said court on Saturday, September 30, 1905, at 10 o'clock a. m., to answer said petition and to show cause why the proper decree should not be granted, and said legacies satisfied of record. James W. Dickson, sheriff.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 1, 1905.
The co-partnership heretofore existing between the undersigned under the firm name of A. A. Wolf & Company, in the wholesale liquor business, in the city of Pittsburgh, Pa., has this day been dissolved by mutual consent, August A. Wolf retiring, having sold his entire interest in all the assets and good will of said business to Jacob Riesel and Fred Wolf, who have assumed to pay and will pay all the liabilities of said firm, and will continue the business at the old stand under the firm name and title of Wolf, Riesel & Company.

STOCK MARKET RALLIED, CLOSING NEAR THE BEST

Government Crop Report a Factor in the Advance. Call Loans Also Easier—Tonopah Extension the Active Local Feature.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The New York stock market opened decidedly weak yesterday, in response to the lower London quotations, and to the advance in discount rate of the Imperial Bank of Germany from 3 to 4 per cent. The weakness, however, was of short duration, and after the appearance of the government crop report, which was issued, under the new policy governing the department, at noon, the whole list recovered. Buying by shorts in the closing half hour gave the entire market the appearance of strength and final prices were at or near the best of the day. The transactions were on a smaller scale, the sales slightly exceeding 650,000 shares.

The advance in the German bank rate was not unexpected, in view of similar action by the Bank of England last week, but there is some difficulty experienced in squaring this action on the part of both banks with the reports of the vast accumulations of credits made in anticipation of a Russian indemnity loan. Two weeks ago when it became known that Japan had waived claims to a cash indemnity the bulls cited the removal of the need for financing a big indemnity loan as favoring easy money this fall, because the accumulations would be immediately released to the general market. Since that announcement, however, there has been an advance in discount rates in all the principal foreign markets, and call loans have advanced to the highest of the season in New York. Yesterday, however, after the bulk of renewals had been made at 3 per cent, the rate to stock exchange borrowers declined to 2¾ per cent, and that was the final quotation. This decline in the rate was looked upon more as reflecting the attitude of the banking interests toward the stock market, than as any indication of an increase in the actual supply of loanable funds.

The most active feature of the market was Erie common. It did not participate in the early weakness, the purchase by one large commission house of 25,000 shares serving to hold the stock steady to firm. Later in the day other buyers came, and finally the shorts began to cover, the effect of which was to advance the stock to 51. The close was at 50¾, a net advance of 2⅛ per cent. Accompanying this rise was a rumor that St. Paul had acquired control of the road, but there was no corresponding movement in St. Paul, which closed ⅛ per cent higher than on Saturday.

While the crop figures were credited with giving direction to the course of the market during the afternoon, the stocks which will benefit most by the record corn crop closed only fractionally higher. Union Pacific, which sold down to 128⅜ shortly after the opening, recovered to 130 just before the close. Pennsylvania closed only ¼ higher. Baltimore & Ohio, Norfolk & Western and Reading closed a shade lower.

American Smelting common was the strongest of the industrial list and advanced to 127. Amalgamated Copper declined to 79¾ just after the opening, on the weakness in the metal in the foreign markets, but subsequently recovered to 81, and closed with a net gain of ⅜ per cent. United States Steel preferred was active and higher during the afternoon, advancing to 103¾, and closing at 103, a gain of ½ per cent over Saturday. The common closed ¼ higher. The stock had the benefit of the announcement of the placing of large orders for steel rails and of a firm market for the entire metal list.

Commodity markets were active and irregular. Cotton closed lower, while wheat closed strong and higher, more on the estimated decrease in the Russian crop than on anything contained in the government report.

A little spurt of activity in Tonopah Extension just before the close of the day saved the local stock market from utter stagnation. Extension advanced to and closed at $6 05 on purchases of a little more than 2,000 shares by houses representing inside interests. The only other stock which displayed any signs of life was National Fire Proofing preferred, which sold off to and closed at 26. There was some discussion on the floor regarding dividend prospects, and it is inferred that some doubt on this point is at the bottom of the selling. Nevertheless, there is a good deal of bearish manipulation in the stock, and the dividend day is far enough off to suggest that discussion of dividend prospects is merely part of bear tactics. Crucible Steel common declined ⅛ to 12½, while the preferred advanced ⅝ to 64⅛. There were no transactions in any of the coal stocks or the Westinghouse issues, all of which closed nominally unchanged. Manufacturers Light & Heat declined to 36⅝ and Ohio Fuel Supply to 42½. The other natural gas shares were neglected.

FEATURES OF THE DAY

IN PITTSBURGH

On purchases of 2,000 shares the stock advanced to $6.05.

IN WALL STREET

Slightly easier tone to the call loan rate.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

While the rally in the stock market was credited to the government crop report, it is nevertheless a fact that the latter received less attention than usual. This was because there had been no change in weather conditions during August to foreshadow any important change in either wheat or corn. The figures indicate a yield of approximately 700,000,000 bushels of wheat and over 2,500,000,000 bushels of corn. Foreign advices yesterday indicated that there would be a good market for our exportable surplus. Broomhall cabled that the Russian report of the central statistical committee estimated the wheat yield at 135,200,000 bushels less than last year and the rye crop 228,400,000 bushels less than last year. Russia is a large consumer of rye and a large exporter of wheat, and the shortage of both crops in the same year will naturally tend to check exports of wheat. Some portion of this shortage will be made up by increased exports from the United States. The outlook therefore favors good prices for all the surplus wheat we will have for sale to foreign consumers.

The principal event of the day in the world's money market was the advance in the official discount of the Imperial Bank of Germany from 3 to 4 per cent. It was generally expected that after the rise in the Bank of England rate the German institution would raise the rate, but the advance of a full 1 per cent was not fully expected. The incident is a movement in the international contest for funds now developing between the world's money markets. The great foreign banks seem to desire to accumulate reserves in preparation for large government and other loans to be floated. It is clear that they will have to contend with pressure from New York to obtain additional funds in order to do this. Probably the action of the English and the German banks is partly a defensive measure against New York's demand. It did not prevent a further quite violent break in foreign exchange rates in New York, which carried the price of demand sterling within measureable distance of the rate at which gold could be engaged for import at a profit. It is expected that before that rate is touched further obstacles will be interposed in foreign markets. The price of gold was advanced in the London market yesterday as one such obstacle. Opinions in the banking community differ as to the likelihood of an early inward movement of gold. The bills offered in the exchange market which caused yesterday's break were most of them bankers' bills, which means that they represented further borrowing of foreign funds.

In the local curb market American Window Glass Machine common was quoted at 8 bid, 10 asked; do preferred, 35 asked; Fayette County Gas, 92 bid, 95 asked; Union Natural Gas, 103 bid; Luna Park, 105 asked; Oriental & Masbate, 60c asked; Golden Anchor, 88c bid, 96c asked; Trade Dollar, 1.50 asked.

The secretary of the Pittsburgh stock exchange was yesterday instructed by the arbitration committee to expunge from the records the sale of $50,000 Pittsburgh and Allegheny Telephone 5s at 86½, which was posted on the board last Tuesday. After the posting of the transaction a dispute arose as to its legality, which dispute was referred to the arbitration committee, with the result noted. This sale, therefore, is not recognized by the exchange as an official quotation.

Morris, Brown & Co., Darr, Luke & Moore and R. C. Hall were large buyers of Tonopah Extension on the advance. It was stated that there was no news from the mine, but that the completion of the broad gauge railroad had largely increased the facilities for shipping ore to the smelter.

The narrowness of the local market was again demonstrated yesterday when the entire session passed without a single transaction in any of the coal stocks or the Westinghouse issue. Eighty shares Pittsburgh Brewing common constituted all the business in that group, and 250 shares covered the dealings in the natural gas stocks. Considering the dullness, the tone of the market was firm.

It is thought that part of the contraction in loans reported by the New York banks on Saturday was due to the sale of a large block of Pennsylvania railroad 3½ per cent convertible bonds to foreign investors. As noted in this department last Saturday, Kuhn, Loeb & Co., the syndicate managers, made a third call upon members of the syndicate for the delivery of a certain percentage of their holdings of these bonds, indicating an improvement in the investment demand.

Directors of the Union Bag and Paper Company yesterday declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock.

L. D. Kneeland of Kneeland, Clement, Curtis & Co. of Chicago was a guest of Henry Sproul & Co. yesterday. Mr. Kneeland is a strong bull on wheat, and predicts the December option will be selling at $1 per bushel within 60 days.

The New York bond market yesterday was relatively duller than stocks, the transactions footing up only $1,627,000. Of the total $323,000 consisted of Japanese issues and $231,000 United States Steel 5s.

Municipal bond sales in August were $9,704,242, against $15,124,577 in August, 1904. The sales to date this year have been $132,592,505, against $187,226,966 last year.

Gross earnings of Norfolk & Western for the year ended June 30, 1905, increased $1,279,253, net increase $429,177. Surplus for the year, after deducting all fixed charges, amounts to $5,832,454, or 6.67 per cent earned on capital stock.

The Pennsylvania railroad has placed orders for 179,000 tons of steel rails for delivery next year. This is an increase of about 50,000 tons over last year's orders for delivery this year. The Reading railroad has closed a contract with the United States Steel corporation for 75,000 tons of standard section rails. It is estimated that between 500,000 and 600,000 tons of rails for delivery in 1906 have been placed. These orders represent a value of approximately $15,500,000.

From sources which are usually very well informed in regard to sterling exchange conditions it is predicted that should a rate of over 4 per cent be established for call money in New York, gold imports from Europe in large volume would take place.

The week opened with a further large absorption by the New York sub-treasury, and all reports point to the continued activity of business in all lines and the enormous movement of grain and merchandise over the railroads. The drain of currency to the interior is certain, therefore, to continue for several weeks yet.

UP-TURN OF MARKET IS MACHINE-MADE AFFAIR

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—The Herald this (Tuesday) morning says: Stocks yesterday were irregular, but in a general way the market underwent recovery after an early reaction. It can scarcely be said much enthusiasm attended the late upswing of prices. The movement had every appearance of being machine made, and was undoubtedly of pool origin.

Erie common, the very high price of which, on its recent poor showing, has already influenced almost as much distrust as was engendered by recent performances in Reading common, was made the leader. It was worked up in excess of two points. Naturally this had the effect of forcing some short covering, which was apparently the sole reason for the recovery. Dealings were of a professional nature, and commission houses generally acknowledged there was practically no public in the market.

News developments of the day were at variance. On the favorable or constructive side of the market was an excellent government crop report for September; indicating a bumper yield of corn and excellent wheat prospects. In addition to this, sterling exchange yielded further.

Opposed to this was the feeling of distrust concerning last Saturday's bank statement, and fear of higher money. What was regarded as some justification for the latter, was an advance from 3 to 4 per cent in the discount rate of the Imperial Bank of Germany, and the hardening of time and call rates at this center. The market was influenced solely, however, by the operators of professionals and by the pools and cliques. Business was poorly distributed.

BIG LUMBER CONTRACT.

Kittanning Firm Will Furnish 10,000,000 Feet of Hemlock to Pittsburgh Company.

The biggest lumber contract announced this year from the Greater Pittsburgh district has just been secured by the J. C. Moorhead Lumber Company of Kittanning, which has arranged to furnish 10,000,000 feet of lumber. The contract amounts to nearly $225,000. It was made with a leading Pittsburgh firm and will, it is understood, take practically the whole cut of the Moorhead company for a year or more.

Most of the lumber will be hemlock, and it will be cut from a tract of 10,000 acres of mixed timber in West Virginia, which the Moorhead company owns. A large force of men will be started at once on the work, so that a good supply of the lumber may be delivered this fall.

Another bill of lumber calling for over 1,000,000 feet, is now being figured in Pittsburgh. Several lots of from 500,000 to 1,000,000 feet are on the boards or will be shortly, and lumber dealers say that everything looks propitious for a big fall and winter trade.

Jury Holds Railroad Responsible.

NORFOLK, VA., Sept. 11.—Juries of inquest from Norfolk City and Norfolk county, which investigated the wreck of the Kinston-Greenville excursion train on the Atlantic coast line railway on August 17, when 17 persons lost their lives and 50 or more were injured, today returned verdicts holding the railroad company responsible.

Elect Prof. Donbart Principal.

The school board of Bridgeville has elected Prof. Donbart of Mars, Pa., principal of the Bridgeville school to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Prof. R. M. Bloss, who died September 1. Miss Nellie Roach of Bridgeville was elected a teacher. The school will open next Monday.

Standard Investment Bonds.

The Colonial Trust Company, No. 317 Fourth avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa., has for sale a variety of bonds yielding the purchaser from 3½ to 5 per cent, which it recommends as desirable investments. Inquire of Alexander C. Thompson, manager bond department.

THE THREE RIVERS

At 9 o'clock last evening the marks on the gauge at the Davis island dam indicated a stage of 6.5 feet, and the river was rising.

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 11.—At 6 p. m. today the Ohio river at Cincinnati was 7.7 feet and falling. Today's departures of packets from the port of Cincinnati were: Henry M. Stanley, Pomeroy; Courier, Maysville; Avalon, Madison, and City of Cincinnati, Louisville. The river is falling very fast here and may force some of the deeper draft boats to lay up before many days. A stage of 7.7 was reached tonight at 6 o'clock. This would indicate there is not much water above except in the pools along the shore. The Avalon left for Madison tonight in place of the Levi J. Workum, which has been laid up for minor repairs. On account of the prospect for low water for the next two months the boats plying out of this harbor will undergo repairs and fit out for the fall and winter trade. Clear and pleasant.

LOUISVILLE—River falling. In canal, 3 feet 8 inches; on falls 1.5; below locks, 7.6. Part cloudy.

GREENSBORO—River 6 feet 5 inches and stationary. Rainy and cooler. Woodward down Tuesday; Columbia up.

WARREN—River 3 feet below. Weather rain.

STEUBENVILLE—River 2 feet 6 inches and rising. Cloudy and warm.

POINT PLEASANT—River 2 feet 8 inches and stationary. Cloudy. Down, Greenwood, Royal. Up, Tacoma.

MORGANTOWN—River 5 feet 5 inches and stationary. Rainy.

PARKERSBURG—River 3.6 feet and rising. Rain all day, clearing tonight. The Bessie Smith arrived tonight from Wheeling.

WHEELING—River 2 feet 10 inches and rising. Warm with heavy rains. Departed, Bessie Smith, Parkersburg.

GALLIPOLIS—River 4 feet and stationary. Cloudy and pleasant.

RAINS SWELL RIVERS.

Rise Will Not Be Enough, However, to Allow Resumption of Navigation.

Although the heavy rains have raised the rivers slightly the rise will not be enough to allow the resumption of navigation. A few empties may be got in from the lower river, but it is doubtful unless considerably more water should arrive than is now looked for. The towboats Josh Cook at Wheeling, Tornado at Sewickley and Raymond Horner at Freedom were ordered to be ready to bring in their tows if the water proved favorable. The rain of last night gives rivermen the hope that the wet weather will last long enough to bring the usual September rise. If it does the suspension of navigation will be one of the shortest on record.

The I. C. Woodward was the only boat in yesterday. She came from Morgantown with a heavy trip of freight and a large number of passengers.

The Kanawha, in the Charleston trade, tied up Saturday at Parkersburg and will attempt no more trips to this city until the river rises. The Greenland, also in the Charleston trade, is at Mt. Pleasant. The Bessie Smith, in the Parkersburg trade, is running between Parkersburg and Mt. Pleasant. The Ben Hur, also in the Parkersburg trade, is at Wheeling.

REILLY PUNCHES PEDDLER.

Latter Hits Conductor With Brick and Receives an Effective Lesson in Manly Art.

Passengers on a Second avenue car were treated to an impromptu Nelson-Britt encounter yesterday afternoon in Penn avenue, Turtle Creek, when a peddler who had been put off the car hurled a brick at Conductor George Reilly. The peddler boarded the car at East Pittsburgh and deposited his bundles where passengers would be obliged to clamber over them. Reilly asked the man to move the bundles and the peddler refused. Reilly marched the peddler off the car and sent the bundles after him. As he rang the bell to go ahead a brick struck the conductor.

Reilly yanked the bell-rope for a stop and in a flash was off the car and running toward the bellicose peddler. For nearly 10 minutes the passengers watched a quick delivery of jabs, hooks and upper-cuts, of which the peddler was chiefly the consignee. When he of the brick-throwing habit had finally dropped on his pack, Reilly walked leisurely back to his car, brushing the dust off his trousers, and gave two bells.

THE MONEY MARKET.

The local money market is steady to firm at 5@6 per cent on call and time loans. Clearing house comparisons:

	Exchanges.	Balances.
Last year	5,982,223 60	1,634,933 87

Foreign Money Markets.

LONDON, Sept. 11.—Money was in fair demand in the market today. Discounts were steady. Trading on the stock exchange was fairly cheerful in places, although dealings were meagre, the mining settlement absorbing attention. The movements were irregular. Consols and kindred securities were affected by the increase in the Berlin bank rate, but recovered a fraction at the close. Americans drooped generally on the monetary outlook in New York, became inactive and closed weak. Grand Trunk was buoyant on the traffic increase, largely exceeding the estimates. Foreigners mostly were neglected. Japanese had a better tone and were bought on the more peaceful news from Tokyo. Japanese 4s had a hardening tendency; Russians were very firm. Japanese Imperial 6s of 1904 were quoted at 105½; consols for money, 89 13-16; consols for account, 89 15-16; bar silver steady, 28⅝d the ounce; money, 1 per cent; rate of discount, short bills, 2⅝@2¾ per cent; three months' bills, 2⅝@2¾ per cent.

PARIS, Sept. 11.—Prices on the bourse today were firm throughout. Russian Imperial 4s quoted at 85 and Russian bonds of 1904 at 519; three per cent rentes, 100 francs 32½ centimes for the account; exchange on London, 25 francs, 17 centimes for checks.

BERLIN, Sept. 11.—Trading on the boerse today was light, with no decisive tendency; the rate of discount of the Imperial Bank of Germany was raised from 3 to 4 per cent today; exchange on London, 20 marks 4½ pfgs. for checks; discount rates, short bills, 2 per cent; three months' bills, 2¾ per cent.

The controlling reason for raising the bank rate was the comparative weakness of the status of the bank owing to the heavy demands of industry and trade, and to speculation on the boerse. In proposing the increase, Vice President Gallenkamp pointed out that the gold stock of the bank had been steadily declining for some months, having been reduced about $21,600,000 since June 23, and that it was now at the lowest for this year. While the discount rate in the open market has been tending strongly upward for a week, because the great joint stock banks are not inclined to lock up money in bills, money at call has grown more abundant and easier. It is expected that demands for money at the end of the month will be unusually heavy.

New York Money Market.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Money on call steady, 2¾@3 per cent. Closing bid, 2¾ per cent; offered at 2½ per cent. Time loans steady, 60 day bills, 3¾@4 per cent; 90 days, 4@4¼ per cent; six months, 4¼@4½ per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 4½@4¾ per cent. Sterling exchange weak with actual business in bankers' bills at $4 85.20@$4 85.25 for demand and at $4 82.60@$4 82.65 for 60-day bills. Posted rates, $4 83½ and $4 86@4 86½. Commercial bills, $4 82½@4 82¾. Bar silver, 62. Mexican dollars, 47c. Government bonds steady. Railroad bonds easy.

TONOPAH HOME
Did you buy Tonopah Extension at 10 cents, or 25 cents, or even $1.00? Did you buy Montana Tonopah at 50 cents? Did you buy Golden Anchor at 2 cents? Did you buy Midway Tonopah at 30 cents? Do you know that Midway Extension which immediately adjoins Tonopah Home on the west is a close corporation of Chas. M. Schwab, John Y. McKane and associates? Do you know that Tonopah Home adjoins the four latter mentioned mines, and that development work is being prosecuted on an extensive scale, and that an important strike may be made at any time? Well! The above are facts.
We advise you to act quickly while there is some little stock in the market to be had around 12 cents. Tonopah Home is booked for a big advance, and a little business judgment on your part will tell you now is the time to buy.

SALE OF FIRST AVENUE CORNER

C. L. Walther Buys Smith-Wehner Lot for $100,000 as Site for Warehouse.

SOME SIGNIFICANT LEASES

Charles L. Walther, president of the Walther-Robertson Drug Company, has purchased the Smith-Wehner property at the southwest corner of First avenue and Cherry alley for $100,000. The deal was twice referred to in The Gazette last week. The lot is well known, having been occupied by a wholesale liquor store for many years. The old two-story building on it is of little value so that the price paid may be regarded as for the ground alone, which measures 60 feet in First avenue and 80 feet in Cherry alley. This makes the rate of sale $1,666 a front foot or $20 83 a square foot. In part exchange for this corner Mr. Walther tendered his fine residence in Allegheny, which was valued at about $35,000 and which materially reduces the cash price of the First avenue corner, making it a remarkably good buy in the opinion of most real estate men. The Allegheny house is a 14-room center-hall brick residence finished throughout in hard wood, and stands in the midst of fine grounds about 200x175 feet, having a stable and carriage house in the rear. It faces on the south side of Termon avenue, opposite the residence of D. B. Oliver, and was formerly known as the Bergdorff house. The purchase of the First avenue corner was made in the interest of the Walther-Robertson Drug Company which is now located in Seventh avenue, and which intends to improve the site in the near future with an eight-story warehouse to cost not less than $50,000.

Four Warehouses Rented.

Although more than one-half of the 40 warehouses of the Pittsburgh Terminal Warehouse and Transfer Company on the South Side have been rented through the agency of the Samuel W. Black Company, no tenants were announced until yesterday, when it was made known that Dilworth Brothers & Co., wholesale grocers, have leased four of the warehouses for a term of years. It will be remembered that the building now occupied by this firm at Penn avenue and Tenth street is to be razed next April to make room for an eight or ten-story mercantile and office building, an addition to the old site having been purchased some months ago. The fact that Dilworth Brothers & Co. have decided to locate in the South Side is regarded as a significant move by real estate men and merchants generally, inasmuch as they obtain cheaper rent and better shipping facilities than they could have got in individual warehouses in the downtown district where values and rents are so high. The South Side warehouses will not be ready for occupancy before January, but the number of inquiries indicates that there will be no lack of tenants.

Harry Davis has started to improve the Chronicle Telegraph building which he recently purchased by putting the first story in good shape for store quarters. The floor will be lowered to the level of the pavement, in itself a great improvement, and a new store front will be put in. The interior of the room will be thoroughly gone over and finished in an attractive manner. Across the street a big force of men is making rapid work on the steel framework of the four-story building which is to replace the Avenue theater, and it looks as though Mr. Davis would make good his assertion that the entrance to the Grand opera house will be ready for the opening of that playhouse October 2.

Another Second Avenue Warehouse.

Architect F. J. Osterling has awarded the contract to H. L. Kreusler for the John Farrell warehouse, to be erected at 333-335 Second avenue, adjoining the $160,000 warehouse for which Leopold Vilsack contracted last week. The Farrell building will be eight stories high and 30x80 feet in dimensions, and will cost $50,000. Between it and the Vilsack warehouse there will be a party wall.

Architects Rutan & Russell have awarded the contract to the Henry Shenk Company for the residence of Thomas Lynch in Greensburg. The house will probably be the mansion of that town, as it will have at least 20 rooms and will cost $100,000.

E. A. Sweeney has started the building of 10 brick veneered houses at Glenwood avenue and Elizabeth street, Twenty-third ward, which will cost $2,000 each. The houses will stand on 20-foot lots, and will be sold on easy payments. At least 40 houses of this kind are now being built in the Hazelwood and Glenwood districts in addition to those which W. S. Haynes has in charge. Nearly all of them are dwellings that can be sold on easy payments for from $2,000 to $3,000 each.

In Crafton and vicinity there is a house-building boom on also, but the dwellings are of a better quality. The majority of the houses going up along the Panhandle are houses that will sell at for at least $3,000, and in Crafton there are many in course of erection which will cost from $5,000 to $8,000.

$10,000 Sale In East End.

The sale is reported of the C. W. Mauk residence on the east side of Negley avenue, facing Coral street, Twentieth ward, for $10,000, the buyer being a business man named Porter. The residence is a fine reception hall brick house on 51x160 feet, the lot extending back to an alley.

Ingram—Watson & Schicker sold for J. L. Hoffman to Attorney John H. Roney an improved lot, 40x200 feet, in Ingram avenue, Ingram, for $5,500. They also sold for W. A. Alter to William G. Billingsley a two-story frame house on 33x120 feet in North Stanley street, Ingram, for $2,300.

Allegheny—W. L. Scott & Co. sold for Mrs. Edna Kerr to George Henderson 140 Charles street, Allegheny, an eight-room frame house on 20x145 feet, for $3,000.

Franklin street—The Aronson Realty Company sold for Jacob Tannebaum to a downtown merchant a four-story brick building on 18x48 feet at Franklin and Logan streets, Seventh ward, for $9,000.

Sickles street—Thomas Watson sold to Caroline A. Zinkham 40x145 feet at Sickles and Allison streets, Thirty-seventh ward, for $5,500.

Hampton avenue—William S. King estate and others sold to Charles S. Steinmeyer 50x158 feet in Hampton street, Nineteenth ward, for $4,520.

Belmar place—George H. Shickler sold to William J. Hannegen an improved lot, 25x93 feet, on the south side of Hermitage street, Thirty-seventh ward, for $4,800.

Frank street—Jacob C. Husted sold to Ernest Schwanberger an improved lot, 34x90 feet, at the northwest corner of Frank and Norfolk streets, Twenty-third ward, for $3,000.

Kennett square—Edward Hoopes sold to Stella McLaughlin an improved lot, 20x90 feet, on the west side of Kennett square, Fourteenth ward, for $4,500.

Westmoreland street—Mary B. Rinle sold to M. Jonnett an improved lot, 25x140 feet, on the west side of Westmoreland street, Twenty-first ward, for $3,000.

The bureau of building inspection granted permits to the following persons yesterday: J. H. Hespner, excavation and stone wall for dwelling, 2418-20 Center avenue, Thirteenth ward, $803; James B. Corbell, to shore up dwelling and fit up two rooms, 5427 Keystone street, Eighteenth ward, $500; Stanislaus Dolsky, shore up dwelling house, 3565 Melwood avenue, Thirteenth ward, $165; John Riehl, repair to dwelling, 17 Boggs avenue, Thirty-second ward, $150.

PORK PRICES ARE ONLY ONES THAT ARE MOVING

The drop in the price of provisions was the only thing talked of among the commission men yesterday. Probably realizing that these had gone higher than the consumer would pay, an unexpected drop was made of a quarter to a half cent in nearly every article in the provision line. Butter, which it was thought would drop off half a cent, held steady, the eastern markets having picked up considerably the latter part of the week. Eggs and cheese held as they were, eggs not quite so weak.

In the grocery lines there is little activity except in canned tomatoes. These give promise of being very high this year. Baltimore packers are paying 60 to 65 cents a bushel for tomatoes, the highest price for a number of years. The crop is short, rain and cold weather having spoiled it. The prospects for high priced tomatoes this coming season are excellent.

In green goods there was practically nothing doing. Cantaloupes are again high-priced and will not likely get down again much this season. Good peaches and apples are scarce and are as cheap now as they will get, the crop being very short.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts yesterday were: Pennsylvania lines, 14 cars hay, 11 cars corn, 15 cars oats, 6 cars straw, 5 cars rye, 4 cars feed; Baltimore & Ohio railroad, 14 cars hay, 2 cars oats; Lake Erie railroad, 11 cars hay, 3 cars oats, 2 cars rye, 1 car flour, 1 car corn.

Receipts of hay were heavy. Good No. 1 timothy is easily disposed of. Oats are firmer and corn steady. There is no change in feed or straw.

Big Injun Pay Produces Well Which Gladdens Operators' Hearts

Northeast of the Wick pool, on Sugar creek, Meade district, Tyler county, Ellsworth, Davis & Treen have drilled their No. 2 on the B. L. Bullman farm into the Big Injun pay and have a very good producer. The first 24 hours after the pay was tapped the well produced 80 barrels. In the Wick district, the Melrose Oil and Gas Company has drilled in its No. 14 on the T. H. Ewell farm and has a show for a 40-barrel producer. On Sugar creek, Meade district, the Carter Oil Company has drilled its test on the C. W. Chas heirs' farm into the Big Injun pay and has a show for a 25-barrel producer. The same company has completed No. 2 on the E. B. Long farm and will not have better than a 3-barrel pumper. In the Hebron district, Tyler county, the Carter Oil Company has drilled its No. 15 on the J. L. Poe farm from the Cow Run to the Big Injun sand and has a show for a light pumper in the lower formation.

In the northeast end of the Yellow Creek field, Calhoun county, the Lowther-Kaufman Oil and Gas Company has drilled its second test on the Nutter-Webb farm through the Berea grit and has a natural producer good for 25 barrels a day. The location of this well is 300 feet west of Mallory Bros. & Stewart's No. 1 on the Martha A. Coberly farm. North of Cairo, Grant district, the Stewart United Oil Company's No. 14 on the Kennedy Oil Company's farm is holding up at 125 barrels a day. Near Petroleum, same county, Dennis O'Brien has drilled his No. 25 on the Wood county petroleum tract, through the Berea grit and has a show for a very light pumper. Northeast of the Yellow Creek development in Calhoun county, the South Penn Oil Company's No. 2 on the G. W. Silcott farm, located on the north bank of the Kanawha river, is holding up at 75 barrels a day. This is the important test, in advance of development two miles, drilled in last week. When the well began to show oil drilling was suspended to make pipe line connection and it will be drilled through the sand today. This well is attracting more attention than any other in the lower southwest.

In the Wallace district, Harrison county, the South Penn Oil Company has completed its No. 2 on the D. S. Barker farm and has a 75-barrel producer in the Gordon. In the Salem district, in the same county, the South Penn company has drilled its No. 4 on the Rachel Carpenter farm 18 feet into the Gordon and the hole has filled up 300 feet with fluid. It is showing for a light well. In the Fairview district, Marion county, the same company has drilled No. 2 on the F. M. Brookover farm through the fifth sand and the well is producing 15 barrels a day.

In the Smithfield district, Wetzel county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its second test on the A. A. Merrifield farm 25 feet into the Big Injun and has developed no oil or gas. In the same district, No. 4 on the McIntyre-Peterson farm is flowing at the rate of 150 barrels a day. In the same locality, the South Penn company has drilled its test on the Lindsay Stewart farm 15 feet into the stray and has developed no oil or gas. This was an old Big Injun producer, drilled down to the lower sands.

Light pumpers and dusters are the best the fields on the Ohio side have to offer. Near Newport, Washington county, Harmon & Co. have drilled their test on the [illegible] farm through the Berea grit and have a duster. In the same district, Green & [illegible] have drilled their No. 2 on the A. A. Nolan farm through the first Cow Run sand and have a show for a 5-barrel pumper. J. P. Body has drilled his test on the Benjamin Eddy farm through the same formation and will have a light pumper. In the Payne district, James Hadley has drilled a second test on his own farm through the Maxon sand and found that formation barren. It was then shot in the second Cow Run and will make a light pumper from that level. The Moses Run Oil Company has given its No. 2 on the C. Pabst farm a 40-quart shot and will now have a 5-barrel pumper. When drilled through the sand this well showed for a duster. In the Plum Run district, Harrison county, the Chicago-Ferndale Oil Company has completed No. 1 on the S. G. Pattin and W. S. Atbaugh farm and has a very light pumper in the Berea grit.

West of the Bakerstown tunnel, in Allegheny county, Pa., the Bakerstown Oil Company has drilled its No. 4 on the Charles Crawford farm through the fourth sand and have given it a shot. It is showing for a 25-barrel producer. The well responded with several nice flows after shot. In the [illegible] field, Washington county, R. C. O'Keefe has completed his No. 3 on the S. P. Dunbar farm and has a show for a 5 or 10-barrel pumper. Near Georgetown, Beaver county, the Atlantic Improvement Company has completed No. 12 on the John Ferguson farm and has a duster in the Berea grit. In the same district, A. Haymaker & Co. have drilled their second test on the John Nelson farm through the sand and have a show for a very small pumper.

RUSSIAN SHORTAGE STRENGTHENS MARKET

December Wheat Closes One Cent Up—Corn Has Also Advanced a Shade.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—Official announcement of a big shortage of wheat in Russia strengthened the wheat market here today. The December delivery closed precisely 1c up. Corn is up ¼@⅜c. Oats are practically unchanged. Provisions are down 2½@12½c.

The wheat market opened firm and, as trading advanced, additional strength developed. At the start the December option was unchanged to ¼c higher at 82¼@82⅜c. Pit traders and commission houses were fairly active bidders. The demand was due largely to a report made by a statistical committee appointed by the Russian government. The committee was instructed to estimate the total yield of Russian cereals. The report of the committee showed a shortage of 12,800,000 bushels in winter wheat, as compared with last year's total. In spring wheat the deficiency was estimated at 123,200,000 bushels. The effect of these figures was to completely offset the depressing influence of lower quotations at Liverpool and neutralize the market effect of clear weather in the northwest. As the upward trend gained headway an influential bull became quite active on the buying side. In consequence sellers became more wary. The result was a steady advance in prices. Higher quotations for cash wheat at St. Paul and Kansas City had considerable effect on the market here. Another bullish factor was a report from New York claiming that a fair amount of wheat for export had been taken. The government report was about as had been generally expected. The market closed strong, with prices at the highest of the day. Final quotations on December were at 83½c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 56,000 bushels. The amount on passage decreased 1,728,000 bushels and the visible supply increased 497,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 1,210,000 bushels, compared with 1,199,000 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 716 cars, against 628 cars a year ago.

The corn market was a trifle easier early in the season as a result of clear weather throughout the corn belt. Liberal local receipts was an additional bearish influence. Later in the day shorts covered moderately on the upturn in wheat, causing a slight advance. The market closed firm, with prices at the highest point of the day. December opened ⅛c lower at 43⅜c, sold between 43⅜ @43⅞c and 43⅛@43⅝c, and closed at 43⅞@43⅝c. Local receipts were 802 cars, with 429 cars of contract grade.

Oats were steady in sympathy with other grain. A good export demand was another important factor. December opened ⅛c lower at 27⅛c, sold up to 27⅜c and closed at 27½@27⅝c. Local receipts were 471 cars.

Trading in provisions was of extremely small volume. Sentiment in the pit was somewhat bearish, following a 5c decline in the price of live hogs. Leading longs were credited with some selling of lard. At the close January pork was off 2½c at $12 32½. Lard was down 5c at $6 82½. Ribs were 10@12½c lower at $6 40.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

A representative of North Butte Mining Company says that, according to the present program, the next quarterly dividend on the stock will be 75 cents a share, an increase of 25 cents, and the following dividend $1 a share. The initial dividend of 50 cents a share was declared about two weeks ago.

The copper production of Bisbee camp last month was 9,500,000 pounds, in round figures, of which 7,300,000 was from the Copper Queen and 2,600,000 from the Calumet and Arizona. The latter should increase about 25 per cent for September, and more as the new furnace gets into good running order. The former has just blown in one of its immense new furnaces and should have at least 700,000 pounds more product in September. This is known as No. 7 furnace, and work is under way on No. 8, which should be in full operation about November 1.

Sinking in the Briggs shaft, that has been going on for three years, will cease next week, and a station will be cut on the 1,100-foot level for main drifts that will start there.

Copper ore shipments from Bisbee to Douglas smelters for the first half of 1905 have averaged 2,200 gross tons a day. They are now larger and a considerable further increase for the remainder of the year is expected.

A Mormon colony near Cananea has purchased a 10-stamp mill, which it will erect on the Santa Rosa mining property, belonging to the colony. This will be in operation this year. The mine is showing very high silver values, rich streaks running to 2,900 ounces to the ton.

The International Mining Company of Leadville, Col., is to advance $100,000 on the bonds of the Polaris Copper Mining Company of Clifton, Ariz.

The last of the big machinery improvements made at the Old Dominion have been completed and the property is now working along with no new construction accounts. The concentrator is completed and in operation. For August there should have been an increase in production, but the larger blowing engine was out of order for a few days, thus cutting off blast and reducing capacity. September should show a materially larger output of copper.

The Black Diamond at Pearce has finally succeeded in readjusting its affairs and will resume operations shortly.

The old Commonwealth mine is active once more, and is dropping 40 stamps and operating a cyanide plant.

Diamond drills will be started on the American Development ground in the Bisbee camp, and holes at least 1,200 feet will be driven in the hope of finding the ore bearing ground off to the southeast.

The Metal Market.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—The London tin market was firmer, closing at £146 7s 6d for spot and £145 15s for futures; locally, demand continued light, but the tone was steady in sympathy with the London advance and spot was quoted at $32 60@32 12½. Copper was also higher abroad, closing at £69 7s 6d for spot and £69 5s for futures. Locally the market was dull and nominally unchanged, with Lake and electrolytic quoted at $16 00@16 50; casting, $15 75@16 25. Lead was quiet at $4 85@4 90 in the local market, but advanced to £14 in London. Spelter was unchanged at £26 in London, while the local market was firm and a shade higher at $5 80@5 90. The iron market abroad was easier; standard foundry was quoted at 47s 3d and Middlesboro at 48s 4½d. Locally a good demand is reported and prices are firmly held. No. 1 foundry, northern, is quoted at $16 50@17 25; No. 2 foundry, northern at $16 00@16 75; No. 1 foundry, southern, $16 25@16 75; No. 2 foundry, southern, $15 75@16 25.

FINANCIAL AND TRADE NOTES.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—National bank notes received today for redemption, $855,180. Government receipts from internal revenue, $1,365,235. Customs, $754,111. Miscellaneous, $54,630. Expenditures, $1,770,000.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Northern producers of foundry iron have put up the price 50 cents a ton, due to the improvement in demand over the last few days and the higher cost of production.

Sales of foundry and basic iron in this market over the last few days have been fairly large, orders amounting to about 15,000 tons.

WILL TREBLE THE STOCK OF SECOND NATIONAL

Plan to Be Voted Upon Today Provides for a Total issue of $1,800,000.

Stockholders of the Second National bank of Pittsburgh, of which James H. Willock is president, will meet today to vote on the proposition explained to them in a circular letter a month ago by President Willock.

This calls for the trebling of the company's capital stock, raising it from $600,000 to $1,800,000. The main purpose of the plan is to give the bank the lawful right to make larger loans to any one person or firm, the national banking laws restricting the size of a loan to 10 per cent of a bank's capital stock.

The new capital will be provided by using $1,200,000 of the bank's surplus, which at present is about $2,500,000, without disturbing the undivided profits amounting to over $500,000. There will then be a capital of $1,800,000, and surplus and undivided profits exceeding that amount.

The additional stock will be distributed to the stockholders by simply turning over to them certificates for three times as many shares as their present certificates call for.

COUNTRY EXPERIENCING GREATEST PROSPERITY

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—"The country is more prosperous today than it has ever been," declared Director George E. Roberts of the United States mint, a few minutes after he had alighted from a train on his return from a trip to Denver, Salt Lake City, Omaha, Chicago and various western points.

"The country, wherever I have seen it, is looking remarkably well," he said. "In Iowa the outlook for a magnificent crop of corn was never better. Small grains are in excellent shape and the year has been good for grass and pasturage. Farther west, in the mining country, the conditions are favorable. The constant development of metallurgical science is reducing the cost of working ores profitably and making it possible to extract minerals in paying quantities from ores that formerly could not be utilized.

"Business is brisk everywhere through the west. The prospects for immense crops have given it a firm tone, and made business men confident of good returns in the fall and winter trade. Money is abundant in Iowa and other parts of the west. Money rates are low and a man can get capital for any sort of legitimate enterprise that promises returns."

PORTLY WOMAN FIGURES IN STREET CAR ACCIDENT

Mrs. Thomas Smith, aged 55, living in Buzzards hollow, near Wilkinsburg, was seriously injured yesterday afternoon at Hawkins avenue and Fourth street, North Braddock, during a panic incident to the burning out of a street car motor. Mrs. Smith crawled out upon the running board. A portly woman pushed her off the car into the street. She fell in a heap and the other woman jumped on her, fracturing two ribs and inflicting internal injuries.

UNITED STATES TO RECIPROCATE

Probably Will Take Off Onerous Tariff on Russian Bounty-Aided Sugar.

NEW ERA FOR YANKEE GOODS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—The state department has not yet been informed officially of the action of the Russian government in revoking the ukase imposing maximum tariff rates on certain American articles of import, principally machinery and metal goods. Ever since last spring Ambassador Meyer, acting under instructions of the department, has been trying to secure a removal of these restrictions on American trade which have been very disastrous, especially to a large and increasing business in agricultural implements and machinery.

American cast and wrought metal work, tools, machinery, portable engines, locomotives and many other important staple exports, which were being fairly driven out of the Russian market by the competition of German and English machinery, favored by the minimum tariff rates, are now expected to have an enormous sale not only in Russia proper, but in Siberia, which will develop rapidly from an agricultural point of view as a result of the cessation of hostilities.

Administration officials here believe the Russian concession sweeps away both sets of differential or penalty duties levied against American products. The first resulted from the sugar controversy, and was levied February 13, 1901. The second followed our imposition of a countervailing duty on a shipment of lubricating oil, which came here from Russia, and was made on June 4 of the same year.

The sugar controversy was then the more difficult of the two, and many American public men who looked into the matter sympathized with the Russian position. Secretary Gage revoked the countervailing duty pending an investigation as to the actual existence of a bounty in Russia.

The czar's government maintained it was not paying a bounty. It made the same representation to the Brussels convention. A special agent was sent to Europe to investigate the question, not only in Russia, but in other countries which Russian sugar entered. He found the number of refineries in Russia was restricted by law, and their output controlled.

Russia retaliated by imposing her penalty or war tariff, which is approximately 30 per cent higher than their maximum, in several important classes, notably cast iron wares, iron and steel manufactures, hand tools for use in the crafts, printing implements, manufactures of tin, zinc and their alloys, etc.

It is understood that Secretary Shaw will recommend to the next congress legislation calculated to remove some of the severe features of the existing tariff laws providing for the imposition of a countervailing duty on bounty-aided sugar, the application of which by Secretary Gage in 1901, caused the retaliatory action of Russia embodied in the ukase directed against American machinery.

It is learned that Switzerland, too, which has imposed maximum rates on American products, is about to voluntary extinguish them and allow American exporters the benefits of the minimum tariff rates.

TURKEY STANDS FIRM.

Is Not Disposed to Consider Sentenced Armenian Murderer as an American Citizen.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Minister Leishman's reports to the state department indicate the Turkish government is disposed to maintain strongly its position that the naturalized Armenian who has been sentenced to death for murder at Stamboul shall be treated as a Turkish subject and cannot be allowed the privileges of an American citizen. The minister is continuing his efforts in behalf of Vartanian.

The Turkish government has so far not formally proposed the settlement of this issue by arbitration and it appears that Mr. Leishman would be obliged to decline any such proposal. The American law as to citizenship is different from that of any of the European countries, which almost uniformly require their assent shall be secured to the naturalization abroad of their subjects, so that it would probably be impossible to secure an arbitral court that would not be obliged to hold that international law was adverse to the American position.

To Assist in Packers' Trials.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—Benjamin Davis, an attorney and ranchman of Texas, has been appointed special counsel for the government in the packers cases by order of Attorney General William H. Moody. The order of appointment reached the office of District Attorney C. B. Morrison today. Attorney Davis took the oath of office immediately. His official position during the beef case trials was that of special assistant U. S. District attorney.

Strangles Young Daughter.

MONTREAL, QUE., Sept. 11.—J. Albert Martin, son of the junior partner of Mayor LaPorte of this city, after playing with his three children at his home today, took the youngest daughter, five years old, into an adjoining room and strangled her. When the crime was discovered Martin appeared to be perfectly cool and composed. "I have made another angel for heaven," he said. He will be examined by alienists.

Freight Handlers Want Increase.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—Freight handlers sent a request to 22 railroads today for a conference with the company's managers by 10 a. m. Wednesday, at which it is proposed to submit demands for a wage increase of approximately 10 per cent. If the request is refused it is the plan of the labor leaders to submit to a referendum vote immediately the question of calling a general strike of the union freight handlers.

Navy Will Use Oil for Fuel.

LONDON, Sept. 11.—Exhaustive experiments with the use of oil as fuel on battleships have proved so satisfactory that the British admiralty has ordered the erection of a great oil storing depot at Plymouth jetties at which tank steamers can moor. It is understood that stores of oil will be established at most of the home ports.

Widow of Mexican General Dead.

BERKELEY, CAL., Sept. 11.—Senora Dolores C. De Miranda, widow of Gen. Jose Maria Miranda, one of the ill-fated army of Emperor Maximilian, is dead. She was also widow of Ramon Ocana, paymaster in the army of the Mexican republic, and was herself a conspicuous figure in the turbulent political struggles of her country.
